A Doll's House, Henrik Ibsen (adapted by Tanika Gupta)

This play was first performed in 1879 at the Royal Theatre Copenhagen. This adaptation had its first professional performance at the Lyric Theatre, Hammersmith in September 2019.

This extract is taken from Act 3, Scene 2.

SCENE 2

Helmers' living room.

NIRU and TOM are returning from the party full of high spirits.

TOM is a little tipsy.

NIRU I just wanted to stay another hour. I was so enjoying myself.

TOM You remember what we agreed.

NIRU I had such a lovely time

TOM And you danced sublimely. Did you hear the wild applause? A beautiful almond-eyed goddess dancing for their delight. They loved it. A tremendous success.

Turn over

A Doll's House continued.

MRS LAHIRI enters.

NIRU Krishna.

TOM Why, Mrs Lahiri, you here so late? 15

MRS LAHIRI Apologies for disturbing you, but I wanted to see Niru dressed up.

TOM Take a long good look, Mrs Lahiri. She is lovely, isn't she? Worth the trip over?

MRS LAHIRI Oh yes. 20

TOM Extraordinarily beautiful. That's what everyone at the party kept telling us. But she is so stubborn – I had to almost force her to come home!

NIRU Tom, you'll regret not letting me stay for at least another half an hour. 25

TOM Listen to her, Mrs Lahiri! The fact of the matter is that her Indian courtesan dance was a total triumph! Do you think I was going to let her stay and spoil the effect? No, of course not! I took my charming little dancer, on my arm; took a turn around the room, a salaam on either side and the beautiful vision disappeared. A glamorous exit is the way to do it, Mrs Lahiri – but Niru doesn't understand these things.

30

It's rather dark in here, isn't it? Let me fetch some candles. Excuse me.

35

TOM exits.

NIRU Well?

MRS LAHIRI Niru, you must tell your husband everything.

NIRU I knew it.

MRS LAHIRI You have nothing to fear from Das, but you must tell Tom.

40

NIRU I won't.

MRS LAHIRI Then the letter will reveal everything.

NIRU Thank you, Krishna, I know what to do now.

TOM enters carrying a candle or two. He puts them down. 45

TOM So, Mrs Lahiri, have you admired my wife?

MRS LAHIRI Yes, and now I will say good night.

TOM Already?

MRS LAHIRI Niru, I must go now. And don't be so stubborn. 50

TOM You tell her, Mrs Lahiri. Good night, Mrs Lahiri. I should walk you home, but it's not far is it?

MRS LAHIRI I will be fine. Thank you.

MRS LAHIRI exits and we hear her retreating footsteps. 55

TOM (whispers) Thank goodness she's gone. Looks like a ghost in all that white . . . was she wearing your shawl?

NIRU Yes, I have so many.

60

Are you tired, Tom?

TOM Not at all. In fact, I feel very lively.

NIRU I'm exhausted. I think I shall go to bed immediately.

TOM You see? And you wanted to stay another hour.

Did you see how cheerful Rank was tonight?

65

NIRU Was he? I didn't speak to him.

TOM Me neither, but I did notice how extraordinarily animated he was. First time in years I've seen him like that. Look at you, darling Niru. Here we are, by ourselves. The house is so quiet isn't it? You look divine my princess, my skylark . . .

70

NIRU Don't look at me like that, Tom.

TOM What? I'm not allowed to look at my own wife? My dearest treasure? At all the beauty that belongs to me. You are all mine.

A Doll's House continued.

NIRU moves away from TOM. TOM chases her around the room.

TOM You tease. You still have the court dancer in your blood, I see. And it makes you even more captivating.

TOM catches NIRU and holds her close. 80

TOM Have you noticed when I am at a party with you like tonight, how I hardly speak to you? How I keep away from you? Just a few stolen glances? It is because I make believe to myself that we are in love and that you have secretly promised to be my Indian bride and that no one else in the room knows. 85

NIRU Tom, I know that you are always thinking of me.

TOM And when we are leaving, and I am putting the shawl over your beautiful young shoulders, then I pretend you are my young bride and the we have just come from the wedding and I am bringing you for the first time to our home – quite alone with my timid Indian princess. I have been on fire watching you dancing tonight. All I wanted to do was hold you, so I brought you home early. 90

TOM kisses her feverishly. 100

A Doll's House continued.

NIRU Tom, please, no . . .

TOM No? But I am your husband!

There is a knock on the door.

NIRU Did you hear?

DR RANK (off) Helmer!

105

TOM (whispers) Ohh . . . what does he want now?

(Calls out.) Come in Rank, dear chap!

DR RANK enters.

An Inspector Calls, J. B. Priestley

This play had its first performance at the Kamerny Theatre, Moscow in 1945. The first performance in Britain was at the New Theatre, London in October 1946.

This extract is taken from Act One.

GERALD (showing annoyance) Any particular reason why I shouldn't see this girl's photograph, Inspector?

INSPECTOR (coolly, looking hard at him)
There might be.

5

ERIC And the same applies to me, I suppose?

INSPECTOR Yes.

GERALD I can't imagine what it could be.

ERIC Neither can I.

10

BIRLING And I must say, I agree with them, Inspector.

An Inspector Calls continued.

- INSPECTOR It's the way I like to go to work. One person and one line of inquiry at a time. Otherwise, there's a muddle. 15
- BIRLING I see. Sensible really. (Moves restlessly, then turns.)
You've had enough of that port, Eric.
- The INSPECTOR is watching BIRLING and now BIRLING notices him. 20
- INSPECTOR I think you remember Eva Smith now, don't you, Mr Birling?
- BIRLING Yes, I do. She was one of my employees and then I discharged her. 25
- ERIC Is that why she committed suicide?
When was this, Father?

An Inspector Calls continued.

- BIRLING Just keep quiet, Eric, and don't get excited. This girl left us nearly two years ago. Let me see — it must have been in the early autumn of nineteen-ten. 30
- INSPECTOR Yes. End of September, nineteen-ten.
- BIRLING That's right.
- GERALD Look here, sir. Wouldn't you rather I was out of this? 35
- BIRLING I don't mind your being here, Gerald. And I'm sure you've no objection, have you, Inspector? Perhaps I ought to explain first that this is Mr Gerald Croft — the son of Sir George Croft — you know, Crofts Limited. 40
- INSPECTOR Mr Gerald Croft, eh?
- BIRLING Yes. Incidentally we've been modestly celebrating his engagement to my daughter, Sheila. 45

An Inspector Calls continued.

INSPECTOR I see. Mr Croft is going to marry Miss Sheila Birling?

GERALD (smiling) I hope so.

INSPECTOR (gravely) Then I'd prefer you to stay. 50

GERALD (surprised) Oh — all right.

BIRLING (somewhat impatiently) Look — there's nothing mysterious — or scandalous — about this business — at least not so far as I'm concerned. 55
It's a perfectly straightforward case, and as it happened more than eighteen months ago — nearly two years ago — obviously it has nothing whatever to do with the wretched girl's 60 suicide. Eh, Inspector?

INSPECTOR No, sir. I can't agree with you there.

BIRLING Why not?

An Inspector Calls continued.

- INSPECTOR Because what happened to her then may have determined what happened 65
to her afterwards, and what happened to her afterwards may have driven her to suicide. A chain of events.
- BIRLING Oh well — put like that, there's something in what you say. Still, I 70 can't accept any responsibility. If we were all responsible for everything that happened to everybody we'd had anything to do with, it would be very awkward, wouldn't it? 75
- INSPECTOR Very awkward.
- BIRLING We'd all be in an impossible position, wouldn't we?
- ERIC By Jove, yes. And as you were saying,
Dad, a man has to look after himself — 80
- BIRLING Yes, well, we needn't go into all that.
- INSPECTOR Go into what?

BIRLING Oh — just before you came — I'd been giving these young men a little good advice. Now — about this girl, Eva Smith. I remember her quite well now. She was a lively good-looking girl — country-bred, I fancy — and she'd been working in one of our machine shops for over a year. A good worker too. In fact, the foreman there told me he was ready to promote her into what we call a leading operator — head of a small group of girls. But after they came back from their holidays that August, they were all rather restless, and they suddenly decided to ask for more money. They were averaging about twenty-two and six, which was neither more nor less than is paid generally in our industry. They wanted the rates raised so that they could average about twenty-five shillings a week. I refused, of course.

85

95

100

105

INSPECTOR Why?

An Inspector Calls continued.

BIRLING (surprised) Did you say 'Why?'?

INSPECTOR Yes. Why did you refuse?

BIRLING Well, Inspector, I don't see that it's any concern of yours how I choose to run my business. Is it now? 110

INSPECTOR It might be, you know.

BIRLING I don't like that tone.

INSPECTOR I'm sorry. But you asked me a question. 115

BIRLING And you asked me a question before that, a quite unnecessary question too.

An Inspector Calls continued.

INSPECTOR It's my duty to ask questions.

BIRLING Well, it's my duty to keep labour costs down, and if I'd agreed to this demand 120 for a new rate we'd have added about twelve per cent to our labour costs.
Does that satisfy you? So I refused.
Said I couldn't consider it. We were paying the usual rates and if 125 they didn't like those rates, they could go and work somewhere else. It's a free country, I told them.

SOLDIER THREE Can I just say something please?

CREO Just as long as you make it worth my while, ca your mouth is starting to annoy me a little here.

SOLDIER THREE Cos of my voice, or the truth?

CREO Is this you trying to psych me?

SOLDIER THREE So I have been told.

CREO Come out of my range.

CREO Sometimes?

SOLDIER THREE But I know I ain't done nuttin wrong here.

CREO Until now.

15

SOLDIER THREE You're jumping to conclusions here, big time.

CREO You don't bring me the one who did this, I'll be jumping on you. I'm going for a slash. I see you again, you had better have summin for me.

20

CREO exits.

SOLDIER THREE (mutters) No you won't, cos I'm gone.

SOLDIER ONE Yeah you are. Right now.

SOLDIER THREE goes.

25

Antigone continued.

SOLDIER ONE sees the other soldier still on his phone.

SOLDIER TWO I can't get a signal in here. Two blackbirds? In a tree?

Attempted murder? I hate it when I get things like this, this is going to bug me all night. 30

SOLDIER ONE You still on with that, seriously?

SOLDIER TWO Well, what else is there, then?

SOLDIER ONE Your ears gone deaf for the last five minutes? You don't know summin's going down? 35

SOLDIER TWO And here it comes. Him and his chat about gods.

SOLDIER ONE Hey, in case you forget.

The soldier points to the security cameras above. 40

SOLDIER TWO Those things ain't even working.

SOLDIER ONE I saw them move when I come in here.

Antigone continued.

SOLDIER TWO You didn't see shit.

SOLDIER ONE Just because you don't believe it, that don't make it so. The gods don't allow nuttin if it weren't to be. Someone covering up Orrin, weren't meant to be. 45

SOLDIER TWO But someone did it though.

SOLDIER ONE That's what bothers me. Maybe it was.

SOLDIER TWO Was what? 50

SOLDIER ONE Meant to be, you fool!

SOLDIER TWO You think the gods are moving against Creo?

SOLDIER ONE If they are, the last place I want to be is between them. 55

SOLDIER TWO Don't let Creo hear you. Yer lucky he ain't come out.

What's he pissing in there, a river?

SOLDIER ONE He's taking a dump, fool.

Antigone continued.

SOLDIER TWO Why didn't he say?

60

SOLDIER ONE No one says.

SOLDIER TWO A signal, one bar. (Types.)
Blackbird, attempted murder. Man I lost the bar now.

SOLDIER ONE I had a feeling, you know. This was too easy.

65

SOLDIER TWO You carry on like the war ain't finished.
Some fool trying his luck that is all.

SOLDIER ONE Creo is the one trying his luck.

SOLDIER TWO You a step away from calling him a fool you know.

70

SOLDIER ONE No, I'm saying he always likes to push it a little. If you really think about it, he didn't need to shame Orrin, side with Eto' like that. It was a little uncalled, don't you think? Brothers business, let them deal wid it.

75

SOLDIER TWO The two a them were running Thebes into the ground. You know that. Creo running tings now.

Antigone continued.

SOLDIER ONE That's what we think.

SOLDIER TWO Get on. Or get off. 80

SOLDIER ONE I'm on, as long as the gods wish it.

SOLDIER TWO You and your gods! Don't I have a say?
Don't we all ever have a say?

SOLDIER ONE Of course you do. Unwind yourself. We is fam, I'm just saying. 85

SOLDIER TWO Well don't. I chose to roll with Creo.
That's where I come out. End of. I can't believe how slow this phone is. All I got was Raven. What's that?

SOLDIER ONE A blackbird, you fool.

SOLDIER TWO I still don't get it. 90

SOLDIER ONE (shakes his head; he gets it) Take your time, blud.

SOLDIER THREE enters with TIG.

SOLDIER THREE See it deh? See what I bring for you?

Antigone continued.

The SOLDIERS laugh.

95

SOLDIER THREE What?

SOLDIER ONE Nuttin.

SOLDIER THREE Don't even think of darking me now?

SOLDIER ONE Thought never crossed.

SOLDIER TWO That is one big fish you catch there.

100

SOLDIER THREE Believe that.

SOLDIER ONE But if I was you, I'd fling it back.

SOLDIER THREE Excuse?

SOLDIER TWO Take her back to the bar downstairs
Right now.

105

SOLDIER ONE Before you find yourself.

SOLDIER TWO In a world of hurt.

SOLDIER THREE I didn't find her at the bar.

Antigone continued.

SOLDIER TWO Fine then!

SOLDIER ONE Put her back.

110

SOLDIER TWO Wherever you did find her.

SOLDIER ONE Before Creo lay eyes.

SOLDIER TWO And dead's you where you stand.

DOBCHINSKY We noticed —

BOBCHINSKY — a man —

MAYOR At last we meet. 70

DOBCHINSKY — wearing elegant civilian clothes . . .

BOBCHINSKY And he was walking around deep in thought. Pacing up and down. Slap, slap went his shoe leather. Deep in thought. Important thought. You don't walk around like that unless the thoughts you're having are important. So I wave over Vlass the innkeeper whose wife's just had a little boy, hasn't she — he'll be running an inn himself one day — and so I asked Vlass, 'What's his name?' 75

DOBCHINSKY Says to me as well —

BOBCHINSKY I'll tell it!

DOBCHINSKY You can't tell it as well as I can.

BOBCHINSKY I can. You have a gap between your teeth 85 and you get muddled . . . His name is Ivan Alexandrovich Khlestakov and he's an official from St Petersburg and he's travelling to the Saratov province. And, said Vlass, he's been acting very strangely, never leaves the inn, charges everything to his bill, hasn't paid for a thing. Of 90 course, soon as he said that, I put two and two together and then — 'Ah-ha . . .!' I said. 'It must be him.'

DOBCHINSKY No, it was me who said 'Ah-ha! It has to be him.'

BOBCHINSKY Must be the Inspector. 95

DOBCHINSKY Has to be the Inspector.

The Crucible, Arthur Miller

This play had its first performance at the Martin Beck Theatre on Broadway in January 1953.

This extract is taken from Act One.

ABIGAIL Uncle? (He looks to her.) Susanna Walcott's here from Doctor Griggs.

PARRIS Oh? Let her come, let her come.

ABIGAIL (leaning out the door to call to SUSANNA, who is down the hall a few steps) Come in, Susanna. 5

SUSANNA WALCOTT, a little younger than ABIGAIL, a nervous, hurried girl, enters.

PARRIS (eagerly) What does the doctor say, child?

SUSANNA (craning around PARRIS to get a look at BETTY) He bid me come and tell you, reverend sir, that he cannot discover no medicine for it in his books. 10

PARRIS Then he must search on.

SUSANNA Aye, sir, he have been searchin' his books since he left you, sir. But he bid me tell you, that you might look to unnatural things for the cause of it. 15

PARRIS (his eyes going wide) No — no. There be no unnatural cause here. Tell him I have sent for Reverend Hale of Beverly, and Mr Hale will surely confirm that. Let him look to medicine and put out all thought of unnatural causes here. There be none. 20

SUSANNA Aye, sir. He bid me tell you. (She turns to go.)

ABIGAIL Speak nothin' of it in the village, Susanna.

PARRIS Go directly home and speak nothing of unnatural causes. 25

SUSANNA Aye, sir. I pray for her. (She goes out.)

ABIGAIL Uncle, the rumor of witchcraft is all about; I think you'd best go down and deny it yourself. The parlor's packed with people, sir. I'll sit with her. 30

The Crucible continued.

PARRIS (pressed, turns on her) And what shall I say to them? That my daughter and my niece I discovered dancing like heathen in the forest?

ABIGAIL Uncle, we did dance; let you tell them I confessed it and I'll be whipped if I must be. But they're speakin' of witchcraft. Betty's not witched. 35

PARRIS Abigail, I cannot go before the congregation when I know you have not opened with me. What did you do with her in the forest?

ABIGAIL We did dance, uncle, and when you leaped out of the bush so suddenly, Betty was frightened and then she fainted. And there's the whole of it. 40 (PARRIS Child. Sit you down.

ABIGAIL (quavering, as she sits) I would never hurt Betty. I love her dearly. 45

PARRIS Now look you, child, your punishment will come in its time. But if you trafficked with spirits in the forest, I must know it now, for surely my enemies will, and they will ruin me with it.

ABIGAIL But we never conjured spirits.

50

PARRIS Then why can she not move herself since midnight? This child is desperate! (ABIGAIL lowers her eyes.) It must come out, my enemies will bring it out. Let me know what you done there. Abigail, do you understand that I have many enemies?

55

ABIGAIL I have heard of it, uncle.

PARRIS There is a faction that is sworn to drive me from my pulpit. Do you understand that?

ABIGAIL I think so, sir.

PARRIS Now then, in the midst of such disruption, my own household is discovered to be the very center of some obscene practice. Abominations are done in the forest —

60

ABIGAIL It were sport, uncle!

The Crucible continued.

PARRIS (pointing at BETTY) You call this sport? 65
(She lowers her eyes. He pleads.) Abigail, if you know something that might help the doctor, for God's sake tell it to me. (She is silent.) I saw Tituba waving her arms over the fire when I came on you. Why was she doing that? And I heard a screeching and gibberish 70 coming from her mouth. She were swaying like a dumb beast over that fire!

ABIGAIL She always sings her Barbados songs, and we dance.

PARRIS I cannot blink what I saw, Abigail, for my 75 enemies will not blink it. I saw a dress lying on the grass.

ABIGAIL (innocently) A dress?

PARRIS (it is very hard to say) Aye, a dress. And 80
 I thought I saw — someone naked running through the trees!

ABIGAIL (in terror) No one was naked! You mistake yourself, uncle!

The Crucible continued.

PARRIS (with anger) I saw it! (He moves from her. Then, resolved.) Now tell me true, Abigail. And I pray you feel the weight of truth upon you, for now my ministry's at stake, my ministry and perhaps your cousin's life. Whatever abomination you have done, give me all of it now, for I dare not be taken unaware when I go before them down there. 85 90

ABIGAIL There is nothin' more. I swear it, uncle.

PARRIS (studies her, then nods, half convinced) Abigail, I have fought here three long years to bend these stiff-necked people to me, and now, just now when some good respect is rising for me in the parish, you compromise my very character. I have given you a home, child, I have put clothes upon your back – now give me upright answer. Your name in the town — it is entirely white, is it not? 95

ABIGAIL (with an edge of resentment) Why, I am sure it is, sir. There be no blush about my name. 100

The Crucible continued.

PARRIS (to the point) Abigail, is there any other cause than you have told me, for your being discharged from Goody Proctor's service? I have heard it said, and I tell you as I heard it, that she comes so rarely to the church this year for she will not sit so close to something soiled. What signified that remark? 105

ABIGAIL She hates me, uncle, she must, for I would not be her slave. It's a bitter woman, a lying, cold, sniveling woman, and I will not work for such a woman! 110

Twelfth Night, William Shakespeare

This play had its first performance at Middle Temple Hall, London, in February 1602.

This extract is taken from Act 4, Scene 2.

Enter SIR TOBY BELCH and MARIA.

SIR TOBY Jove bless thee, Master Parson.

FESTE Bonos dies, Sir Toby; for, as the old hermit of Prague, that never saw pen and ink, very wittily said to a niece 5 of king Gorboduc, “That that is is”;
so I, being Master Parson, am Master Parson, for what is “that” but “that”,
and “is” but “is”?

SIR TOBY To him, Sir Topas. 10

FESTE (Calling) What ho! I say. Peace in this prison.

SIR TOBY The knave counterfeits well; a good knave.

Twelfth Night continued.

MALVOLIO (Calling from within) Who calls there! 15

FESTE Sir Topas the curate, who comes to visit Malvolio the lunatic.

MALVOLIO Sir Topas, Sir Topas, good Sir Topas, go to my lady. 20

FESTE Out, hyperbolical fiend! How vexest thou this man! Talkest thou nothing but of ladies?

SIR TOBY Well said, Master Parson.

MALVOLIO Sir Topas, never was man thus wronged. Good Sir Topas, do not think I am mad; they have laid me here in hideous darkness. 25

FESTE Fie, thou dishonest Satan! I call thee by the most modest terms; for I am one of those gentleones that will use the devil himself with courtesy. Sayest thou that house is dark? 30

MALVOLIO As hell, Sir Topas.

Twelfth Night continued.

|-----------------|--|-----------|
| FESTE | Why, it hath bay windows transparent as barricadoes, and the clerestories toward the south-north are as lustrous as ebony; and yet complainest thou of obstruction? | 35 |
| MALVOLIO | I am not mad, Sir Topas. I say to you, this house is dark. | 40 |
| FESTE | Madman, thou errest; I say there is no darkness but ignorance, in which thou art more puzzled than the Egyptians in their fog. | 45 |
| MALVOLIO | I say this house is as dark as ignorance, though ignorance were as dark as hell; and I say there was never man thus abused. I am no more mad than you are; make the trial of it in any constant question. | 50 |
| FESTE | What is the opinion of Pythagoras concerning wild fowl? | |
| MALVOLIO | That the soul of our grandam might haply inhabit a bird. | 55 |

Twelfth Night continued.

FESTE What thinkest thou of his opinion?

MALVOLIO I think nobly of the soul, and no way approve his opinion.

FESTE Fare thee well; remain thou still in darkness. Thou shalt hold the opinion 60 of Pythagoras ere I will allow of thy wits, and fear to kill a woodcock, lest thou dispossess the soul of thy grandam. Fare thee well.

MALVOLIO Sir Topas! Sir Topas! 65

SIR TOBY My most exquisite Sir Topas!

FESTE (To SIR TOBY) Nay, I am for all waters.

MARIA Thou might'st have done this without thy beard and gown; he sees thee not. 70

Twelfth Night continued.

SIR TOBY To him in thine own voice, and bring me word how thou findest him. (To MARIA) I would we were well rid of this knavery. If he may be conveniently delivered, I would he were; for I am now so far in offence with my niece that I cannot pursue with any safety this sport to the upshot. Come by and by to my chamber. 75

Exeunt SIR TOBY and MARIA. 80

FESTE (Singing) Hey, Robin, jolly Robin, Tell me how thy lady does.

MALVOLIO Fool!

FESTE My lady is unkind, perdy 85

MALVOLIO Fool!

FESTE Alas! why is she so?

MALVOLIO Fool, I say!

FESTE She loves another. Who calls, ha?

| MALVOLIO | Good fool, as ever thou wilt deserve well at my hand, help me to a candle, and pen, ink, and paper. As I am a gentleman, I will live to be thankful to thee for 't. | 90 |
| FESTE | Master Malvolio! | |
| MALVOLIO | Ay, good fool. | 95 |
| FESTE | Alas, sir, how fell you besides your five wits? | |
| MALVOLIO | Fool, there was never man sonotoriously abused; I am as well in my wits, fool, as thou art. | 100 |
| FESTE | But as well? Then you are mad indeed, if you be no better in your wits than a fool. | |
| MALVOLIO | They have here propertied me; keep me in darkness, send ministers to me, asses! and do all they can to face me out of my wits. | 105 |

Twelfth Night continued.

- FESTE Advise you what you say; the minister is here. (As SIR TOPAS) Malvolio, Malvolio, thy wits the heavens restore! 110
Endeavour thyself to sleep, and leave thy vain bibble-babble.
- MALVOLIO Sir Topas!
- FESTE Maintain no words with him, good fellow. (As FESTE) Who, I, sir? Not 115
I, sir. God be wi' you, good Sir Topas. (As SIR TOPAS) Marry, amen . . . (As FESTE) I will, sir, I will.
- MALVOLIO Fool, fool, fool, I say!
- FESTE Alas, sir, be patient. What say you, sir? 120
I am shent for speaking to you.
- MALVOLIO Good fool, help me to some light and some paper; I tell thee I am as well in my wits as any man in Illyria.
