"The town hall is vacant" (local councillor)

"How can we better market Wem's market town image?" (North Shropshire District Council)

"We nearly lost our swimming pool in 2004. Now its only open on a shoestring" (elderly resident of the town)

"Too many shops are shut – its like a dying place" (local business-person)

The images show a range of specialist shops as well as night-time food outlets

11% of shop units vacant in 2006

35% of shop floor space vacant in 2006

Wem Fact File

- Wem is a 'quaint' small market town in N. Shropshire. Population (2001) of 5142.
- Wem is the administrative centre for the North Shropshire District Council.
- The High Street is home to many different shops and local businesses and the weekly market takes place every Thursday in the Town Hall.
- Wem prides itself on not being a 'Clone town'. There is a rich diversity of shops.
- Wem has particular problems in the form of high level retail vacancies, adverse impacts from traffic and a limited number of (higher order) comparison outlets.

"It's a wonderful place to retire to" (new retired in-comer)

"I prefer to shop in Shrewsbury which is only 6 miles away" (mother of two children)

"Good high school here – 100% A-Level passes" (school governor)

"House prices are reasonable and it is easy to get to my job in the West Midlands" (business commuter)
