Extract A

Ocado plc is an online grocery retailer that does not own physical shops.

Ocado purchases its groceries from food manufacturers such as Heinz or from other grocery retailers such as Marks & Spencer. It then sells these groceries through the Ocado website or through its app. Groceries are then delivered to each customer's home. The company already has a 62% 'excellent' rating on Trustpilot for its customer service. This is higher than other supermarkets, such as Asda, that also offer online grocery shopping. Ocado is considering introducing a one-hour, same day delivery service.

In 2020, Ocado's sales rose by more than 40% as demand for online grocery shopping increased. Ocado has invested in new technology in its warehouses. This has allowed Ocado to use a just in time (JIT) stock management system. As part of this investment, Ocado's robots now can pick a customer's order in less than 5 minutes. The robots have artificial intelligence and know that they should place heavy items such as milk at the bottom of a bag. This level of automation allowed Ocado to process an extra 30,000 orders each week during 2020.

In order to increase its share of the grocery market, Ocado is considering expanding its range of ‘own label’ products to improve its offer to customers.

In 2020 Facebook decided to give employees in its European headquarters in Dublin the option to work from home. Facebook believes that remote working will not result in lower productivity. It also believes it will allow Facebook to attract talented people such as coders, graphic designers and software engineers who cannot afford to live in expensive locations such as Dublin. Facebook believes that having less office space will reduce costs and give the company a competitive advantage against its rivals such as Snapchat and Twitter.
