Question 1

Rewrite the sentence below, putting in the missing speech marks.

I want to go home, said Sam, as he stood up angrily.

Write your answer on the lines.

"I want to go home, said Sam,
as he stood up angrily"

(Total for Question 1 = 1 mark)

1	2	2.5	"I want to go home," said Sam, as he stood up angrily.	1
Note: do not penalise spelling errors. Speech marks can be single or double inverted commas.

Question 2

In the text below, two words have prefixes that change their meaning to the opposite of the original word.

In the text, circle the two words this applies to.

Becoming a teacher

I started my first teaching job last year. Some people say teaching is not a great job, but I disagree. I find it very rewarding when students make progress. When I first trained to be a teacher, I was very unsure of myself, but now I feel confident and love being in front of a class.

(Total for Question 2 = 2 marks)

2	2	2.6	Prefixes that change the meaning of words correctly identified:	2
			disagree
			unsure
			Award one mark for each identified correctly.
			Award a maximum of two marks.

Marking The Script

The learner got the first question wrong and would benefit from more support on punctuation.

On the second question, the learner successfully identified the words with prefixes. Crossing out the incorrect answer means we can ignore it.

The learner would achieve two out of three marks.

The Pearson logo is displayed in white against a dark blue background. It features a stylized icon on the left consisting of three curved, overlapping shapes that resemble a stylized 'P' or a series of pages. To the right of this icon, the word "Pearson" is written in a bold, sans-serif typeface.
