Rafton Radio

The voice of our community

Would you like to create your own radio programme?

At Rafton Radio, our community radio station, we're offering local people a chance to present their own programme.

We'll provide you with equipment and training, and give you all the guidance you need. We'll help you to present a great radio show.

You will need to have a variety of content, but you can decide what to include in your programme. For example, you can choose music of any style and interviews with musicians. You could also include reviews of books or films, reports on sports news, or present other items of local interest.

To apply, complete the application form and send it to:
