Marking The Script

The learner has used the correct format for a note and has used more than enough sentences.

The learner has used correct grammar and punctuation in their sentences, as well as correct upper- and lower-case letters.

The learner has used an appropriate adjective (well).

The learner would lose a mark for spelling as they have misspelled three words in their response (hello, could and know). The general guide is if a learner uses a word, they should be able to spell it regardless of the level.

The learner would achieve five out of six marks.
