Evidence A

Speed One Sports 2014

Tony Di Ponio left Italy at the age of four when his father decided the family should move to Birmingham, England. Tony is now 35, married with two children and owns and manages Speed One Sports, a business with an annual turnover in excess of £2m.

Tony 'failed' at secondary school. He gained low GCSE grades – seven grade Ds, two Es and one F. Later though, his fortunes changed. At the age of 18, after studying a BTEC Foundation Course in Business Administration at Halesowen College, Tony started work as a Sports Development Administrator for Birmingham City Council, earning £12 000 a year. In the evenings Tony offered badminton classes and charged £10 an hour. Within three years, Tony's passion and abilities were recognised by the Council and he was promoted and earning a salary of £30 000.

However, working for the Council did not prove challenging enough for Tony. He lost his enthusiasm and wanted something more stimulating. So, in 1998 using his own savings, a small bank loan and £20 000 he borrowed from his father-in law, Ken, he set up his own business – a children's soft play centre. This business failed within 12 months and Tony lost over £70 000.

In 1999 Tony decided to set up another company offering a range of sports coaching services under the brand name Little Tone Promotions. Coaching was offered in a range of sports: athletics, badminton, cricket, dance, gymnastics and football.

In 2010, determined to achieve even more success, Tony started Speed One Sports. He opened a small factory in Birmingham, printing and stitching school logos on sports clothing for schools. He used quality supplies imported from a Nike wholesaler in the US. The printing and stitching were carried out by three production staff. Tony paid himself a salary of £3 000 per month.

By 2012, Speed One Sports had developed into a multi-product business, which used a range of supplies sourced from Adidas, Fruit of the Loom, HH Workwear Wilson as well as Nike.

By May 2014 Speed One Sports Ltd also offered:

- Corporate and work wear
- Engraved sports trophies
- Promotional gifts like key rings, mugs, and stationery
- Sports funding consultancy
- Entertainment and awards promotions

Speed One Sports Ltd employs over 50 staff, across three factories and in one separate city centre office. It provides sportswear and coaching to over 100 primary and secondary schools in the West Midlands. Tony's annual salary exceeds £100 000 a year, he lives in a house worth over £1m, owns a high performance vintage Porsche motor car and two Mercedes A class cars. Yet Speed One Sports Ltd is not all about making money. Every month in the school year, all staff provide free business, careers and enterprise workshops to client schools.

Tony comments: 'We do this because having an enthusiasm for enterprise is the future for the young people of this country'.
