

Mark Scheme (Results)

Summer 2018

Pearson Edexcel Level 1/Level 2 GCSE (9–1) in English Literature (1ET0) Paper 1 Shakespeare and Post-1914 Literature

Edexcel and BTEC Qualifications

Edexcel and BTEC qualifications are awarded by Pearson, the UK's largest awarding body. We provide a wide range of qualifications including academic, vocational, occupational and specific programmes for employers. For further information visit our qualifications websites at www.edexcel.com or www.btec.co.uk. Alternatively, you can get in touch with us using the details on our contact us page at www.edexcel.com/contactus.

Pearson: helping people progress, everywhere

Pearson aspires to be the world's leading learning company. Our aim is to help everyone progress in their lives through education. We believe in every kind of learning, for all kinds of people, wherever they are in the world. We've been involved in education for over 150 years, and by working across 70 countries, in 100 languages, we have built an international reputation for our commitment to high standards and raising achievement through innovation in education. Find out more about how we can help you and your students at: www.pearson.com/uk

Summer 2018 Publications Code 1ET0_01_1806_MS All the material in this publication is copyright © Pearson Education Ltd 2018

General marking guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the last candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the first.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than be penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgment is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification/indicative content will not be exhaustive.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, a senior examiner must be consulted before a mark is given.
- Crossed-out work should be marked unless the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

Marking guidance – specific

- The marking grids have been designed to assess student work holistically. The grids identify the Assessment Objective being targeted by the level descriptors.
- When deciding how to reward an answer, examiners should consult both the indicative content and the associated marking grid(s). When using a levels-based mark scheme, the 'best fit' approach should be used.
- Examiners should first decide which descriptor most closely matches the answer and place it in that level
- The mark awarded within the level will be decided based on the quality of the answer and will be modified according to how securely all bullet points are displayed at that level
- In cases of uneven performance, the points above will still apply. Candidates will be placed in the level that best describes their answer according to the Assessment Objective described in the level. Marks will be awarded towards the top or bottom of that level depending on how they have evidenced each of the descriptor bullet points
- Indicative content is exactly that it consists of factual points that candidates are likely to use to construct their answer. It is possible for an answer to be constructed without mentioning some or all of these points, as long as they provide alternative responses to the indicative content that fulfil the requirements of the question. It is the examiner's responsibility to apply their professional judgment to the candidate's response in determining if the answer fulfils the requirements of the question.

Paper 1 Mark scheme

The table below shows the number of raw marks allocated for each question in this mark scheme.

|  | Assessment Objectives |     |     |     | Total |
|--|-----------------------|-----|-----|-----|-------|
| Component  | AO1                   | AO2 | AO3 | AO4 | marks |
| Component 1:Shakespeare and Post-1914 Literature |                       |     |     |     |       |
| Questions 1a to 6a                                       |                       | 20  |     |     | 20    |
| Questions 1b to 6b                                       | 15                    |     | 5   |     | 20    |
| Question 7-22  | 16                    |     | 16  | 8   | 40    |

| AO1 | Read, understand and respond to texts.   |
|-----|--|
|     | <ul> <li>Students should be able to:</li> <li>maintain a critical style and develop an informed personal response</li> <li>use textual references, including quotations, to support and illustrate interpretations.</li> </ul> |
| AO2 | Analyse the language, form and structure used by a writer to create meanings and effects, using relevant subject terminology where appropriate.  |
| AO3 | Show understanding of the relationships between texts and the contexts in which they were written.   |
| A04 | Use a range of vocabulary and sentence structures for clarity, purpose and effect, with accurate spelling and punctuation.   |

Section A - Shakespeare

| QuestionNumber | Indicative content   |  |  |
|--------------------|--|--|--|
|                    | <ul> <li>Indicative content</li> <li>The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses thatexplore how Shakespeare presents the character of Lady Macbeth.</li> <li>Responses may include: <ul> <li>Lady Macbeth appears to be having a conversation with her husbandwhilst sleepwalking: 'my lord'. She is reliving the murder of Duncan andthe murders committed by Macbeth and his followers: 'The Thane of Fifehad a wife: where is she now?'</li> <li>Lady Macbeth's continual attempts to wash her hands: 'will these handsne'er be clean?', 'Wash your hands', and her obsession with the smell:'Here's the smell of blood still!' mirrors her unsettled and guilty mind</li> <li>short erratic sentences are used by Lady Macbeth to mirror her mentalbreakdown and distress: '- Hell is murky Fie, my lord, fie!'</li> <li>the use of repetition: 'Out', 'Out I say!' reflects Lady Macbeth's horrorand guilt at the murder and the blood she imagines she sees</li> <li>the regular use of exclamations ('O! Oh, oh,') and questions ('a soldier,and afeard?') indicates that Lady Macbeth is carrying a heavy burden ofguilt, which is reflected by the doctor's comment: 'The heart is sorelycharged'</li> <li>language used is from the lexical field of death and murder: 'grave','buried', 'blood', 'Hell', to show why Lady Macbeth is so distressed andtalking in her sleep.</li> </ul> </li> </ul> |  |  |
|                    | Reward all valid points.   |  |  |

| Level   | Mark(20marks) | Descriptor - AO2 Please refer to page 3 (20 marks)  |
|---------|-----------------------|---|
|         | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1 | 1-4                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple and the identification of language, formand structure is minimal.</li> <li>Little evidence of relevant subject terminology.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 2 | 5-8                   | <ul> <li>The response is largely descriptive. There is some comment on the language, form and structure.</li> <li>Limited use of relevant subject terminology to support examples given.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 3 | 9-12                  | <ul> <li>The response shows an understanding of a range of language, form and structure features and links these to their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used to support examples given.</li> </ul>                   |
| Level 4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response is focused and detailed. Analysis of language, form and structure features and their effect on the reader is sustained.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used accurately and appropriately to develop ideas.</li> </ul> |
| Level 5 | 17-20                 | <ul> <li>The response is a cohesive evaluation of the interrelationshipof language, form and structure and their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is integrated and precise.</li> </ul>                               |

| QuestionNumber | Indicative content   |  |  |
|--------------------|--|--|--|
| 1(b)Macbeth    | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider the importance of guilt elsewhere in the play.  |  |  |
|                    | Responses may include:   |  |  |
|                    | Interpretation of the text (AO1):  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Macbeth's guilt takes visual form when he hallucinates that ablood-covered dagger is leading him to murder his King andkinsman, Duncan</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the tormented mental state of Macbeth is reflected afterDuncan's murder when he cannot say 'Amen'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>after arranging Banquo's murder, Macbeth is racked with guiltat the banquet, as he imagines the ghost of Banquo hasreturned to accuse him</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>guilt is reflected throughout the play in the form ofsleeplessness. Macbeth thinks he hears a voice cry 'sleep nomore' and when he does sleep he is tormented by 'terribledreams'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the image of blood-stained hands mentioned by both Macbethand Lady Macbeth, equates with guilt. Macbeth refers to hishands as 'hangman's hands'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>at the end of the play Macbeth admits to Macduff that his `soulis charged with blood', finally accepting his guilt.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | Relationships between text and context (AO3):  |  |  |
|                    | • the murder of a king (regicide) went against the belief in the Divine Right of Kings, which meant that they were appointed by God  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the reference to `hangman's hands' could relate to executions whichwere violent and bloody</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the use of sleeplessness, hallucinations and actions that were out ofcharacter would have been perceived by the audience as a sign of guilt.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | Reward all valid points.   |  |  |
|                    | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from elsewhere in the play, outside of the extract provided. This includes relevant paraphrasing.                       |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(20marks) | DescriptorBullets 1, 2 and 3 – AO1 (15 marks), Bullet 4 – AO3 (5 marks)Please refer to page 3   |  |
|------------|-----------------------|---|--|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level      | 1-4                   | The response is simple with little personal response.   |  |
| 1          |                       | There is little evidence of a critical style.   |  |
|            |                       | Little reference is made to the content or themes of the play.  |  |
|            |                       | There is little awareness of context and little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |  |
| Level2 | 5-8                   | The response may be largely narrative but has some elements ofpersonal response.  |  |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style but it is not always applied securely.   |  |
|            |                       | • Some valid points are made, but without consistent or secure focus.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is some awareness of relevant context and some comment on the relationship between text and context.  |  |
| Level3 | 9-12                  | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation.   |  |
|            |                       | • The response is relevant and focused points are made with support from the text.  |  |
|            |                       | • There is sound comment on relevant context and sound relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.                                     |  |
| Level4 | 13-16                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text.  |  |
|            |                       | • The critical style is sustained, and there is well-developed interpretation.  |  |
|            |                       | • Well-chosen references to the text support a range of effective points.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is sustained comment on relevant context and detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.                                     |  |
| Level5 | 17-20                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text.  |  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation.   |  |
|            |                       | • Discerning references are an integral part of the response, with points made with assurance and full support from the text.                             |  |
|            |                       | • There is excellent understanding of context, and convincing understanding of the relationship between text and context is integrated into the response. |  |

| QuestionNumber  | Indicative content   |
|---------------------|--|
| 2(a) TheTempest | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore how Shakespeare presents the character of Ferdinand.   |
|                     | Responses may include:   |
|                     | • Ferdinand describes the number of women he has 'admired' with the repetition of 'several, illustrating his experience and knowledge of the outside world. The use of the discourse marker 'but' before describing the impact Miranda has had on him, shows how significant she is to him in comparison |
|                     | <ul> <li>the use of alliteration: 'perfect' and 'peerless' emphasises how muchhe admires Miranda. The use of exclamation marks: 'dearest to theworld!' suggests he is falling in love with her</li> </ul>  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Ferdinand uses and repeats personal pronouns to describe himself andMiranda and to show their emotional connection: 'I', 'you – o you'. Healso uses her name to emphasise that she is very important to him</li> </ul>  |
|                     | <ul> <li>iambic pentameter, short sentences and pauses are used byFerdinand: 'I am, in my condition, / A prince', 'a King – I would notso! -' to reflect his emotional state and status when talking to Miranda</li> </ul>   |
|                     | <ul> <li>the reference made to 'heaven', 'earth' and 'witness' could mirror hiscommitment to her</li> </ul>   |
|                     | • the list of three: 'love, prize, honour' emphasises the depth of his affections for Miranda. The lexical field of love and romance similarly illustrate how passionate Ferdinand is: 'my heart fly', 'I profess'.  |
|                     | Reward all valid points.   |

| Level   | Mark(20marks) | Descriptor - AO2 Please refer to page 3 (20 marks)  |
|---------|-----------------------|---|
|         | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1 | 1-4                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple and the identification of language, formand structure is minimal.</li> <li>Little evidence of relevant subject terminology.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 2 | 5-8                   | <ul> <li>The response is largely descriptive. There is some comment on the language, form and structure.</li> <li>Limited use of relevant subject terminology to support examples given.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 3 | 9–12                  | <ul> <li>The response shows an understanding of a range of language, form and structure features and links these to their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used to support examples given.</li> </ul>                   |
| Level 4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response is focused and detailed. Analysis of language, form and structure features and their effect on the reader is sustained.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used accurately and appropriately to develop ideas.</li> </ul> |
| Level 5 | 17-20                 | <ul> <li>The response is a cohesive evaluation of the interrelationship of language, form and structure and their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is integrated and precise.</li> </ul>                                   |

| QuestionNumber  | Indicative content   |
|---------------------|--|
| 2(b) TheTempest | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider the importance of love elsewhere in the play. Responses may include:  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Interpretation of text (AO1):</li> <li>Prospero displays paternal love for Miranda in the way he protects her and brings her up on his own. He calls her his 'cherubim', a heavenly being, and describes her as 'a third of mine own life'</li> </ul>   |
|                     | <ul> <li>Alonso similarly demonstrates paternal love for Ferdinand when hebelieves that his son has drowned. Alonso declares that he would willinglydie: 'lie mudded' in the sea with Ferdinand than to live without him</li> </ul>  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Prospero's treatment of Ariel could be considered a form of love as thespirit is the only character Prospero listens to and takes advice from. Hecalls Ariel his 'brave spirit' and 'my delicate Ariel'</li> </ul>  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Caliban demonstrates his love for the island and uses poetic language todescribe the 'sounds and sweet airs'. This contrasts with the angry andviolent words he chooses when speaking to his captor, Prospero</li> </ul>  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Miranda demonstrates physical love for Ferdinand when she first sees him,describing his 'brave form'. Similarly, Ferdinand is concerned aboutwhether Miranda is a 'maid' and 'virgin' when he first meets her,suggesting it was not necessarily romantic love between them initiallymore a physical attraction</li> </ul> |
|                     | <ul> <li>Prospero's love of his books, which he appreciates `more than hiskingdom', loses him his Dukedom to his brother Antonio.</li> </ul>  |
|                     | Relationships between text and context (AO3):  |
|                     | Ferdinand's concern over Miranda's virginity reflects the necessity for women in Jacobean times to be chaste and pure before marriage  |
|                     | <ul> <li>The Tempest was written during the time of European expansion into the'New World' and the creation of colonies mirroring European ideas; Calibanis exploited and his island taken from him</li> </ul>   |
|                     | <ul> <li>the way Prospero uses his power to arrange the meeting of Ferdinand andMiranda and effectively bring about their marriage, is typical of a father inJacobean times arranging his daughter's future.</li> </ul>  |
|                     | Reward all valid points.   |
|                     | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from elsewhere in the play, outside of the extract provided. This includes relevant paraphrasing.   |

| Level      | Mark(20marks) | DescriptorBullets 1, 2 and 3 – AO1 (15 marks), Bullet 4 – AO3 (5 marks)Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level      | 1-4                   | The response is simple with little personal response.   |
| 1          |                       | There is little evidence of a critical style.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Little reference is made to the content or themes of the play.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | • There is little awareness of context and little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 5-8                   | <ul> <li>The response may be largely narrative but has some elements ofpersonal response.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some evidence of a critical style but it is not always appliedsecurely.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | • Some valid points are made, but without consistent or secure focus.   |
|            |                       | • There is some awareness of relevant context and some comment on the relationship between text and context.  |
| Level3 | 9-12                  | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a soundinterpretation.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The response is relevant and focused points are made with support fromthe text.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is sound comment on relevant context and sound relevantcomment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>               |
| Level4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text.</li> </ul>                                |
|            |                       | • The critical style is sustained, and there is well-developed interpretation.  |
|            |                       | • Well-chosen references to the text support a range of effective points.   |
|            |                       | • There is sustained comment on relevant context and detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.                                     |
| Level5 | 17-20                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding andinterpretation.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | • Discerning references are an integral part of the response, with points made with assurance and full support from the text.                             |
|            |                       | • There is excellent understanding of context, and convincing understanding of the relationship between text and context is integrated into the response. |

| Number               |  |  |  |
|----------------------|--|--|--|
| 3(a)Romeoand | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore how Shakespeare presents the Character of Lord Capulet.  |  |  |
| Juliet               | Responses may include:   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>Lord Capulet initially appears concerned about Tybalt: 'Wherefore stormyou so?' and addresses him as 'kinsman'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>despite Tybalt's protest about Romeo coming uninvited to the party,Lord Capulet appears an agreeable man: 'Content thee', 'let him alone','be patient' and is willing to accept Romeo into his house</li> </ul>                                   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>Lord Capulet uses the personal pronouns 'I' and 'me' and addresseshimself as 'master' to show his position as the head of the family and aman in control. He wishes to be seen as a genial host 'More light','Cheerly my hearts!'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>in contrast to previously calling him 'kinsman', when Lord Capulet beginsto get angry with Tybalt, he calls him by inferior titles: 'goodman boy','saucy boy'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>the use of imperatives and repetition reflects the status Lord Capuletholds and how he does not tolerate a challenge to his position: 'Go to,go to!', 'Be quiet'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>short sentences and rhetorical questions illustrate how Lord Capulet canlose his temper quickly: 'it is my will', 'He shall be endured', 'Am I themaster here, or you?'.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                      | Reward all valid points.   |  |  |
|                      |  |  |  |

| Level   | Mark(20marks) | Descriptor - AO2 Please refer to page 3 (20 marks)  |
|---------|-----------------------|---|
|         | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1 | 1-4                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple and the identification of language, formand structure is minimal.</li> <li>Little evidence of relevant subject terminology.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 2 | 5-8                   | <ul> <li>The response is largely descriptive. There is some comment on the language, form and structure.</li> <li>Limited use of relevant subject terminology to support examples given.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 3 | 9-12                  | <ul> <li>The response shows an understanding of a range of language, form and structure features and links these to their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used to support examples given.</li> </ul>                   |
| Level 4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response is focused and detailed. Analysis of language, form and structure features and their effect on the reader is sustained.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used accurately and appropriately to develop ideas.</li> </ul> |
| Level 5 | 17-20                 | <ul> <li>The response is a cohesive evaluation of the interrelationship of language, form and structure and their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is integrated and precise.</li> </ul>                                   |

| QuestionNumber   | Indicative content  |  |  |
|----------------------|---|--|--|
| 3(b)Romeoand | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider the importance of power elsewhere in the play. Responses may include:  |  |  |
| Juliet               | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>the Prologue introduces the relationship between both families and thepower of violence through the 'ancient grudge', which finally leads to thetragic conclusion</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>both families are controlled by the power and laws of Verona. The Princeholds the legal power and threatens the death penalty for anyone caughtfighting: 'Your lives shall pay the forfeit'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>the love between Romeo and Juliet is presented as a powerful force, onethat has been predicted as an ill-fated relationship by the Chorus: 'star-crossed lovers'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>Friar Lawrence demonstrates his power as a priest when attempting toreconcile the warring families, something no one appears to have thepower to do</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>Lord Capulet uses his patriarchal power when he arranges for Juliet tomarry Paris: 'she will be ruled in all respects by me', and controls when thewedding will take place: 'O' Thursday'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>when Juliet refuses to marry Paris, Lord Capulet illustrates his power ashead of the household by threatening to disown her: 'you shall not housewith me' and to disinherit her.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                      | Relationships between text and context (AO3):   |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>Shakespeare's audience would have associated Italy with powerful familiesand the obsession with status: a place where a strong sense of familyhonour could often lead to feuding and acts of revenge</li> </ul>                                    |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>civil disobedience could be seen as a powerful threat as it could underminethe stability to Elizabethan society</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                      | <ul> <li>patriarchal families were the normal arrangements within households;decisions were made by the father concerning marriage. In upper-classfamilies, children were used as pawns in enriching social and economicpositions of power.</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                      | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                      | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from elsewhere in the play, outside of the extract provided. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level      |       | DescriptorBullets 1, 2 and 3 – AO1 (15 marks), Bullet 4 – AO3 (5 marks)Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-------|---|
|            | 0     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level      | 1-4   | The response is simple with little personal response.   |
| 1          |       | There is little evidence of a critical style.   |
|            |       | Little reference is made to the content or themes of the play.  |
|            |       | There is little awareness of context and little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 5-8   | The response may be largely narrative but has some elements ofpersonal response.  |
|            |       | <ul> <li>There is some evidence of a critical style but it is not always appliedsecurely.</li> </ul>   |
|            |       | • Some valid points are made, but without consistent or secure focus.   |
|            |       | • There is some awareness of relevant context and some comment on the relationship between text and context.  |
| Level3 | 9-12  | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text.   |
|            |       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation.   |
|            |       | • The response is relevant and focused points are made with support from the text.  |
|            |       | • There is sound comment on relevant context and sound relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level4 | 13-16 | The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text.  |
|            |       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained, and there is well-developed interpretation.</li> </ul>  |
|            |       | • Well-chosen references to the text support a range of effective points.   |
|            |       | <ul> <li>There is sustained comment on relevant context and detailedawareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 17-20 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text.  |
|            |       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation.   |
|            |       | • Discerning references are an integral part of the response, with points made with assurance and full support from the text.   |
|            |       | <ul> <li>There is excellent understanding of context, and convincingunderstanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated into the response.</li> </ul> |

| QuestionNumber  | Indicative content  |  |  |
|---------------------|---|--|--|
| 4(a)MuchAdo | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore how Shakespeare presents Hero's feelings about Beatrice.  |  |  |
| AboutNothing    | Responses may include:  |  |  |
| Notring             | <ul> <li>in the 'staged' conversation, which Hero and Ursula want Beatrice tooverhear, Hero appears critical of Beatrice's attitude towards men andhow she always finds fault with them: 'she would spell him backward'.She feels women should respect men and that Beatrice's behaviour andattitude 'cannot be commendable'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>she uses a list of characteristics, many starting with if, to explain theway Beatrice has a negative outlook: 'If low', 'If speaking', 'If silent',suggesting she does not agree with her cousin's attitude</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Hero's exaggerated choice of language is negative: `none', `never',`wrong', to demonstrate how she can see no positive aspect in Beatricewhen it comes to Beatrice's relationships with men</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>after Ursula's apparent criticism of Hero and her 'carping', Hero twiceresponds abruptly with 'No' and Ursula suggests that Hero should notinterfere in Beatrice's life</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Hero appears ruthless in her language through the way she wishes to'empoison' Benedick with 'honest slanders' to stop him falling in lovewith Beatrice</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>the use of a rhetorical question and exaggeration reflects how Heropretends to feel frustrated by Beatrice: 'But who dare tell her so?','press me to death with wit!'.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                     | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |

| Level   | Mark(20marks) | Descriptor - AO2 Please refer to page 3 (20 marks)  |
|---------|-----------------------|---|
|         | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1 | 1-4                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple and the identification of language, formand structure is minimal.</li> <li>Little evidence of relevant subject terminology.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 2 | 5-8                   | <ul> <li>The response is largely descriptive. There is some comment on the language, form and structure.</li> <li>Limited use of relevant subject terminology to support examples given.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 3 | 9-12                  | <ul> <li>The response shows an understanding of a range of language, form and structure features and links these to their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used to support examples given.</li> </ul>                   |
| Level 4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response is focused and detailed. Analysis of language, form and structure features and their effect on the reader is sustained.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used accurately and appropriately to develop ideas.</li> </ul> |
| Level 5 | 17-20                 | <ul> <li>The response is a cohesive evaluation of the interrelationship of language, form and structure and their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is integrated and precise.</li> </ul>                                   |

| QuestionNumber  | Indicative content  |  |  |
|---------------------|---|--|--|
| 4(b)MuchAdo | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider the presentation of women elsewhere in the play.   |  |  |
| About               | Responses may include:  |  |  |
| Nothing             | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Benedick voices the traditional patriarchal ideology through hiscomment on a woman's speech: 'sharp tongues and proneness tosexual lightness'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Beatrice, when she overhears Hero describing her faults, is surprised athow she is perceived by others: 'Stand I condemned for pride andscorn?'. She rebels against the unequal status of women, wishing shewere a man</li> </ul>                                 |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Hero, in contrast to Beatrice, is naïve, chaste and quiet, a youngwoman representative of Renaissance values</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>in arrangements about marriage, Hero is passive and willingly acceptsthe decisions made about her future</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>the male characters continually put the female characters down.</li> <li>Leonato orders Hero to be 'ruled by your father'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Margaret, Hero's gentlewoman, is used as a contrasting character tothe higher-class women. She unknowingly helps Borachio and Don Johndeceive Claudio; she has a lover and tells rude jokes.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                     | Relationships between text and context (AO3):   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Messina was a male-dominated society where honour and reputationwere different for men and women. For men honour was based onsuccess, reputation and class, whilst for women it was based onvirginity and chaste behaviour</li> </ul>                             |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>marriage was more about status than affection. Claudio appears to caremore about gaining favour with Leonato rather than marrying for love.Leonato does not immediately defend Hero because he is moreconcerned about his own status and family honour</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>a truthful and faithful marriage ensured stability and prosperity, whichwas seen as a reflection of the relationship between a monarch and thepeople.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                     | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from elsewhere in the play, outside of the extract provided. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(20marks) | DescriptorBullets 1, 2 and 3 – AO1 (15 marks), Bullet 4 – AO3 (5 marks)Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level      | 1-4                   | The response is simple with little personal response.   |
| 1          |                       | There is little evidence of a critical style.   |
|            |                       | • Little reference is made to the content or themes of the play.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is little awareness of context and little comment on therelationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level2 | 5-8                   | The response may be largely narrative but has some elements ofpersonal response.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some evidence of a critical style but it is not always appliedsecurely.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | • Some valid points are made, but without consistent or secure focus.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some awareness of relevant context and some comment onthe relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>  |
| Level3 | 9–12                  | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The response is relevant and focused points are made with supportfrom the text.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is sound comment on relevant context and sound relevantcomment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 13-16                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained, and there is well-developed interpretation.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Well-chosen references to the text support a range of effective points.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is sustained comment on relevant context and detailedawareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 17–20                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understandingand interpretation.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Discerning references are an integral part of the response, withpoints made with assurance and full support from the text.</li> </ul>                                 |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is excellent understanding of context, and convincingunderstanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated into the response.</li> </ul> |

| QuestionNumber       | Indicative content  |  |  |
|--------------------------|---|--|--|
| 5(a)TwelfthNight | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore how Shakespeare presents Olivia's reactions.  |  |  |
| Night                    | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Olivia is completely mystified by Malvolio's appearance, with his yellow'cross-gartered' stockings and with his unusual behaviour as he quotesfrom the letter. She continually asks questions to find out what is troublinghim: 'What is the matter with thee?', 'What sayest thou?'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Olivia's responses create humour and an element of ambiguity. When shesays 'Wilt thou go to bed, Malvolio?' he completely misunderstands hermeaning and intentions and is quick to respond in the positive</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>confusion is emphasised by the way Olivia repeats what Malvolio says toshow that she does not understand that he is quoting from the letter hebelieves she has sent to him: 'yellow stockings!', 'Cross-gartered!'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Olivia uses exclamations and religious language to show her bewilderment:'God comfort thee!', 'Ha!', 'Heaven restore thee!' This illustrates how Oliviathinks Malvolio is ill or possessed in some way and she calls upon God tohelp him</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>short sentences and references to Malvolio's physical reactions illustratehow uncomfortable Olivia feels with Malvolio's behaviour: 'Why dost thousmile so, and kiss thy hand so oft?'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>the final declarative sentence, 'this is very midsummer madness', reflectshow Olivia thinks Malvolio has been affected by the time of year andtherefore must be mad.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |

| Level   | Mark(20marks) | Descriptor - AO2 Please refer to page 3 (20 marks)  |
|---------|-----------------------|---|
|         | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1 | 1-4                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple and the identification of language, formand structure is minimal.</li> <li>Little evidence of relevant subject terminology.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 2 | 5-8                   | <ul> <li>The response is largely descriptive. There is some comment on the language, form and structure.</li> <li>Limited use of relevant subject terminology to support examples given.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 3 | 9-12                  | <ul> <li>The response shows an understanding of a range of language, form and structure features and links these to their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used to support examples given.</li> </ul>                   |
| Level 4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response is focused and detailed. Analysis of language, form and structure features and their effect on the reader is sustained.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used accurately and appropriately to develop ideas.</li> </ul> |
| Level 5 | 17-20                 | <ul> <li>The response is a cohesive evaluation of the interrelationship of language, form and structure and their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is integrated and precise.</li> </ul>                                   |

| QuestionNumber | Indicative content  |  |  |
|--------------------|---|--|--|
| 5(b)Twelfth    | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider the importance of madness elsewhere in the play.   |  |  |
| Night              | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                    | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the words `mad', `madness' and `madman' are repeatedly used throughout theplay to describe various people and situations</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | • Olivia asks what a drunken man is like and Feste describes drunkenness as a kind of madness: 'like a drowned man and a madman'  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>madness in Illyria is considered a widespread disease and Sebastian wonders'are all the people mad?'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the cure for Malvolio's midsummer madness is to lock him in a dark cell.Malvolio pleads with 'Sir Topas' not to think him mad, whilst Feste tauntsMalvolio by insisting he is mad</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Olivia refers to her obsession and love for Cesario as suffering from a 'merrymadness' and thinks that she, like Malvolio, is going mad</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | • the confusion that Viola's disguise causes starts to make Antonio seem mad to those around him.   |  |  |
|                    | Relationships between text and context (AO3):   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>madness was often linked to illness and doctors associated the effects ofmental illness as a reason for a change in emotions and behaviour. This may beseen as a reason for Malvolio's reaction to the letter and Olivia's love forCesario</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                    | • the influence of religion meant that people thought a mad patient was possessed by an evil spirit. It was said to be a punishment from God  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the title of the play 'Twelfth Night' represented the period for 'Yuletide revels',a time when it was traditional to create confusion and madness by playingtricks on other people.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                    | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from elsewhere in the play, outside of the extract provided. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(20marks) | DescriptorBullets 1, 2 and 3 – AO1 (15 marks), Bullet 4 – AO3 (5 marks)Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level      | 1-4                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple with little personal response.</li> </ul>   |
| 1          |                       | There is little evidence of a critical style.   |
|            |                       | • Little reference is made to the content or themes of the play.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is little awareness of context and little comment on therelationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level2 | 5-8                   | The response may be largely narrative but has some elements ofpersonal response.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some evidence of a critical style but it is not always appliedsecurely.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | • Some valid points are made, but without consistent or secure focus.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some awareness of relevant context and some comment onthe relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>  |
| Level3 | 9–12                  | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The response is relevant and focused points are made with supportfrom the text.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is sound comment on relevant context and sound relevantcomment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained, and there is well-developed interpretation.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Well-chosen references to the text support a range of effective points.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is sustained comment on relevant context and detailedawareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 17–20                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understandingand interpretation.</li> </ul>   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Discerning references are an integral part of the response, withpoints made with assurance and full support from the text.</li> </ul>                                 |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is excellent understanding of context, and convincingunderstanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated into the response.</li> </ul> |

| QuestionNumber                | Indicative content  |  |  |
|-----------------------------------|---|--|--|
| 6(a) TheMerchantof Venice | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore how Shakespeare presents the relationship between Nerissa and Gratiano.   |  |  |
| of venice                         | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Gratiano appears confused and tries to plead with Nerissa: 'I swear youdo me Wrong!' He cannot understand why she is challenging him aboutthe ring. He believes what he did was right: 'In faith'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Nerissa is pretending to be upset and appears to be taking whathappened 'so much at heart', thereby creating dramatic irony. Gratianoregrets having given the ring to 'the judge's clerk' and upsettingNerissa. Nerissa repeats 'you' and 'your' numerous times to soundaccusatory</li> </ul>                          |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>the relationship between Gratiano and Nerissa is mocked by Portiausing short sentences and an exclamation: 'A quarrel, ho – already!'.They are arguing early in their relationship</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>in contrast to his earlier concern, the language used by Gratianobecomes dismissive and a little insensitive towards Nerissa. Hedescribes the ring as 'paltry' and uses the simile to compare theinscription to 'cutler's poetry', suggesting it is cheap and worthless</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>the use of short sentences by both Gratiano and Nerissa, conveys theirritation they are feeling: 'No, God's my judge', 'I gave it to a youth!a little scrubbed boy'. Nerissa's use of a question: 'What talk you of theposy or the value?' demonstrates her apparent anger at Gratiano for hisinsensitivity</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Portia takes the side of Nerissa in this elaborate joke and accusesGratiano of being 'to blame' for what has happened. She considers himheartless at giving the 'gift' away so easily when Gratiano and Nerissahad sworn 'oaths' to each other.</li> <li>Reward all valid points.</li> </ul>                                |  |  |

| Level   | Mark(20marks) | Descriptor - AO2 Please refer to page 3 (20 marks)  |
|---------|-----------------------|---|
|         | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1 | 1-4                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple and the identification of language, formand structure is minimal.</li> <li>Little evidence of relevant subject terminology.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 2 | 5-8                   | <ul> <li>The response is largely descriptive. There is some comment on the language, form and structure.</li> <li>Limited use of relevant subject terminology to support examples given.</li> </ul>   |
| Level 3 | 9–12                  | <ul> <li>The response shows an understanding of a range of language, form and structure features and links these to their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used to support examples given.</li> </ul>                   |
| Level 4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response is focused and detailed. Analysis of language, form and structure features and their effect on the reader is sustained.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is used accurately and appropriately to develop ideas.</li> </ul> |
| Level 5 | 17-20                 | <ul> <li>The response is a cohesive evaluation of the interrelationship of language, form and structure and their effect on the reader.</li> <li>Relevant subject terminology is integrated and precise.</li> </ul>                                   |

| QuestionNumber                | Indicative content   |  |  |
|-----------------------------------|--|--|--|
| 6(b) TheMerchantof Venice | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider the importance of deception elsewhere in the play.  |  |  |
| or vernee                         | Responses may include:   |  |  |
|                                   | Interpretation of text (AO1):  |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Bassanio borrows money from Antonio and deceives Portia intobelieving he is rich so that she will marry him: 'had I but the means'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Shylock deceives everyone into thinking he is a generous man: 'I wouldbe friends with you', 'supply your present wants'; he appears to be kindby offering the money even though he hates Antonio</li> </ul>                                     |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Lancelot Gobbo teases and deceives his blind father, Old Gobbo, bypretending he is not his son: 'I will try confusions with him'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Portia and Nerissa disguise themselves as Balthazar, a promising younglawyer, and his clerk in order to defend Antonio at the trial and therebydeceive both the court and their husbands: 'we are both accoutred likeyoung men'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Portia and Nerissa use their disguises to test Gratiano and Bassanio byasking for their rings in payment for successfully defending Antonio andbringing about Shylock's downfall: 'I'll take this ring from you'</li> </ul>                     |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>to cover up her deceit at being disguised as a lawyer, Portia pretendsthat she has been visiting 'holy crosses' with a holy man and her maid,Nerissa.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                                   | Relationship between text and context (AO3):   |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Venice was a patriarchal society with very rigid laws and legal system.</li> <li>Portia and Nerissa dress as men to enable them to appear in court asAntonio's legal representatives</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>female characters were traditionally played by men or boys inShakespearean plays as women were not allowed to act on the stage,increasing the confusion and deception</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                                   | <ul> <li>Shakespeare makes Shylock seem more human by showing that hisdeception of Antonio and Bassanio is born of the mistreatment he hassuffered in a Christian society.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                                   | Reward all valid points.   |  |  |
|                                   | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from elsewhere in the play, outside of the extract provided. This includes relevant paraphrasing.   |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(20marks) | DescriptorBullets 1, 2 and 3 – AO1 (15 marks), Bullet 4 – AO3 (5 marks)Please refer to page 3   |  |  |
|------------|-----------------------|---|--|--|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |  |  |
| Level      | 1-4                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple with little personal response.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
| 1          |                       | There is little evidence of a critical style.   |  |  |
|            |                       | • Little reference is made to the content or themes of the play.  |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is little awareness of context and little comment on therelationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
| Level2 | 5-8                   | The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response.   |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some evidence of a critical style but it is not always appliedsecurely.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|            |                       | • Some valid points are made, but without consistent or secure focus.   |  |  |
|            |                       | • There is some awareness of relevant context and some comment on the relationship between text and context.  |  |  |
| Level3 | 9–12                  | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text.   |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing asound interpretation.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|            |                       | • The response is relevant and focused points are made with support from the text.  |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is sound comment on relevant context and sound relevantcomment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
| Level4 | 13-16                 | <ul> <li>The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained, and there is well-developed interpretation.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Well-chosen references to the text support a range of effective points.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is sustained comment on relevant context and detailedawareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
| Level5 | 17-20                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text.  |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understandingand interpretation.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Discerning references are an integral part of the response, withpoints made with assurance and full support from the text.</li> </ul>                                 |  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is excellent understanding of context, and convincingunderstanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated into the response.</li> </ul> |  |  |

SECTION B: Post-1914 Literature

British Play

| Question                     | Indicative content   |  |  |
|------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Number7. AnInspector | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore the significance of money in An Inspector Calls .   |  |  |
| Calls                        | Responses may include:   |  |  |
|                              | Interpretation of text (AO1):  |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>the initial description of the Birlings' house is one of privilege: `cigars',</li> <li>`champagne', `port', `evening dress', presenting a sense of status and wealth</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>Mrs Birling is portrayed as an upper-class woman who lives a life of financialsecurity and power. She uses her power on the Brumley Women's CharityOrganisation to refuse money and assistance to Eva/Daisy. Her marriage toArthur Birling reflects the union of upper-class heritage and new money</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                              | • the workers at Mr Birling's factory go on strike for more money. Arthur Birling dismisses their demands: 'We were paying the usual rates'; he feels justified in sacking Eva/Daisy as a ring-leader. As a working-class woman, a job was crucial for her survival as there were very few options available to her                    |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>Arthur Birling is more concerned about the financial state of his business thanthe death of a young woman. He wants to hide the fact that Eric stole money:`I've got to cover this up as soon as I can' and would give `thousands' to stopEva/Daisy's death from impacting on his family</li> </ul>            |  |  |
|                              | • Sheila's engagement to Gerald is financially beneficial to Birling, uniting the two family businesses. Sheila has an account at Milwards, reflecting the financial status of the family. As an important and wealthy customer, Sheila is able to have Eva/Daisy sacked   |  |  |
|                              | • Gerald uses his money and position to make Eva/Daisy his mistress and insistson her moving into his friend's rooms, financially supporting her: 'I made hertake some money'.   |  |  |
|                              | Relationship between text and context (AO3):   |  |  |
|                              | • the social differences due to money are explored by Priestley. The Birlings have the comfort of a large house with servants and an account at a store in contrast to Eva/Daisy who has to turn to a charity for financial support  |  |  |
|                              | • Gerald reflects the outlook of many wealthy men towards women within a male-dominated society, exposing pre-1914 double standards. The way Gerald keepsEva/Daisy as a mistress illustrates the differences in gender, money and class  |  |  |
|                              | the play demonstrates the corruption implicit within a capitalist economy in   |  |  |

| which wealth, status and influence are concentrated in a small portion of the population. The few wealthy people at the top maintain the social hierarchy in order to retain their high position and power. |
|---|
| Reward all valid points.Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use shortquotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.                             |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | DescriptorBullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16marks) Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | • The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response; there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |
|            |                       | Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |                       | • The critical style is sustained and there is well-developed interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.                                       |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme |   |  |
|------------|-----------------|---|--|
| Use for AL | L Questic       | ons in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel)  |  |
| Level      | Mark            |   |  |
|            | 0               | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2             | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5             | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8             | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| Question                    | Indicative content  |  |  |
|-----------------------------|---|--|--|
| Number                      |   |  |  |
| 8. AnInspectorCalls | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider how MrArthur Birling is important in the play.   |  |  |
|                             | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                             | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>Arthur Birling is important as he is the head of the Birling family who arecentral to the play. The opening stage directions describe Arthur Birling, awealthy and successful businessman, with a wife who is his 'social superior'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>he is concerned with his status and refers to his role as a 'magistrate' andimpending knighthood, to try to intimidate Inspector Goole. Arthur Birling isa capitalist and right-wing in his political views. He believes that he and hiswife uphold the correct social values</li> </ul>      |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>the engagement between Gerald and Sheila is viewed by Arthur Birling asmore of a benefit to his business, enabling the Birling and Croft companiesto merge, rather than a marriage based on love: 'now you've brought ustogether'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>Arthur Birling ironically makes incorrect judgements about the future whichmakes him an unreliable and pompous character. He is optimistic for thefuture and confident that there will not be a war or political unrest and thatthe Titanic is 'unsinkable, absolutely unsinkable'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>Arthur Birling is a ruthless employer; he views his employees as cheaplabour, believing they should be grateful to have a job and that their rightsare not a matter for discussion. He feels justified in sacking Eva/Daisy andbegins the tragic chain of events</li> </ul>                   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>throughout the Inspector's investigations, Arthur Birling's selfishness getsthe better of him and he worries about how the press will view him. At theend of the play he still refuses to admit his responsibility for his part inEva/Daisy's death.</li> </ul>                               |  |  |
|                             | Relationship between text and context (AO3):  |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>set in a patriarchal time, many middle and upper-class womenmarried to enhance or maintain the family's social standing andpower; Sheila's marriage to Gerald would benefit the Birlings'business position</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>Arthur Birling embodies the antithesis of Priestley's philosophy and istherefore designed as a caricature of everything that Priestleydisliked about capitalism</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>the play takes place before the First World War and Priestley conveysthe ignorant attitudes of men like Arthur Birling about the future and</li> </ul>  |  |  |

| the unrest throughout Europe.  |
|--|
| Reward all valid points.   |
| Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing. |

| 0No rewardable material.Level11-6The response is simple with little personal response and littlerelevant supporting reference to the text.   | Level | Mark(32marks) | 2 Bullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16             |  |
|--|-------|-----------------------|--|--|
| 1relevant supporting reference to the text.1relevant supporting reference to the text.2There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.2Ittle awareness of relevant contexts is shown.2There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.2There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.2There is some ender on the relationship between text and context.2There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.3There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.3I3-193There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.4Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.5There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.420-264The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.4Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.5There is an assured personal response and thorough interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.4Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.5The relical style is sustained and there is well-developed interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.6Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.7The re is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text an  |       | 0                     | No rewardable material.  |  |
| Level320-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.Level220-26The response has a developed personal response has a developed personal response to the text with well-chosen references.Level313-19The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related tothe text with focused supporting textual references.Level   |       | 1-6                   |  |  |
| Level27-12There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.Level27-12• The response may be largely narrative but has some elements ofpersonal response, there is some reference to the text withoutconsistent or secure focus.• There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some referenceto the text without consistent or secure focus.• Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.• There is some comment on the relationship between text andcontext.Level313-19• The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related tothe text with focused supporting textual references.• Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.• There is relevant comment on the relationship between text andcontext.Level420-26• The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text.• There riscal style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references tothe text.Level420-26• The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.• The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.• Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.• There is an assured personal response, showing a high level ofengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to theengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the |       |                       | ,                                  |  |
| Level27-12The response may be largely narrative but has some elements ofpersonal response, there is some reference to the text withoutconsistent or secure focus.There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some referenceto the text without consistent or secure focus.There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some referenceto the text without consistent or secure focus.Level313-19The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related tothe text with focused supporting textual references.There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing asound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.There is relevant comment on the relationship between text andcontext.Level420-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text andcontext.Level527-32There is an assured personal response, showing a high level ofengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to theengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the   |       |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.                          |  |
| 2personal response, there is some reference to the text withoutconsistent or secure focus.•There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some referenceto the text without consistent or secure focus.•Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.•There is some comment on the relationship between text andcontext.Level13-19•3The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related tothe text with focused supporting textual references.•There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing asound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.•Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.•There is relevant comment on the relationship between text andcontext.Level20-26•The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.•The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.•Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.•The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.•Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.•There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text andcontext.•The ritical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.•There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text andcontext.•There is an assured per  |       |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.  |  |
| Level20-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text.Level20-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text.Level20-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text.Level20-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text.Level20-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.Level27-32There is an assured personal response, showing a high level ofengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the  |       | 7-12                  | personal response, there is some reference to the text without           |  |
| Level313-19• There is some comment on the relationship between text andcontext.Level313-19• The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related tothe text with focused supporting textual references.• There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing asound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.• Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.• There is relevant comment on the relationship between text andcontext.Level420-26• The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.• The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.• Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.• There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text andcontext.Level527-32• There is an assured personal response, showing a high level ofengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the  |       |                       |  |  |
| Level313-19The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related tothe text with focused supporting textual references.3There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing asound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.3Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.4There is relevant comment on the relationship between text andcontext.420-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.4The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.5Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.4The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.6There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text andcontext.6There is an assured personal response, showing a high level ofengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the   |       |                       | <ul> <li>Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.</li> </ul>        |  |
| <ul> <li>3 the text with focused supporting textual references.</li> <li>There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.</li> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> <li>20-26</li> <li>The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.</li> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developed interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> <li>Level 27-32</li> <li>There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the</li> </ul>  |       |                       |  |  |
| Sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.There is relevant comment on the relationship between text andcontext.Level420-2620-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text andcontext.Level527-32There is an assured personal response, showing a high level ofengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the   |       | 13-19                 |  |  |
| <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> <li>Level 4</li> <li>20-26</li> <li>The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.</li> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developed interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> <li>Level 5</li> <li>27-32</li> <li>There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the</li> </ul>  |       |                       |  |  |
| Level420-26The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.•The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.•Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.•There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text andcontext.Level527-32••There is an assured personal response, showing a high level ofengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the   |       |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>       |  |
| <ul> <li>engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.</li> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developed interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> <li>Level 27-32</li> <li>There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the</li> </ul>  |       |                       | •  |  |
| <ul> <li>interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> <li>Level 27-32</li> <li>There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the</li> </ul>  |       | 20-26                 | engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to     |  |
| <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> <li>Level 27-32</li> <li>There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the</li> </ul>   |       |                       |  |  |
| Level27-32• There is an assured personal response, showing a high level ofengagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the  |       |                       | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>   |  |
| 5 engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the  |       |                       |  |  |
|  |       | 27-32                 |  |  |
| • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.   |       |                       |  |  |
| The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.   |       |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul> |  |
| Understanding of the relationship between text and context is integrated convincingly into the response.   |       |                       |  |  |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber       | Indicative content  |  |  |
|--------------------------|---|--|--|
| 9.Hobson'sChoice | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore how responsibility is important in Hobson's Choice .   |  |  |
| Choice                   | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                          | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Hobson is the eponymous hero of the play and he should be responsiblefor running the business and looking after his three daughters</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Maggie takes on the responsibility of running the shop due to her father'sheavy drinking. Maggie has to plan his life for him: 'One o'clock dinner,father'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Although, as their father, Hobson should be responsible for Alice andVickey, Maggie acts like a mother to her sisters. She takes responsibilityfor arranging their marriages</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Maggie sees it as her responsibility to educate and encourage Willie to setup his own business: 'You're your own master'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Willie becomes a confident, responsible and successful businessman ableto stand up to Hobson: 'I'll tell you this, Mr Hobson'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Maggie and Willie take on the responsibility of looking after Hobson oncondition that they run the business. Hobson is given no choice whenWillie insists that the shop is renamed 'Mossop and Hobson'.</li> </ul>                         |  |  |
|                          | Relationship between text and context (AO3):  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>the play is set during a time when the home was run by women, althoughmen were head of the family. Maggie as the eldest daughter takes on hermother's role</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>traditional gender and social roles were beginning to be challenged at thistime. This is seen through Willie and Maggie who choose to marry andwork as a team, taking on the responsibility of running a businesstogether</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                          | <ul> <li>Hobson's excessive drinking was reflective of inner city life duringVictorian society. The abuse of alcohol had a serious impact on people'shealth and on their ability to run businesses or maintain a normal familylife.</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                          | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                          | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | DescriptorBullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16marks) Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | • The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |
|            |                       | Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber        | Indicative content   |  |  |
|---------------------------|--|--|--|
| 10.Hobson'sChoice | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explain the significance of Alice and Vickey in the play.  |  |  |
|                           | Responses may include:   |  |  |
|                           | Interpretation of text (AO1):  |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>Alice and Vickey are both controlled by their cruel father, Henry HoratioHobson, who expects them to do what he says: 'I'm talking now, andyou're listening'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>Alice is quite bigoted about Maggie marrying Willie: 'what you do touchesus'. She sees Willie as the 'boot hand'. She thinks Maggie's marriage willprevent her from marrying Albert Prosser</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>Vickey also sees herself as being above others. When Maggie instructs herto kiss Willie she protests. She tries to make excuses about attendingMaggie and Willie's wedding as she thinks 'it's asking us to approve'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>when Maggie uses a brass ring from the shop as a wedding ring, both Aliceand Vickey are shocked. Alice says she would rather 'stay single', whilstVickey would only marry if she could 'start properly'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>both Alice and Vickey look to Maggie for guidance, decision-making andrunning the business: 'Oh, dear! What would Miss Maggie have told you todo?' They even rely on Maggie organising their marriages for them</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>when Hobson is advised by the doctor to have one of his daughters lookafter him, both Alice and Vickey selfishly object to him living with them.They are more concerned with his money and how much Hobson is worth:'do you mean to tell me father isn't rich?'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                           | Relationship between text and context (AO3):   |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>Alice and Vickey are typical women of the time in which the play is set.Men were widely assumed to be master of the house and business, whilstwomen were housewives and mothers</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>the attitudes of Alice and Vickey to Willie, the employee, reflected the classdivide between middle-class and working-class society</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                           | <ul> <li>despite women wanting more equality in their roles, marriage was stillseen as an essential part of a woman's life. Alice and Vickey conform tothis social expectation.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                           | Reward all valid points.   |  |  |
|                           | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.   |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | Bullets 1 and 2 – AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16  |  |
|------------|-----------------------|--|--|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.  |  |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | • The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.   |  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.  |  |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.  |  |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.            |  |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.   |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.</li> </ul>  |  |
|            |                       | • There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.  |  |
| Level3 | 13–19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                                     |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>   |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>  |  |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | <ul> <li>The response has a developed personal response and thoroughengagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references tothe text.</li> </ul> |  |
|            |                       | • The critical style is sustained and there is well-developed interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>   |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>  |  |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                             |  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                           |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>   |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                                       |  |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber    | Indicative content  |  |  |
|-----------------------|---|--|--|
| 11. BloodBrothers | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider how Mrs Lyons develops throughout the play.  |  |  |
|                       | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                       | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>at the start, Mrs Lyons is a lonely and rather cold middle-classhousewife whose husband is frequently away on business. She and herhusband are unable to have children: 'I wanted to adopt' and it is thisdesire for children that leads her to acquiring Edward from MrsJohnstone</li> </ul>                |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>she is a self-centred woman who uses others for her own gain. Shemanipulates Mrs Johnstone into giving up Edward, playing on MrsJohnstone's superstitions and lack of education. Once she has achievedher aim, she quickly dismisses Mrs Johnstone: 'it would be better if youleft'</li> </ul>               |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>when she adopts Edward, she becomes an over-protective and anxiousmother, constantly trying to keep him in the house or garden and awayfrom making friends with Mickey</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>when Mrs Lyons discovers that Mickey and Edward have become bestfriends, she is desperate to keep them apart as she is paranoid that hewill discover the truth. She persuades her husband to move to thecountry, blaming it on her 'health'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>her superstition, paranoia and obsession increase, leading her tobelieve Mrs Johnstone is following her: 'Wherever I go you'll be justbehind me'. She tries to bribe Mrs Johnstone to move away andbecomes more extreme when she resorts to threatening her with aknife and calling her a 'witch'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>at the end of the play Mrs Lyons becomes more vindictive. WhenEdward has an affair with Linda, Mrs Lyons deliberately tells Mickey,knowing it will cause trouble.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                       | Relationship between text and context (AO3):  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Mrs Lyons reflects a divided society; she comes from a middle-classbackground with all its benefits, in contrast to Mrs Johnstone who isfrom a working-class family with its challenges and problems</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Russell uses the play to show the effects of materialism on people'slives. Mrs Lyons' wealthy existence fails to bring her contentment andhappiness</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>much of the superstition in the play revolves around the disparity withinthe class system as represented by Mrs Lyons and Mrs Johnstone,</li> </ul>   |  |  |

|  | initially suggesting that the lower classes are more superstitious.   |
|--|---|
|  | Reward all valid points.  |
|  | Examiners must be aware that different versions of the playare available, each offering different endings.Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or useshort quotations from the text (from any version of the play). This includesrelevant paraphrasing. |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | DescriptorBullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16marks) Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | • The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber    | Indicative content   |
|-----------------------|--|
| 12. BloodBrothers | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explain the significance of friendship in Blood Brothers . Responses may include:   |
|                       | <ul> <li>Interpretation of text (AO1):</li> <li>the friendship between Edward and Mickey is strong near the start of the play: 'I will always defend my brother'. They make a blood pact to remain friends despite coming from different social backgrounds</li> </ul>   |
|                       | <ul> <li>Mickey and Edward are educated differently, which leads to them followingdifferent lifestyles and causing a breakdown in their friendship. Edward israised in a middle-class home and is educated at a private school; he feelsrestricted and this is one of the reasons he likes his friendship with Mickey.He enjoys Mickey's liveliness, bad language and risky games</li> </ul> |
|                       | <ul> <li>both Mrs Lyons and Mrs Johnstone try to prevent Mickey's and Edward'sfriendship for fear of them finding out that they are brothers: 'Don't youever come round here again'. Mrs Lyons forces her husband to move thefamily away to prevent Edward and Mickey being friends</li> </ul>  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Linda is a close friend of Mickey and Edward and joins in with their games,often acting as the ring leader: 'let's throw some stones through themwindows'. When Mickey becomes addicted to drugs she is very supportiveand encourages him to give them up</li> </ul>   |
|                       | • Edward's relationship with Linda finally destroys their friendship and results in tragedy: 'Friends! I could kill you. We were friends, weren't we?'.  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Relationship between text and context (AO3):</li> <li>through the friendship of Mickey and Edward, Russell shows that children do not make judgements of each other even if they come from different social backgrounds</li> </ul>  |
|                       | <ul> <li>the breakdown in the friendship between Edward and Mickey revolvesaround the disparity between those that have money and opportunities andthose that do not; Mickey, despite his good character and hard work, ismainly unemployed and constantly in debt</li> </ul>   |
|                       | <ul> <li>differences in educational opportunities, where some would benefit fromprivate education, could cause barriers between friends.</li> </ul>   |
|                       | Reward all valid points.   |
|                       | Examiners must be aware that different versions of the play are available, each offering different endings.  |
|                       | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text (from any version of the play). This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |

| Level   | Mark(32marks) | DescriptorBullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16marks) Please refer to page 3   |
|---------|-----------------------|---|
|         | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1 | 1-6                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple with little personal response and little relevantsupporting reference to the text.</li> </ul>                          |
|         |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|         |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|         |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level 2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|         |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|         |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|         |                       | • There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level 3 | 13–19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|         |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |
|         |                       | Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|         |                       | There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level 4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|         |                       | • The critical style is sustained and there is well-developed interpretation with well-chosen references to the text.                                       |
|         |                       | Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|         |                       | There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level 5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|         |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber | Indicative content   |  |  |
|--------------------|--|--|--|
| 13.Journey's   | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that show how life in the trenches is presented in Journey's End . Responses may include:  |  |  |
| End                | <ul> <li>Interpretation of text (AO1):</li> <li>the trenches show how the officers and men within the battalion workand live together. They are initially described as having `not a sound ora soul yet thousands of Germans were waiting', to emphasise howtense life was for the men</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>escapism is used by the officers to alleviate the boredom: Osborne inhis citing of Alice in Wonderland, a fictitious place where nothing makessense; Hardy with his singing and Trotter with his time chart</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the description of the trenches: rats, earwigs, mud, lice all present aharsh and squalid environment, showing how the men had to surviveunder the most extreme conditions. It was important that the men gotalong: 'shall we get on together?'</li> </ul>                                |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>passing the time was a major part of trench life whilst waiting to goover the top. Trotter spends time talking about his gardening andshares memories of home with Osborne</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>humour is used in the trenches to alleviate the horrors of war. Masondescribes the food and how poor the rations were: 'smells like liverbut it 'asn't got that smooth, wet look' and Osborne jokes about the'dirt' in the tea when the dugout gets blown up</li> </ul>                  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>whilst others try to escape the experience of trench life, Stanhope, who is the commanding officer, turns to alcohol to alleviate the horrors.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | Relationship between text and context (AO3):   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the condition of the trenches and the endless waiting around allcontribute to the image of war that Sherriff knew would be familiar tomany of the audience at the time</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the play explores how men of all social classes and ranks had to livetogether in the trenches and cope with the pressures of poor conditionsand rations</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the play illustrates the social barriers of class within the trenches, byjuxtaposing the upper-class officers with working-class men likeTrotter, Mason and the regular soldiers.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | Reward all valid points.   |  |  |
|                    | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.   |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32 | DescriptorBullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16  |
|------------|-------------|---|
|            | marks)      | marks) Please refer to page 3   |
|            | 0           | No rewardable material.   |
| Level1 | 1-6         | • The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |             | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |             | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |             | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7-12        | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |             | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |             | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |             | • There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level3 | 13-19       | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |             | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |
|            |             | Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|            |             | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 20-26       | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |             | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |
|            |             | Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|            |             | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 27-32       | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |             | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |             | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|            |             | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber | Indicative content  |  |  |
|--------------------|---|--|--|
| 14.Journey's   | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore the importance of Stanhope in Journey's End. Responses may include:  |  |  |
| End                | <ul> <li>Interpretation of text (AO1):</li> <li>Stanhope is introduced as a heavy drinker at the start of the play, through the conversation between Osborne and Hardy: 'Drinking like a fish'. At the age of twenty-one he is a Captain, leading a company of men, and is an experienced soldier who has won a Military Cross for his bravery at the battle of Vimy Ridge</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>despite his 'dark shadows under his eyes' reflecting the harrowingexperience war has had on him, he maintains high standards and sets agood example. He has 'well cared for' uniform and 'brushed hair',showing how hygiene and tidiness are important to him. He complainsabout the mess the trenches are left in by the soldiers</li> </ul>            |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Stanhope reflects class status within the army: he has had a public-school education typical of the officer class. He is considered a 'hero' byRaleigh, who went to the same school. Stanhope inspires great loyaltyfrom his men</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Stanhope is engaged to Raleigh's sister and resents Raleigh's presencein his company as he fears Raleigh will tell Madge about his drinking.His relationship with Madge presents a caring side to Stanhope when hetalks tenderly about her</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>despite his good character, war reveals Stanhope has a darker sidewhen he threatens to shoot Hibbert, who he sees as a 'coward'. He alsoforces Raleigh to hand over his letter to Madge and is angry whenRaleigh eats with the men and not the officers</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>in contrast, he is also presented as being very human. In the closingscene of the play, Stanhope shows intense humanity as he comfortsthe dying Raleigh.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Relationship between text and context (AO3):</li> <li>Stanhope represents the characteristics cultivated in young men through the public schools at the time and how leadership qualities were important in serving officers</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the play illustrates the close relationships the men formed in thetrenches and how they relied on each other for emotional support.Stanhope relies on Osborne for his support and guidance</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | • the play also explores how men coped with the extreme fear that never went away: a fear of sudden death and of the intense horrors of the front line; for Stanhope, it manifested itself in heavy drinking.   |  |  |
|                    | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                    | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | DescriptorBullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16marks) Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | • The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |
|            |                       | Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |
|            |                       | Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |  |  |
|------------|--|--|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |  |  |
| Level      | Mark   |  |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.  |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand ofthe question, Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy,and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures;any errors do not hinder meaning in the response. |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question, Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning.      |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question, Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                                  |  |

British Novel

| QuestionNumber    | Indicative content  |  |  |
|-----------------------|---|--|--|
| 15.AnimalFarm | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explain the significance of violence in the novel.  |  |  |
| Faim                  | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                       | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Mr Jones, the owner of Manor Farm, and his men use violence to keepthe animals under control and to maintain power: 'cruel whips'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>the animals use violence in the 'Rebellion' to fight back against themen: 'they flung themselves upon their tormentors'. The animalssurprise the men with their successful 'uprising' and drive the men fromthe farm</li> </ul>                                 |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Jones and his men use violence to try to recapture the farm in theBattle of the Cowshed: 'Jones with a gun in his hand'. The animals ledby Snowball retaliate with an ambush and a violent attack: 'gored,kicked, bitten, trampled'</li> </ul>                  |  |  |
|                       | • Napoleon uses violence to attack Snowball and drive him off the farm.The nine dogs that Napoleon has reared act as his police and intimidatethe animals with threats of aggression: 'fierce-looking as wolves'  |  |  |
|                       | • violence is used by Napoleon and the dogs to get the other animals to confess their involvement with Snowball. The confessions and executions lead to a bloodbath in the barn: 'there was a pile of corpses'  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>the animals again are forced to retaliate with violence when the mentry to attack the farm for the second time and manage to blow up thewindmill: 'It was a savage, bitter battle'.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                       | Relationship between text and context (AO3):  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Orwell presented the animals' rebellion as a reflection of the RussianRevolution, which he felt began with noble ideals but became corruptedby poor leadership</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>like the animals on the farm, the peasants and the labourers in Russiawere promised better lives by their leaders. In the same way theRussian leaders treated the Soviet people, Napoleon uses intimidationand violence to control the other animals</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Napoleon and Snowball represent the rift between Stalin and Trotsky,which led to the totalitarian and violent regime of Soviet Russia.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                       | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                       | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level   | Mark(32marks) | Descriptor – Bullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16 marks) Please refer to page 3  |
|---------|-----------------------|--|
|         | 0                     | No rewardable material.  |
| Level 1 | 1-6                   | • The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.   |
|         |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.   |
|         |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.  |
|         |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.  |
| Level 2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.        |
|         |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.   |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.</li> </ul>  |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>  |
| Level 3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.   |
|         |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                                 |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>   |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>  |
| Level 4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                       |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                        |
|         |                       | Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.   |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>  |
| Level 5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                         |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understandingand interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.</li> </ul> |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>   |
|         |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                                   |

| AO4 Mark Scheme  |      |   |
|--|------|---|
| Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |      |   |
| Level  | Mark |   |
|  | 0    | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1  | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question, Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |
| Level 2  | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question, Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |
| Level 3  | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question, Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |

| QuestionNumber    | Indicative content  |  |  |
|-----------------------|---|--|--|
| 16.AnimalFarm | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that show the importance of Snowball in Animal Farm .   |  |  |
| Farm                  | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                       | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Snowball follows the tenets and thinking of Old Major and devoteshimself to developing the animals' intellectual, physical and moral lives.He is a confident speaker and is initially respected by the other animals</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>literacy is introduced by Snowball and he paints the SevenCommandments on the barn wall: 'it was Snowball who was best atwriting'. He is able to read and eventually reduces the Commandmentsto one precept: 'Four legs good, two legs bad'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>during the Battle of the Cowshed, Snowball shows great knowledge ofbattle strategy and bravery: 'He himself dashed straight for Jones',having no thought for his own safety</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Snowball suggests the building of the windmill to help aid foodproduction, run machinery, produce electricity and supposedly give theanimals more leisure time. Despite opinion being divided, as Snowballis an eloquent speaker he is able to convince the other animals of thewindmill's benefits, despite Napoleon saying it is 'nonsense'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Snowball is seen by Napoleon as a threat to his leadership and has himchased from the farm: 'They dashed straight for Snowball'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Napoleon uses Snowball as a scapegoat, blaming him for anything thatgoes wrong on the farm: 'Snowball had introduced poison intoNapoleon's food'. Napoleon convinces the animals that Snowball wasnever brave during the battle and was actually on Mr Jones' side.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | Relationship between text and context (AO3):  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>Animal Farm is an allegory for the Russian Revolution. The animals'dissatisfaction with their lives represents the working-class strugglewhich led to the Rebellion and a brief period of equality</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>the treatment of Snowball and Napoleon's abuse of his power is similarto when Stalin hunted down and killed Trotsky, creating a dictatorship</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                       | <ul> <li>the dystopian nature of the novel shows that the Rebellion andsubsequent control by Napoleon have not only failed but destroyedmany of its central characters.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                       | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                       | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level      | Mark (32           | Descriptor – Bullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 –   |
|------------|--------------------|---|
|            | marks)0 | AO3 (16 marks) Please refer to page 3No rewardable material.  |
| Level1 | 1-6                | The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                    | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                    | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                    | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7–12               | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |                    | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |                    | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                    | There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level3 | 13-19              | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |                    | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                    | There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level4 | 20-26              | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                    | There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level5 | 27-32              | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |                    | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            |  | AO4 Mark Scheme   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber          | Indicative content  |  |  |
|-----------------------------|---|--|--|
| 17. Lordof theFlies | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explain the significance of control in the novel.   |  |  |
| Files                       | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                             | Interpretation of text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>Lord of the Flies explores how a group of young English boys, initially havingbeen controlled by a civilised society, become violent and savage. Ralph andSimon are the civilised boys who use control to protect the younger boys andadvance the good of the group; Jack and Roger use control to gratify their owndesires, treating the 'littluns' as objects for their own amusement</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>Ralph is voted leader and takes control, which is symbolised by the conch. He organises the building of huts and suggests ways to help with their rescue: 'We must make a fire'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                             | • Jack, as chapter chorister and head boy, is in control of the choir: 'Choir! Stand still!' He is furious when Ralph is chosen as the leader on the island: 'I ought to be chief' but becomes the leader of the hunters. The more savage Jack becomes after killing the pig, the more control he has over the rest of the group  |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>Jack uses the idea of the beast as a means of control. The beast represents athreat to the other boys, symbolising their fear of the unknown</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>the conch shell is used as a form of control and order. The shell governs themeetings and only the boy holding the conch may speak: 'Jack held out his handfor the conch.' As the boys become more savage the conch shell loses its power.The boulder that kills Piggy crushes the conch shell</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>at the end of the novel any form of control has been removed and civilisationbreaks down; the boys have become wild, savage and barbaric. The arrival of theofficer and the boys' rescue, re-establishes adult control over their lives.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                             | Relationship between text and context (AO3):  |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>the Cold War between liberalism and communism forms the background to thenovel. Ralph attains control through democratic means, whilst Jack uses force</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                             | <ul> <li>Golding was a teacher and wrote from his own experiences and perspective.</li> <li>Without control, students might quickly resort to an undisciplined state</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                             | • Lord of the Flies is an allegorical novel and many of its characters signify the conflict between good and evil.  |  |  |
|                             | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                             | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |
|                             |   |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | Descriptor – Bullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16 marks) Please refer to page 3   |  |
|------------|-----------------------|---|--|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple with little personal response and little relevantsupporting reference to the text.</li> </ul>                          |  |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |  |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |  |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |  |
|            |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |  |
|            |                       | Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |  |

|  | AO4 Mark Scheme |   |  |
|--|-----------------|---|--|
| Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |                 |   |  |
| Level  | Mark            |   |  |
|  | 0               | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1  | 1-2             | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2  | 3–5             | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3  | 6-8             | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber          | Indicative content   |
|-----------------------------|--|
| 18. Lordof theFlies | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that explore the importance of the beast in Lord of the Flies . Responses may include:   |
| 1 1103                      | Interpretation of text (AO1):  |
|                             | <ul> <li>the beast acts as one of the most important symbols in the novel,representing both the terror, the desire for violence, power and savagerythat lurk within every human being: 'the darkness of man's heart'</li> </ul>  |
|                             | <ul> <li>the boys' fear of the beast becomes an increasingly important aspect of theirlives, especially at night, from the moment the first `littlun' claims to haveseen a `snake- thing'. The beast becomes real when Jack and Ralph find thedead body of the parachutist on the mountain: `the creature lifted its head'</li> </ul> |
|                             | <ul> <li>Jack becomes obsessed with the thought of killing the beast: `All you cantalk about is pig, pig, pig!' Ralph is more practical, concerned with buildingshelters and keeping the fire burning</li> </ul>   |
|                             | <ul> <li>Jack together with the hunters manipulate the boys' fear of the beast totheir own advantage. Jack continues to suggest that the beast exists whenhe knows that it probably does not. By manipulating the boys, Jack gainspower over them and turns them against Ralph</li> </ul>   |
|                             | <ul> <li>Simon realises that the beast is not necessarily something that existsoutside in the jungle. He believes that it already exists inside each boy'smind and soul, the capacity for savagery and evil that slowly takes overthem</li> </ul>   |
|                             | <ul> <li>the boys' behaviour is what brings the beast into existence; the moresavagely the boys act, the more real the beast seems to become. By the endof the novel the boys are leaving it sacrifices and worshipping it like a god.</li> </ul>  |
|                             | Relationship between text and context (AO3):   |
|                             | <ul> <li>Golding used the novel to represent the evil that was unleashed duringWorld War II and the impact it had on the innocent people of Europe</li> </ul>   |
|                             | <ul> <li>the beast is used symbolically to represent the way some authoritariangovernments instil fear into their people by using threats and the suggestionthat society will break down without control</li> </ul>  |
|                             | • the sacrifice of the pig in the novel and the placing of its head on a stick as an offering to the beast could be seen as symbolic of evil.  |
|                             | Reward all valid points.   |
|                             | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.   |

| Level      | Mark (32marks) | Descriptor – Bullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 –AO3 (16 marks) Please refer to page 3  |
|------------|--------------------|---|
|            | 0                  | No rewardable material.   |
| Level1 | 1-6                | The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                    | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                    | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                    | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7-12               | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |                    | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |                    | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level3 | 13-19              | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing asound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.</li> </ul>    |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 20-26              | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 27-32              | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |                    | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                    | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |  |  |
|------------|--|--|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |  |  |
| Level      | Mark   |  |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.  |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demandl of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | Intermediate performance -in the context of the Level ofDemandl of the question. Learners spell and punctuate withconsiderable accuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabularyand sentence structures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | High performance -in the context of the Level of Demandl of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber  | Indicative content  |  |  |
|---------------------|---|--|--|
| 19. Anitaand Me | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that show the significance of Meena's parents in the novel.  |  |  |
|                     | Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                     | Interpretation of the text (AO1):   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Mr and Mrs Kumar are significant in that they emphasise the challenges of aPunjabi family living in a Midland working-class industrial region of Britain</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Meena's parents had an arranged marriage but are very much in love andprovide Meena with a stable home. Their extended family and the Indiancommunity are important to Mr and Mrs Kumar who display generoushospitality at family gatherings</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>when Sunil is born, Meena's mother has difficulty coping without a supportsystem until Nanima arrives. Meena realises her mother will no longer beexclusively hers</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Mr Kumar is a loving and responsible father, who imparts his high moralstandards to Meena and is admired by her: 'he could hold the planets in thepalm of his hand'. He understands his daughter, whilst her mother is lessable to understand her; she finds it hard to relate to Meena: 'Why do you dothis, Meena?'</li> </ul>              |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Mr and Mrs Kumar come to England to give Meena a good education and toget her into the 'posh girls' grammar school'. Meena is often worried aboutliving up to her parents' expectations, especially as her mother is a teacher.However, towards the end of the novel Meena learns to appreciate what herparents have done for her</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Meena's parents strive hard to retain as much of their cultural heritage forthe family as possible, such as growing herbs in the garden to garnish theirIndian meals, unlike their neighbours who have 'blazing rhododendrons andgrinning gnomes'.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | Relationship between text and context (AO3):  |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>the importance of family and cultural heritage is set against the changes infamily structure in the 1960s. Meena's parents reflect a different culturalway of living and bringing up a family</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Tollington is a predominantly white working-class village, where the womenplay a significant role in running the home and working in the local factories</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>in 1960s Britain, there were fewer people from ethnic minorities in townsand villages.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                     | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | DescriptorBullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16)marks) Please refer to page 3  |  |
|------------|-----------------------|---|--|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple with little personal response and littlerelevant supporting reference to the text.</li> </ul>                          |  |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |  |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |  |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.</li> </ul>   |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing asound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.</li> </ul>    |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |  |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |  |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | Threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demandl of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.    |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | Intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber  | Indicative content  |  |  |
|---------------------|---|--|--|
| 20. Anitaand Me | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward responses that consider how friendship is important in Anita and Me . Responses may include:  |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Interpretation of text (AO1):</li> <li>the friendship between Meena and Anita is important throughout the novel. Meena refers to Anita as her friend, but at the fair the fortune teller questions 'is she?' Anita does not act like a friend and is a bad influence on Meena. When Anita betrays their friendship, Meena is devastated: 'I saw everything crumble around me'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Anita uses friends to suit her. Although she has both Fat Sally andSherrie, she always forms a pair with one, and leaves the other onefollowing behind: 'These am me mates, Sherrie and Sally'. Meena wantsto be like Anita and to become one of the 'Tollington wenches'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Anita likes to control other people and one of the reasons Meena is suchan ideal friend for her is that Meena is three years younger and willalways follow Anita's lead. Meena starts to grow up when she realisesthat being friends with Anita is not such a good idea: `those you calledfriends could suddenly become tormentors'</li> </ul>                       |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Meena is attracted to Sam Lowbridge and flattered by his attention.When he comments on his racist remarks at the spring fete he deniesthat they were directed at Meena. Sam's destructive friendship withAnita demonstrates the true intensity of his racist feelings</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Nanima is like a friend to Meena. She teaches her Punjabi, tells herstories of India and helps her come to terms with her heritage</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>meeting Robert in hospital helps Meena realise what a real friend is. Hisdeath is upsetting to Meena, but her friendship with him helps her togrow up, enabling her to break away from Anita.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>Relationship between text and context (AO3):</li> <li>Meena is initially impressed by Anita's behaviour and reputation which enables her to become closer to English culture and rebel against her Indian background</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>the visit of Nanima helps Meena appreciate her background anddiversity, enabling her to realise who her real friends are</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                     | <ul> <li>living in a small Midlands village in the 1960s as a young Indian girlmeant Meena had to make friends within a white working-classcommunity.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                     | Reward all valid points.  |  |  |
|                     | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.  |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | Descriptor – Bullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16 marks) Please see page 3  |  |
|------------|-----------------------|---|--|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | • The response is simple with little personal response and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |  |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |  |
| Level2 | 7–12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |  |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |  |
|            |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |  |
|            |                       | • There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.   |  |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |  |
|            |                       | There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.   |  |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |  |
|            |                       | Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |  |
|            |                       | There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.   |  |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |  |

| AO4 Mark Scheme  |      |   |
|--|------|---|
| Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |      |   |
| Level  | Mark |   |
|  | 0    | No rewardable material.   |
| Level 1  | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |
| Level 2  | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |
| Level 3  | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |

| QuestionNumber | Indicative content  |  |  |
|--------------------|---|--|--|
| 21. The            |   |  |  |
| Womanin Black  | The indicative content is not prescriptive. Reward the responses that explore the ways mystery is created in The Woman in Black . Responses may include:   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Interpretation of text (AO1):</li> <li>the way Kipps tells the story from a first-hand perspective and slowly reveal his horrific experience as the novel progresses, creates the mystery and</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | horror of his journey: 'the experience would never leave me'  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the residents of Crythin Gifford appear mysterious. Initially they seemfriendly: 'my impressionswere distinctly favourable', where farmers were allgreeting each other and shaking hands and the Gifford Arms is presented ascomfortable and warm, providing Kipps with a good meal. However, CrythinGifford hides a dark and mysterious secret and many of the inhabitants avoidspeaking about it: 'the now familiar mystery'</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Mr Jerome is presented as a mysterious and guarded man: `a somewhatshuttered expression'. His appearance is of a man who is haunted by his pastand Kipps later discovers that this is because his child had died</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Eel Marsh House's mysterious location appeals to Kipps. He initially sees it as'a modest house', 'I rather liked this lonely spot'. However, when the storygradually unfolds it becomes a sinister place: 'isolated', 'gaunt' and containinga 'burial ground'</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the unknown woman in black and her sudden appearances add to themystery for Kipps and what has happened at Eel Marsh House. His firstimpression is that she is a mourner at the funeral suffering from a 'wastingdisease'. Later Kipps realises she is a ghost although her appearance is of afully embodied woman: 'she was dressed in deepest black' and her eyes weresunken</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the mystery of the secrets that were linked to Eel Marsh House areemphasised by the large number of 'letters, receipts, legal documents,notebooks' kept by Mrs Drablow. The ghostly experience Kipps has on thecauseway, of the pony and trap and the child dying, adds to the mystery ofthe story.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Relationship between text and context (AO3):</li> <li>the story is in the form of the classic Gothic ghost story genre, in which the narrator is influenced by the supernatural events. The mystery of Jennet Humfrye provides the ghostly element to the narrative</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>the mystery of Eel Marsh House, its history and isolation from the villagereflect the disparity of the industrial towns of Victorian Britain and the poorercountryside communities</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                    | <ul> <li>Kipps' character as logical, rational and good acts as an opposite or contrastto the existence of the mysterious Jennet Humfrye.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                    | Reward all valid points.Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use shortquotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.   |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | Descriptor – Bullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16 marks) Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple with little personal response and littlerelevant supporting reference to the text.</li> </ul>                          |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing asound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.</li> </ul>    |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |
|            |                       | Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |                       | The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|            | AO4 Mark Scheme  |   |  |
|------------|--|---|--|
| Use for AL | Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |   |  |
| Level      | Mark   |   |  |
|            | 0  | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1    | 1-2  | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2    | 3–5  | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3    | 6-8  | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

| QuestionNumber           | Indicative content   |  |  |
|------------------------------|--|--|--|
| 22. TheWomanin Black |  |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>Interpretation of text (AO1):</li> <li>Jennet Humfrye is an unmarried mother, who was pressured to give up her son 'because she had no choice.' She is banished by her parents and has to move away from Crythin Gifford. She is a loving mother who is reluctant to let her son go. The 'pain of being parted from him' forces her to return to Crythin Gifford to be able to see him</li> </ul> |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>Jennet's letters present the depth of her motherly love for Nathaniel andher grief at his death. Through her own voice the reader feels sympathyfor her: 'I think my heart will break'. She is 'filled with hatred' and seeksrevenge after her death by haunting Eel Marsh House and her sister</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>Alice Drablow is the sister of Jennet Humfrye and becomes Nathaniel'sadoptive mother. Initially reluctant to let Jennet see her son, she relentsand allows her to visit occasionally but to 'never see the boy alone'.Jennet blames Alice for Nathaniel's death</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>the nursery in Eel Marsh House is presented in a way to suggest a caringmother; it is lovingly furnished and full of toys, paints and books, withthe bed neatly made up and clothes still in the wardrobe</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>Jennet's maternal feelings after Nathaniel's death cause her to go madand she contracts a wasting disease which finally kills her. Her madnesswarps her mind and she starts to target other people's children: 'thehauntings began', 'a child has died'</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>Isobel, Kipps' step-daughter, is a caring and charming mother. Arthursays that although Esme wishes Isobel were a little 'less staid', he doesnot. Jennet and Isobel act as contrasts; the placid, fair, plump Isobel isseen as a perfect mother whereas Jennet is vengeful and cruel.</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>Relationship of text and context (AO3):</li> <li>the setting of the novel and the isolation of Eel Marsh House are in keeping with the elements of the Gothic genre</li> </ul>  |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>superstitions and the fear of ghosts still exerted a powerful influencein an isolated village community. The villagers were terrified of JennetHumfrye and the deaths of their children as a result of her revenge</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                              | <ul> <li>falling pregnant without being married was considered shameful andbrought disgrace on a family. Jennet is forced by her family to give upher son and move away from the Crythin Gifford.</li> </ul>   |  |  |
|                              | Reward all valid points.   |  |  |
|                              | Candidates will be rewarded if they make relevant textual references or use short quotations from the text. This includes relevant paraphrasing.   |  |  |

| Level      | Mark(32marks) | Descriptor – Bullets 1 and 2– AO1 (16 marks), Bullets 3 and 4 – AO3 (16 marks) Please refer to page 3   |
|------------|-----------------------|---|
|            | 0                     | No rewardable material.   |
| Level1 | 1-6                   | <ul> <li>The response is simple with little personal response and little relevantsupporting reference to the text.</li> </ul>                          |
|            |                       | • There is little evidence of a critical style and little relevant supporting reference to the text.  |
|            |                       | Little awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | • There is little comment on the relationship between text and context.   |
| Level2 | 7-12                  | • The response may be largely narrative but has some elements of personal response, there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus. |
|            |                       | • There is some evidence of a critical style and there is some reference to the text without consistent or secure focus.                                    |
|            |                       | Some awareness of relevant contexts is shown.   |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is some comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level3 | 13-19                 | • The response shows a relevant personal response, soundly related to the text with focused supporting textual references.                                  |
|            |                       | • There is an appropriate critical style, with comments showing a sound interpretation with focused supporting textual references.                          |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sound comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is relevant comment on the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level4 | 20-26                 | • The response has a developed personal response and thorough engagement, fully related to the text with well-chosen references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The critical style is sustained and there is well-developedinterpretation with well-chosen references to the text.</li> </ul>                 |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Sustained comment is offered on relevant contexts.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>There is detailed awareness of the relationship between text and context.</li> </ul>   |
| Level5 | 27-32                 | • There is an assured personal response, showing a high level of engagement with the text and discerning choice of references to the text.                  |
|            |                       | • A critical style is developed with maturity, perceptive understanding and interpretation with discerning choice of references to the text.                |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>The understanding of relevant contexts is excellent.</li> </ul>  |
|            |                       | <ul> <li>Understanding of the relationship between text and context isintegrated convincingly into the response.</li> </ul>                            |

|  | AO4 Mark Scheme |   |  |
|--|-----------------|---|--|
| Use for ALL Questions in Paper 1 – Section B (British Play OR British Novel) |                 |   |  |
| Level  | Mark            |   |  |
|  | 0               | No rewardable material.   |  |
| Level 1  | 1-2             | threshold performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with reasonable accuracy, and use a reasonable range of vocabulary and sentence structures; any errors do not hinder meaning in the response.     |  |
| Level 2  | 3–5             | intermediate performance -in the context of the Level of Demandof the question. Learners spell and punctuate with considerableaccuracy, and use a considerable range of vocabulary and sentencestructures to achieve general control of meaning. |  |
| Level 3  | 6-8             | high performance -in the context of the Level of Demand of the question. Learners spell and punctuate with consistent accuracy, and consistently use vocabulary and sentence structures to achieve effective control of meaning.                             |  |

Pearson Education Limited. Registered company number 872828 with its registered office at 80 Strand, London, WC2R 0RL, United Kingdom