General Marking Guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

Unit 4: Implications

This generic mark scheme is to be used in conjunction with the question specific indicative mark schemes which follow. A response will be read to identify the band of the questions specific indicative mark scheme into which the response falls. The descriptors within the generic mark scheme will then be used to determine the precise mark for the response.

Assessing Quality of Written Communication

QWC will have a bearing if the QWC is inconsistent with the communication element of the descriptor for the level in which the candidate's answer falls. If, for example, a candidate's Religious Studies response displays mid Level 3 criteria but fits the Level 2 QWC descriptors, it will require a move down within Level 3.

Assessment Objective 1

Select and demonstrate clearly relevant knowledge and understanding through the use of evidence, examples, and correct language and terminology appropriate for the course of study. Candidates should also demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the connections between different elements of their course of study.

Level	Descriptor	Marks
Level 1	Partial attempt to offer a re-statement of some aspects of the passage, based on re-iteration and simple comprehension. Limited and unstructured knowledge of examples and/or evidence relevant to the meaning of the passage. The writing may have some coherence and it will be generally comprehensible, but passages will lack clarity and organisation. The skills needed to produce effective writing will not normally be present. Frequent syntactical and/or spelling errors are likely to be present. Low Level 1: 1-2 marks mostly an attempt to re-iterate or reword some of the contents of the passage, without further elaboration; expression lacks clarity; not entirely worthless Mid Level 1: 3-4 marks simple restatement of some of the contents of the passage; random, fragmented, mainly unrelated information from beyond the passage used to support comprehension; expressed imprecisely High Level 1: 5-6 marks basic restatement of the contents of the passage showing simple comprehension; mainly unstructured but relevant information from beyond the passage to support comprehension; expressed with limited	1-6
2	Uncritical presentation of the argument/interpretation of the passage; limited ability to identify and select the most relevant/important information and, therefore, reflecting little understanding; overreliance on repetition of the chosen passage. The writing will show elements of coherence but there are likely to be passages which lack clarity and/or proper organisation. The range of skills needed to produce a convincing essay is likely to be limited. Frequent syntactical and/or spelling errors are likely to be present.	7-12

Low Level 2: 7-8 marks simple identification of the argument/interpretation in the passage; some links to limited but relevant evidence/examples from beyond the passage; over-emphasis on repetition/rephrasing of the text; some basic clarity of expression

Mid Level 2: 9-10 marks

identification and re-statement of the argument/interpretation in the passage; organised to show some awareness of the contents of the passage; a selection of mainly relevant evidence/examples from other sources linked with the argument; expression lacks clarity but the overall meaning is accessible

High Level 2: 11-12 marks

re-statement and elaboration of the argument/interpretation in the passage; linked with a limited selection of relevant evidence/examples from other sources; organised simply to show basic understanding of the contents of the passage; expressed with sufficient accuracy to make the meaning clear

Presentation of a selection of relevant evidence and examples, drawing on different elements in their course of study, which reflect a basic understanding of the argument/interpretation of the passage; some use of specialised religious language in appropriate contexts.

The answer will show some degree of direction and control but these attributes will not normally be sustained throughout the answer. The candidate will demonstrate some of the skills needed to produce a convincing essay, but there may be passages which show deficiencies in organisation. The answer is likely to include some syntactical and/or spelling errors.

Low Level 3: 13-14 marks

a general but partial explanation of the argument/interpretation in the passage; supported by relevant evidence/examples from other areas of the course of study; organised and expressed with adequate clarity using a limited range of technical terms

Mid Level 3: 15-16 marks

a clear and valid explanation of the argument/interpretation in the passage; with links to elements of other areas of study to provide elaboration; expressed clearly with some technical terms used appropriately

a basic understanding of the argument/interpretation in the passage; explained by reference to links to other areas of study; expressed clearly using appropriate technical terms

Clear understanding of the main point(s) and key idea(s) of the argument/interpretation of the passage, deploying material from different elements of their course of study; set in an appropriate context, with some analysis of key concepts; using relevant religious terms

The exposition will be controlled and the deployment logical. Some syntactical and/or spelling errors may be found but the writing will be coherent overall. The skills required to produce a convincing and cogent essay will be mostly in place.

Low Level 4: 19-20 marks

basic but clear understanding of the main point(s) of the argument/interpretation in the passage; supported by and linked with material from different areas of study; deployment and minimal explanation of some key ideas and concepts relevant to the passage; expressed clearly using appropriate technical terms in context

Mid Level 4: 21-22 marks

clear understanding of the main point(s) of the argument/interpretation in the passage; elaborated by links with material from different areas of study; use and explanation of key ideas and concepts relevant to the passage; clearly and accurately expressed using technical terms

clear and focused understanding of the main point(s) of the argument/interpretation in the passage; explained by reference to ideas from different areas of study; some analysis of key ideas and concepts relevant to the passage; expressed accurately and clearly using technical language

Comprehensive understanding of the argument/interpretation of the passage, demonstrated through clear and critical analysis; applying principles/ideas from different elements of their course of study; and proficient use of religious language, discussed within a wider context.

The answer will be cogent and lucid in exposition. Occasional syntactical and/or spelling errors may be found but they will not impede coherent deployment of the material and argument. Overall, the answer will show mastery of essay-writing skills.

Low Level 5: 25-26 marks

analysis of the key issues in the passage; supporting clear understanding of the argument/interpretation; explained by reference to ideas from other areas of the course of study; showing some breadth and/or depth of understanding; clear and concise, expressed using technical language widely

Mid Level 5: 27-28 marks

thorough analysis of the key issues in the passage; showing a clear understanding of the argument/interpretation; explained by comparison or contrast with ideas from other areas of the course of study; showing breadth and/or depth of understanding; clear and concise, expressed straightforwardly using technical language widely

High Level 5: 29-30 marks

critical analysis of the key issues in the passage; focused on a coherent discussion of the argument/interpretation; explained cogently by applying ideas from other areas of the course of study; showing considerable breadth and/or depth of understanding; a clear and comprehensive response to the task; expressed succinctly with skilful use of technical language

25-30

Assessment Objective 2

Critically evaluate and justify a point of view through the use of evidence and reasoned argument. Candidates should also relate elements of their course of study to their broader context and to aspects of human experience.

Level	Descriptor	Marks
1	An attempt to offer a personal response to the topic or theme of the passage, but largely unsupported by evidence or argument; showing marginal awareness of the implications of the expressed viewpoint for its broader context and in relation to aspects of religion and human experience; imprecisely expressed. The skills needed to produce effective writing will not normally be	1-5 present. The writing may have some coherence and will be generally comprehensible, but lack both clarity and organisation. High incidence of syntactical and/or spelling errors.
	Low Level 1: 1 mark token awareness of the view(s) expressed in the passage; a personal response with little or no justification; marginal awareness of any possible link between the issue in the passage and a wider issue of religion and/or human experience; expressed without clarity or direction
	Mid Level 1: 2-3 marks minimal awareness of the view(s) expressed in the passage; a response expressed as a personal point of view; with limited justification by reference to an argument; evidence of awareness of a possible link between the subject of the passage and a wider issue of religion and/or human experience; expressed imprecisely
	High Level 1: 4-5 marks a personal opinion relevant to the view(s) expressed in the passage; partly justified by reference to a relevant argument or piece of evidence; marginal understanding of the possible impact of the opinion/subject of the passage on a wider issue of religion and/or human experience; expressed with limited clarity
2	A basic response to the view(s) expressed in the passage, based on limited evidence or argument; a point of view with a simple justification based on a limited range of evidence and/or reasons; an attempt to consider a possible implication of the expressed viewpoint for its broader context; or in relation to aspects of religion and/or human experience; communicated within a framework which makes the meaning sufficiently clear.	6-10
	Range of skills needed to produce effective writing is likely to be limited. There are likely to be passages which lack clarity and proper organisation. Frequent syntactical and/or spelling errors are likely to be present.
	Low Level 2: 6 marks limited discussion of the view(s) expressed in the passage; a personal response supported by minimal related evidence or argument; an attempt to make a possible link between the expressed viewpoint and some aspect of a wider issue related to religion and/or human experience; expressed with adequate clarity

a critical assessment of the viewpoint(s) expressed in the passage; supported by coherent discussion and typically based on an analysis of alternative approaches; leading to a clearly expressed point of view justified by reasoning and evidence; a consideration of some possible implications of the expressed viewpoint for religion and human experience; focused response to the task, expressed carefully with frequent use of technical language

a sound attempt at an evaluation of the viewpoint(s) expressed in the passage; supported by coherent and reasoned discussion; typically based on a critical analysis of alternative approaches; leading to a clearly expressed point of view justified by careful reasoning and evidence; discussion of potential consequences of the point of view for religion and human experience; extensive response to the task, expressed fluently with wide use of technical language

a comprehensive response to the task; a careful, critical evaluation of the viewpoint(s) expressed in the passage; based on a detailed analysis and reasoned discussion of alternative approaches; leading to a cogently justified point of view; an attempt to analyse potential consequences of the point of view in relation to religion and human experience; expressed clearly and concisely with skilful use of technical language

Each level descriptor above concludes with a statement about written communication. These descriptors should be considered as indicative, rather than definitional, of a given level. Thus, most candidates whose religious understanding related to a given question suggests that they should sit in a particular level will express that understanding in ways which broadly conform to the communication descriptor appropriate to that level. However, there will be cases in which high-order thinking is expressed relatively poorly. It follows that the religious thinking should determine the level. Indicators of written communication are best considered normatively and may be used to help decide a specific mark to be awarded within a level. Quality of written communication which fails to conform to the descriptor for the level will depress the award of marks by a sub-band within the level. Similarly, though not commonly, generalised and unfocused answers may be expressed with cogency and even elegance. In that case, quality of written communication will raise the mark by a sub-band.

Hinduism

Examiners should be reminded that any legitimate approach to the examination and discussion of this passage must be rewarded, and that there is no need for candidates to cover every idea/scholar mentioned in the extract.

Questi	Question
5	(a)	Examine the argument and/or interpretation in the passage. (30)
Indicat	Indicative Content
Level	Mark	A01
1	1-6	Candidates may provide a simple summary of the passage with limited attention to terms and ideas.
2	7-12	Candidates may provide a basic understanding of the passage with a limited ability to select key information. Candidates may describe various features of Hindu ethics such as stages of life and divisions within society.
3	13-18	Candidates may clarify the main line of thinking regarding Hindu ethics. Candidates may examine terms such as dharma and karma. Candidates may illustrate these ideas by reference to key examples such as the role of Krishna in the Gita.
4	19-24	Candidates are likely to demonstrate understanding by focusing on the key argument in this passage. They may highlight the view about the basic importance of dharma to an understanding of ethics in Hinduism. Candidates may highlight the organic whole as seen in the association between natural and moral order. Candidates may focus on the contributions that non-violent action may make to various movements in the world. Candidates may focus on key contributions from various Hindu thinkers and schools and they may make effective use of the set texts from unit 3.
5	25-30	Candidates are likely to contextualise their answer by setting out the main background issues and highlighting the substantive ideas. This may include reference to some key contextual issues about the place of ethics within Hinduism and that this has varied from one period to another and is dependent upon various schools of interpretation. Candidates may present a critical insight into the distinctive aspects of dharma such as the contrasts between holistic and individualistic approaches. Candidates may pay special attention to karma in terms of an organic whole including ideas about samsara. Candidates may draw on different elements in their studies, such as key ideas about Gandhi in unit 3 and the ideas of 'disinterested non-violence'.

Questi	Question
5	(b)	Do you agree with the idea(s) expressed? Justify your point of (20) view and discuss its implications for understanding religion and human experience.
Indicat	Indicative Content
Level	Mark	AO2
1	1-5	Candidates may present a superficial account of a few views concerning pacifism without a focus on the question.
2	6-10	Candidates may present a basic view in support of the impact that dharma has on Hindu ethics. Candidates may comment on the view that nonviolence may be an effective tool towards justice.
3	11-15	Candidates may compare some views for and against the views in the passage and use their own line of reasoning. They may present evidence to support the key ideas, drawing on evidence from Hindu scriptures and key thinkers. Candidates may consider the contributions that the idea of karma may make to ethics together with potential difficulties.
		In terms of implications for religion candidates may argue that an understanding of ethics cannot be limited to a view that 'this life is all we have'. A belief in reincarnation adds a significant different dimension and candidates may debate the merits or otherwise of this stance. In terms of human experience, candidates may argue for the merits of an 'ecologically enlightened perspective' and some of the features that may be associated with this stance.
4	16-20	Candidates are likely to present a critical evaluation of this passage,
4	10-20	weighing up strengths and weaknesses of the views. Candidates may argue in support of the contrasts made between organic and competitive systems but also make the case against this by considering aspects of the caste system. Candidates may use exemplar material from relevant thinkers and schools such as a comparison between the values associated with sacrifices compared to the principles of ahimsa associated with Gandhi, in order to debate alternative stances. By means of these discussions candidates are likely to build up a coherent and justifiable argument.
		Candidates may evaluate the implications for religion in the sense of religious traditions adding distinctive perspectives to an understanding of ethics, in this case the context of a holistic ethics coupled with 'disinterested non-violence'. From the perspective of human experience, candidates may debate the view that ethical principles may be based on metaphysical principles such as dharma, looking at reasons for and against this stance.
