Entry level Certificate in Modern Foreign Languages

Key Features

- ÷ consistent with the National Curriculum (England) order for Modern Foreign Languages
- ÷ teacher assessed
- ÷ linked to the 2001 GCSE Edexcel specifications for French, German and Spanish
- ÷ recognises achievement at National Curriculum (England) levels 1, 2 & 3
- ÷ a flexible assessment framework which can be tailored to meet students' needs
- ÷ a bank of short assessment tasks covering listening, speaking, reading and writing
- ÷ no terminal examination

- ÷ based on practical tasks

The qualification

The Entry level Certificate in Modern Foreign Languages is available in French, German and Spanish. It is designed for students for whom the national framework of qualifications is not yet appropriate and provides access to GCSE, NVQ and other language qualifications.

The aims of the specification are to:

- ÷ enable students to experience success and enjoyment in learning a modern foreign language
- ÷ provide learning and assessment opportunities appropriate to each student's ability and stage of development
- ÷ stimulate an awareness of other cultures and promote a sympathetic attitude to the people and countries of the target language
- ÷ encourage positive attitudes to language learning
- ÷ encourage an awareness of the nature of the language and language learning
- ÷ promote learning skills of a more general nature, for example, ICT, cross-curricular themes
- ÷ enable students to work in a variety of situations and settings

Students will be assessed across the five National Curriculum contexts in the four linguistic skills:

- ÷ listening and responding
- ÷ speaking
- ÷ reading and responding
- ÷ writing.

The content

Content is based on the five National Curriculum contexts:

- A Everyday activities
- B Personal and social life
- C The world around us
- D The world of work
- E The international world

These provide the contexts for all assessment activities and correspond to topic areas and related subtopics of the 2001 Edexcel GCSE specifications for French, German and Spanish. This permits a logical progression to GCSE and can help to facilitate co-teaching of the certificate with GCSE groups. A mapping grid has been produced which lists the full range of assessment tasks under topic areas. It also links these to the five National Curriculum contexts and identifies the corresponding subtopics.

(Please refer to Appendix 1)

National Qualifications Framework criteria

This specification is based on the common criteria and the Entry level criteria, which are prescribed by the regulatory authorities, including QCA, and are mandatory for all awarding bodies.

Scheme of assessment

The assessment tasks are all externally set by Edexcel and externally moderated. Additionally, students should complete the designated number of coursework tasks, a bank of which is given in the Assessment Pack in addition to all the assessment tasks necessary across the four linguistic skills and five contexts of the National Curriculum.

Each of the National Curriculum contexts typically has between 20-30 assessment tasks, each of which is designated a specific level, i.e. National Curriculum level 1, National Curriculum level 2, or National Curriculum level 3. (Please refer to Appendix 3). Marking guidance for the achievement of each task is given in the teachers' notes section of the assessment pack.

Students should demonstrate broad coverage of the five National Curriculum contexts and the four language skills.

Students must attempt a minimum of 7 tasks for each language skill.

For the purposes of certification, students must achieve the following:

ENTRY 1	40 assessment tasks	+ 1 coursework task
ENTRY 2	50 assessment tasks, of which 20 must be Entry 2	+ 2 coursework tasks
ENTRY 3	50 assessment tasks, of which 20 must be Entry 3	+ 3 coursework tasks

Teachers may select the assessment tasks that best fit their scheme of work.

There is no time restriction placed on the assessment tasks and students should also be encouraged to try a task again if they are unable to achieve it at the first attempt. Some of the assessment tasks are open-ended and intended to facilitate progression to the GCSE. There is an element of choice for both student and teacher in using the assessment tasks.

The assessment tasks must take place in the classroom under controlled conditions and students may have access to a bi-lingual dictionary or a glossary where appropriate.

Coursework tasks

The coursework tasks provide an opportunity for all students to attempt more open-ended creative work. Students should be encouraged to show an element of independence and to use other skills such as ICT when undertaking these tasks. They may be written or spoken but could incorporate other language skills.

Coursework tasks should be approximately 30 words in length and may be one main task or a collection of shorter tasks - eg a list and a labelled plan. The assessment packs offer a bank of suggested coursework tasks for each context.

Assessment materials

All required assessment materials are produced in comprehensive language-specific packs and comprise the following three elements:

Guidelines

A guideline has been written for each of the five National Curriculum contexts, to provide teachers with a framework for teaching and assessment. The five guidelines may be used as free-standing teaching and assessment schemes, or in conjunction with departmental schemes of work. Each guideline is further sub-divided into topics, which may be taken in any order. The teacher will need to decide how best to structure and organise the group's learning and assessment, using the guidelines for planning.

Each guideline includes objectives, vocabulary and structures, and core activities that lead to the assessment tasks. It also contains suggestions for possible extension activities that teachers might like to explore for students able to progress to the lower levels of GCSE attainment.

Assessment tasks

The assessment tasks in the four language skills are provided as photocopiable sheets and are accompanied by a listening tape. A list of suggested coursework tasks relating to each context is also included in the pack together with a record sheet for teachers to copy for individual students.

Teachers' notes

The teachers' notes for each assessment task provide the mark scheme and the tape transcript for listening.

Differentiation

Differentiation between students across the ability range will occur by means of task, process, outcome, response and level of award.

Knowledge, skills and understanding

The specification complements and corresponds to the learning and teaching requirements for key stages 3 and 4 of the National Curriculum (England) listed below:

- ÷ Acquiring knowledge and understanding of the target language
- ÷ Developing language skills
- ÷ Developing language-learning skills
- ÷ Developing cultural awareness
- ÷ Breadth of study

Please refer to Appendix 4 for more information.

Moderation

Internal and external assessment will be undertaken in accordance with the appropriate code of practice.

Internal moderation

Teachers' marking must be standardised across the centre by internal moderation. If more than one teacher is involved in assessment, it is essential that the standard of work expected of the award is agreed and moderated by the centre before submission to Edexcel. Internal moderation must include records to show that students have met the assessment criteria at the level specified. Teachers will be asked to record a minimum of three speaking tasks per student from different contexts, as well as submitting completed tasks in other skills.

External moderation

The assessment tasks and cassette recordings will be required for external moderation. The moderator will request samples of named students for detailed scrutiny and this will be undertaken by postal sampling. In certain circumstances, Edexcel may ask for further samples of performances from different students.

Awarding and reporting

Qualifications will be awarded at each available level of the Entry level Certificate specification (Entry 1, 2 and 3) and will comply with the appropriate code of practice. The qualification may be taken more than once.

Progression and prior learning

This specification builds on the knowledge, understanding and skills established by the National Curriculum at Key Stages 1, 2 and 3. It provides a foundation for further study at level 1 in the National Qualifications Framework, including GCSE and NVQ.

Students with particular requirements

It is important that the normal level of additional support is given to students with particular requirements. Regulations and guidance relating to students with special requirements are published annually by the Joint Council for General Qualifications and are circulated to examination officers. Further copies of the guidance documentation may be obtained from the address below or by telephoning 0870 240 9800.

Forbidden combinations and links

Every specification is assigned to a national classification code indicating the subject area to which it belongs.

Centres should be aware that students who enter for more than one Entry level Certificate qualification with the same classification code will have only one grade (the highest) counted for the purpose of the School and College Performance Tables.

The classification codes that relates to this specification are:

French	5650
German	5670
Spanish	5750

Students entering for this specification may not, in the same series of examinations enter for any other specification with the same title. There is no other Edexcel Entry level qualification available in modern foreign languages.

Language of assessment

Assessment of this specification will be through non-verbal or very short and straightforward target-language responses although certain tasks set in listening & responding and reading & responding papers will require responses in English. This reflects similar arrangements for the GCSE in modern foreign languages.

Private candidates

This specification is not available to private candidates.

Social, cultural, spiritual, moral and ethical issues

This specification contributes to an understanding of spiritual, moral, ethical, social and cultural issues.

The ethos of any language course is to promote understanding of other cultures in addition to developing language knowledge. Activities in a range of contexts and for different purposes offer natural opportunities for students to consider and express opinions on a variety of social and cultural issues. The specification offers the possibility to explore ‘Current affairs, social and environmental issues’.

General spiritual, moral and cultural values of society and the individual should be upheld. The qualification encourages individual learning, pair work and group activities. When working with others, the respect of each member’s personal beliefs is very important in building a positive and supportive environment in which to develop and respond.

Education for citizenship

This specification makes a contribution towards coverage of the Key Stage 4 programme of study for Citizenship. Study of a modern foreign language can enable students to understand and appreciate different countries, cultures, people and communities. They will be expected to learn about the customs, everyday life and traditions of the countries or communities where the target language is spoken. This affords students an opportunity to consider themselves as world citizens as well as of the United Kingdom and Europe.

Information and Communication Technology

Information and Communication Technology can play a vital role in supporting and stimulating modern foreign language learning at all levels. As the range of available software increases and as access to e-mail and Internet facilities becomes more widespread in centres, it is expected that teachers will integrate more ICT activities into the language learning process.

Environmental education, health and safety education and the European dimension

This qualification provides opportunities to support awareness of environmental issues, health and safety considerations and European developments consistent with relevant international agreements. This can be in the form of short coursework tasks or through activities undertaken within the settings of everyday activities, personal and social life, the world around us, the world of work and the international world which feature as the identified National Curriculum contexts within this qualification.

Mapping of Entry level Certificate assessment tasks to GCSE 2001 topic areas and linked subtopics

NB

You will notice that assessment tasks are available in all five of the 2001 GCSE topic areas and these correspond to the majority of subtopics specified. Where this does not occur, it is possible for students to undertake a related coursework task; for example a student could produce a poster in the target language which gives a bullet point description of a film (Media).

Appendix 2

Descriptions of modern foreign language attainment targets at National Curriculum levels 1, 2 and 3 (England)

Listening and responding

National Curriculum level 1

Pupils show that they understand simple classroom commands, short statements and questions. They understand speech spoken clearly, face to face or from a good quality recording, with no background noise or interference. They may need a lot of help, such as repetition and gesture.

National Curriculum level 2

Pupils show that they understand a range of familiar statements and questions (for example everyday classroom language and instructions for setting tasks). They respond to a clear model of standard language but may need items to be repeated.

National Curriculum level 3

Pupils show that they understand short passages made up of familiar language that is spoken at near normal speed without interference. These passages include instructions, messages and dialogues. Pupils identify and note main points and personal responses (for example, likes, dislikes and feelings), but may need short sections to be repeated.

Speaking

National Curriculum level 1

Pupils respond briefly, with single words or short phrases, to what they see and hear. Their pronunciation may be approximate, and they may need considerable support from a spoken model and from visual cues.

National Curriculum level 2

Pupils give short, simple responses to what they see and hear. They name and describe people, places and objects. They use set phrases (for example, to ask for help and permission). Their pronunciation may still be approximate and the delivery hesitant, but their meaning is clear.

National Curriculum level 3

Pupils take part in brief prepared tasks of at least two or three exchanges, using visual clues to help them initiate and respond. They use short phrases to express personal responses (for example, likes, dislikes and feelings). Although they use mainly memorised language, they occasionally substitute items of vocabulary to vary questions or statements.

Reading and responding

National Curriculum level 1

Pupils show that they understand single words presented in clear script in a familiar context. They may need visual cues.

National Curriculum level 2

Pupils show that they understand short phrases presented in a familiar context. They match sound to print by reading aloud single familiar words and phrases. They use books or glossaries to find out the meanings of new words.

National Curriculum level 3

Pupils show that they understand short texts and dialogues, made up of familiar language, printed in books or wordprocessed. They identify and note main points and personal responses (for example, likes, dislikes and feelings). They are beginning to read independently, selecting simple texts and using a bilingual dictionary or glossary to look up new words.

Writing

National Curriculum level 1

Pupils copy single familiar words correctly. They label items and select appropriate words to complete short phrases or sentences.

National Curriculum level 2

Pupils copy familiar short phrases correctly. They write or word process items (for example, simple signs and instructions) and set phrases used regularly in class. When they write familiar words from memory their spelling may be approximate.

National Curriculum level 3

Pupils write two or three short sentences on familiar topics, using aids (for example, textbooks, wallcharts and their own written work). They express personal responses, (for example likes, dislikes and feelings). They write short phrases from memory and their spelling is readily understandable.
