Performance measures in England in 2018

Why don’t the current BTEC Nationals (2010) count in performance measures in England for 2018 results onwards?

For 2018 results onwards, the DfE is fully implementing the new criteria for performance measures which include a requirement for some external assessment.

That means the current BTEC Nationals (2010) – which are 100% internally assessed – won’t meet the DfE’s criteria for performance measures from 2018 onwards, although they are included in performance measures up to 2017 results.

Does the new criteria apply to just BTEC Nationals (2010)?

No, it applies to all vocational qualifications.

If you want to continue teaching courses which are 100% internally assessed, you’re free to do so, although they will not be eligible for performance measures in England for 2018 results onwards.

Why are the current BTEC Nationals (2010) eligible again for 19-23 entitlement funding in 2017/18?

The EFSA regularly review their rules and guidelines to ensure they remain fair and appropriate.

Originally, they had planned to make eligible for 19-23 entitlement funding in 2017/18, only Tech Level and Applied General qualifications included in 2018 and 2019 performance measures.

However, to provide stability, the ESFA has now decided to retain for 19-23 entitlement funding in 2017/18, qualifications that are:

1) eligible for 19-23 entitlement funding in 2016/17
2) included on 2017 performance measures.

This means that 110 BTEC Nationals (2010) will continue to be eligible for 19-23 entitlement funding in 2017/18.

Will they remain eligible in 2018/19?

The DfE and ESFA cannot yet confirm whether these will remain eligible for 19-23 entitlement funding in 2018/19.
