Contents

For each Pearson Functional Skills qualification, you have access to a wide range of flexible assessment opportunities, revision materials, complimentary course materials and unrivalled support to help you and your learners get the most from these qualifications.

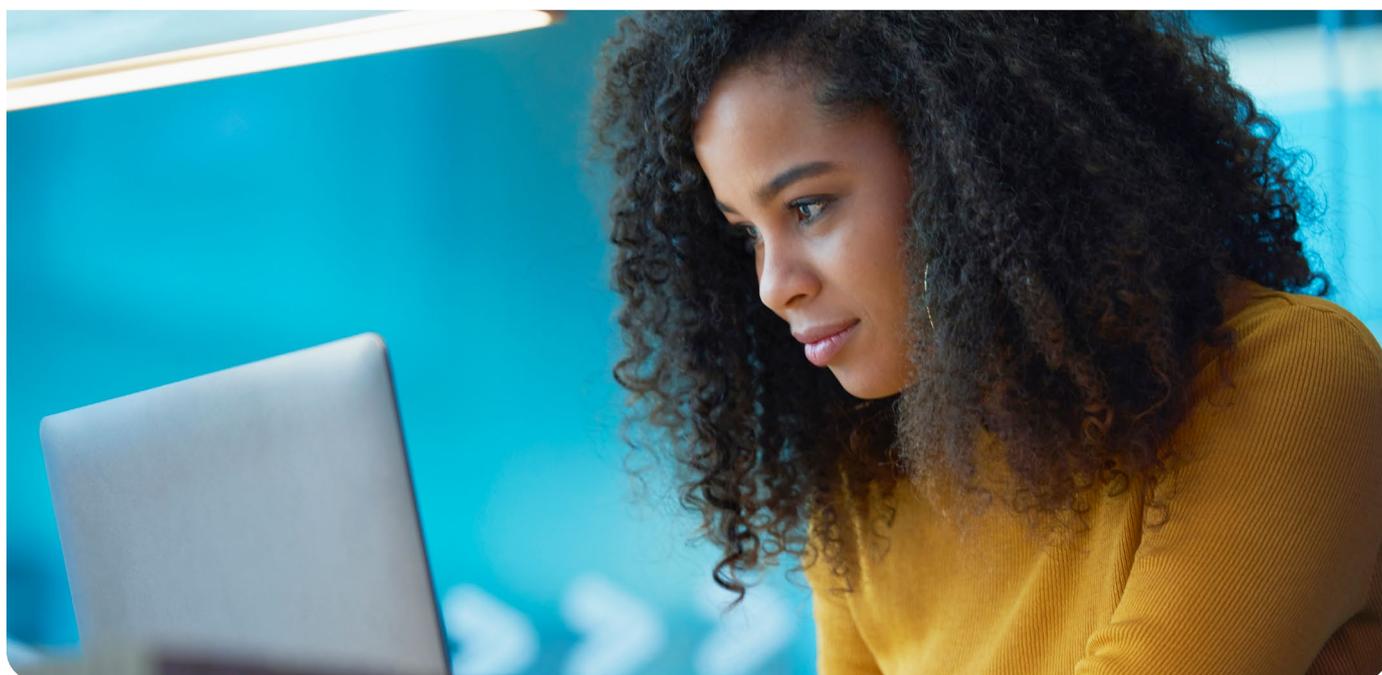

Flexible assessment

Pearson Functional Skills qualifications give you access to highly flexible assessment opportunities.

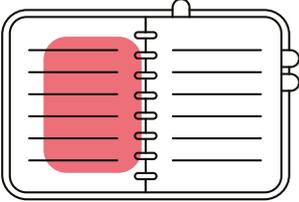

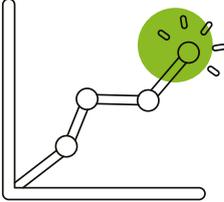

This means you can choose the method of assessment that's right for your learners as well the one most suited to where they will be located on the day of their assessment.

All the qualifications have been updated to comply with the latest 2019 reforms:

- They provide reliable evidence of a learner's achievements against demanding content that is relevant to the workplace.
- You can assess a learner's underpinning subject knowledge and their ability to apply this knowledge to different contexts.
- They give learners a foundation for progression to employment and further technical education and help them develop skills for everyday life.

On-screen offer

- Assessments are bookable with 2 hours' notice and stay live for 4 hours either side of the exam time and date.
- Registration fees are only charged for actual tests, no charges if learners are absent.
- Results available in 20 working days.
- Example papers are available on our webpage.
- Remote Invigilation option is available.

Remote Invigilation

This flexible approach to onscreen assessment delivery allows assessments to be booked when a learner is ready without the pressures of ensuring invigilators or rooms are available.

- Pearson takes care of all the invigilation requirements for these assessments.
- Learners are invigilated via their webcam, microphone/speakers, mobile device camera and screenshare.
- There is no need to download software onto the computer to run the assessment, this system uses an online version of the assessments.
- Once you have an Intention To Offer form, the service predominantly follows Pearson's business as usual protocols.

We look forward to working with you.

“Our learners are passing first time with Pearson. We have seen great improvement in English and Maths, it is an awful lot more user friendly for learners.

We are impressed that Pearson is robust in its quality assurance. We have had a lot of support. The Standards Verifier has been incredibly supportive.”

Kirstie Wright, Director of Quality and Curriculum at YMCA Training
