Instructions

- Please ensure that you have read this notice before the examination.

Information

- This notice covers Components 01 and 02.
- The format/structure of the assessments remains unchanged.
- The advance information details the focus of the content of the exams in the May–June 2022 assessments.
- There are no restrictions on who can use this notice.
- This notice is meant to help students to focus their revision time.
- Students and teachers can discuss the advance information.
- This document has 5 pages.
General advice

• In addition to covering the content outlined in the advance information, students and teachers should consider how to:
  • manage their revision of other parts of the specification that may provide knowledge which helps with understanding the areas being tested in 2022.

• For specifications with synoptic assessments, topics not explicitly given in the advance information may appear, e.g. where students are asked to bring together knowledge, skills and understanding from across the specification.

• For specifications with optional papers/topics/content, students should only refer to the advance information for their intended option.

• For specifications with NEA, advance information does not cover any NEA components.

Advance Information

Subject specific section

- This advanced information details the main focus of the questions on the examination papers.

- For our Pearson Edexcel A Level Economics Specification A, for the component 01 and 02 examination papers, questions within these papers will examine content from the areas specified in this notice.

- The specification content is presented in numerical order as set out in the specification, and not reflecting the question order of the examination papers.

- Some questions may be answerable using more than one area of specified content.

- Any content listed may appear in the examination papers in any question style, from short response questions through to extended response questions.

- Candidates will not be expected to answer questions specifically focused on other areas of the specification, but it is important that candidates appreciate that many topics in Economics are interconnected and cannot be understood in isolation.
