Introduction

The Pearson Edexcel Level 3 Advanced GCE in English Literature is designed for use in schools and colleges. It is part of a suite of GCE qualifications offered by Pearson.

These sample assessment materials have been developed to support this qualification and will be used as the benchmark to develop the assessment students will take.

General marking guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the last candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the first.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than be penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme – not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification/indicative content will not be exhaustive.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, a senior examiner must be consulted before a mark is given.
- Crossed-out work should be marked unless the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

Marking guidance – specific

The marking grids have been designed to assess student work holistically. The grids identify which Assessment Objective is being targeted by each bullet point within the level descriptors. One bullet point is linked to one Assessment Objective, however please note that the number of bullet points in the level descriptor does not directly correlate to the number of marks in the level descriptor.

When deciding how to reward an answer, examiners should consult both the indicative content and the associated marking grid(s). When using a levels-based mark scheme, the 'best fit' approach should be used:

- examiners should first decide which descriptor most closely matches the answer and place it in that level
- the mark awarded within the level will be decided based on the quality of the answer and will be modified according to how securely all bullet points are displayed at that level
- in cases of uneven performance, the points above will still apply. Candidates will be placed in the level that best describes their answer according to each of the Assessment Objectives described in the level. Marks will be awarded towards the top or bottom of that level depending on how they have evidenced each of the descriptor bullet points
- examiners of Advanced GCE English should remember that all Assessment Objectives within a level are equally weighted. They must consider this when making their judgements
- the mark grid identifies which Assessment Objective is being targeted by each bullet point within the level descriptors
- indicative content is exactly that – they are factual points that candidates are likely to use to construct their answer. It is possible for an answer to be constructed without mentioning some or all of these points, as long as they provide alternative responses to the indicative content that fulfils the requirements of the question. It is the examiner's responsibility to apply their professional judgement to the candidate's response in determining if the answer fulfils the requirements of the question.

SECTION A: Post-2000 Specified Poetry

Somewhat Unravelled

Auntie stands by the kettle, looking at the kettle
and says, help me, help me, where is the kettle?
I say, little auntie, the curlicues and hopscotch grids unfurling in your brain have hidden it from you. Let me make you a cup of tea. She says ah ha! But I do 5 my crossword, don't I, OK not the difficult one, the one with the wasname? Cryptic clues. Not that. I say, auntie, little auntie, we were never cryptic
so let's not start that now. I appreciate your straight-on talk, the built-up toilet seats, the way you wish poetry 10
were just my hobby, our cruises on the stair lift, your concern about my weight, the special seat in the bath.
We know where we are. She says, nurse told me I should furniture-walk around the house, holding on to it.
I say, little auntie you are a plump armchair 15
in flight, a kitchen table on a difficult hike without boots, you do the sideboard crawl like no one else, you are a sofa rumba, you go to sleep like a rug. She says, I don't like eating. Just as well you've got a good appetite. I say littlest auntie, my very little auntie 20 (because she is shrinking now, in front of me)
let me cook for you, a meal so wholesome and blimmin' pungent with garlic you will dance on it and eat it through your feet. Then she says don't you ever want to go to market and get lost 25 in pots, fruit and random fabric? Don't you want to experiment with rain, hide out in storms,
cover your body with a layer only one raindrop thick? Don't you want to sell your nail-clippings online? She says, look at you, with all your language, 30 you never became the flower your mother
wanted but it's not too late, come with me and rootle in the earth outside my front window, set yourself in the special bed, the one only wasname is allowed to garden and we will practise 35 opening and closing and we'll follow the sun
with our faces until the cows come home.

Question number	Indicative content
1	Students may refer to the following in their answers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>vivid descriptive detail to convey the experiences of old age ("the special seat in the bath"; "not finding the food on her plate with her fork")</li> <li>use of direct speech and its effect in each poem ("It's living hell to be honest, Adam")</li> <li>how the poems' structures allow the theme of old age to be explored (the chaos of dementia reflected in Shapcott's run-on lines; the sharp focus on tragic detail afforded by Thorpe's couplet stanzas)</li> <li>methods used to convey the speakers' attitudes to their elderly relatives (the indulgent response to auntie's rudeness; the pity and horror of "a vision as blank as a stone")</li> <li>the lyricism of Shapcott's metaphors ("You are a plump armchair in flight") in contrast to Thorpe's more prosaic approach ("Bumping into walls like a dodgem")</li> <li>the differing tones of each poem's ending ("...we'll follow the sun with our faces..." in contrast to the honest pain at his mother's inability to see "the golden weather").</li> </ul>
2	Students may refer to the following in their answers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>various ways in which both poems explore the experience of losing control and the consequent emotional impact (the auntie's dementia; the caller's inability to connect with a human)</li> <li>the poets' use of humour to make emotions more palatable (O'Driscoll's ironic use of "Wonderful"; Shapcott's "furniture walk")</li> <li>the frustration of the speaker in Please Hold ("Yes, but I'm paying for it, I shout") in contrast to the indulgent patience of the niece ("...let me cook for you...")</li> <li>different ways in which the poets use repetition to convey emotion ("Please hold"; "This is the future" ; "I say, little auntie...")</li> <li>lyrical quality of Somewhat Unravelling ("...you are a sofa rumba..." in comparison to the staccato rhythm of Please Hold ("Please hold. Please grow old".))</li> <li>the poets' use of colloquial diction and speech for effect</li> <li>how both poets' sense of the absurd conveys emotion ("and the robot transfers me to himself."; "Don't you want to sell your nail-clippings online?")</li> <li>ways in which the poems explore language as either coldly alienating or warmly engaging.</li> </ul>

'But'... 'Therefore...'; Donne also uses dramatic monologue to construct argument</li> <li>• how Marvell and Donne depict the sun's passage around the Earth, in line with contemporary understanding of the cosmos</li> <li>• how the poets use a range of imagery, e.g. Vaughan's portrayal of eternity in magnificent, beautiful imagery, then the mundane pursuits of people in worldly time; Donne's inclusion of everything from windows and curtains to the structure of the cosmos.</li> </ul>
