

GCE Music – Difficulty Levels

AS/A2 Music

6MU01

6MU04

December 2011

Introduction

Difficulty Levels

This guide is provided as an aid for checking grade levels of some of the more common pieces likely to be offered on instruments frequently presented for examination. Where an instrument is not covered by this list, teachers and examiners are advised to consult copies of recent graded exam syllabuses, many of which are readily available for reference online. The inclusion of any piece on the following list is for grading purposes only; the guide is not a syllabus or a list of recommended repertoire – candidates may select any other appropriate repertoire for examination. Where a piece exists now, or existed in the past, on the syllabuses of more than one exam board, the higher or highest grade is that which Edexcel will accept for GCE AS and A2 level Music examinations.

Difficulty Level Codes

Edexcel uses three difficulty levels: S (standard), MD (more difficult) and H (higher). The mark achieved by a candidate for each piece performed is dependent upon the difficulty of the music offered. Performances at MD or H level are scaled according to the grid to be found in the Specification (page 37 for 6MU01, page 82 for 6MU04). Performances that are easier than standard level are unable to be credited with marks in the top mark bands for all marking criteria. Detailed instructions for the marking process are set out in the Specification.

At AS level (6MU01) the standard level of difficulty is Grade 5

The following will apply at AS level:

Grade 5 = S level

Grade 6 = MD level

Grade 7 or higher* = H level

At A2 level (6MU04) the standard level of difficulty is Grade 6

The following will apply at A2 level:

Grade 6 = S level

Grade 7 = MD level

Grade 8 or higher* = H level

* For some instruments and for voice the difficulty levels are occasionally given as Grade 9. This indicates the appearance of these pieces on diploma examination syllabuses. Grade 9 should always be considered at H level; no extra credit is given for the performance of music from more advanced syllabuses.
