
Amendment Notice for Pearson SRF BTEC Level 6 Professional Diploma in Business Innovation Management – January 2017

Changes to the current specification for first teaching from January 2017 have been sidelined where they occur.

New and updated sections have been inserted in the specifications as follows:

- amending the aim of the qualification, to provide clarity that this qualification is for learners who work in, or want to work in, business innovation management
- changing the aims and introductions for all units. Changes have been made to identify the importance of business innovation management within the units
- reviewing the assessment criteria to ensure clarity and consistency across all units
- simplifying the delivery and assessment guidance. The guidance notes for delivery and assessment are now more focused on the specific requirements of each unit and supportive to give tutors more flexibility in teaching and assessing
- amending suggested resources lists for all units. We have included an updated and more concise number of resources as an indication of the level and scope of materials required. This will make it clearer that it is for the tutors to identify the necessary materials to deliver the programme, which will provide greater flexibility in the delivery of the qualification
- changing the unit title for Unit 10 Project Management for Engineering to Project Management for Business, to reflect the aim of the qualification.
