Extra listening practice on examWizard

Introduction

We know how important it is for you to have a wealth of listening exam material to use with your students. In addition to the Sample Assessment Materials, past exam papers and specimen papers available on our GCSE German webpage, we also have past papers dating back to 2010 on our examWizard platform. Many of the questions in the 2010–2017 exam series for our legacy GCSE qualification test topics that remain relevant in the current GCSE, so can be used for extra listening practice. To help you easily identify these questions, we have mapped them all to the most relevant topic or topics in the mapping grids below.

It is important to note that legacy exam questions will not provide an authentic experience of the current GCSE listening exam even where they resemble questions found in the current papers, due to differences in audio speed or passage length, and subtle differences in question type that affect the difficulty level. These questions should therefore only be used as general listening practice rather than as a reliable indicator of what students can expect in their final exam.

About examWizard

examWizard is a repository of Edexcel past exam questions and papers, mark schemes and examiner reports. Part of the support offered to Edexcel centres at no extra cost, it allows you to download whole papers or to build your own papers from individual questions, so you can prepare personalised exam-style assessments on only the topics your students have covered. You can also download individual audio files and transcripts for your chosen listening questions.

How to create a paper from 2017–2017 exam questions

1. Go to www.examwizard.co.uk, select MFL as your subject and log in using your Edexcel Online credentials.
2. Select the 'Build a paper' tab:

3. Select 'GCSE' in the Qualification dropdown:

Qualification

GCSE
GCSE (9-1)
International GCSE (9-1)
International GCSE / Edexcel Certificates

4. To narrow the results to German listening questions only, select 'German: Unit 1' in the Unit dropdown:

Unit

☑ 1 selected ▼
☐ Select all
☐ French: Unit 1
☐ French: Unit 3
☑ German: Unit 1
☐ German: Unit 3
☐ Spanish: Unit 1
☐ Spanish: Unit 3

5. Once you know from the mapping grids below which papers you want to take questions from, use the Year and Tier dropdowns to narrow the results further to a specific paper or papers.

Question mapping grids

Mapping grid 1 (Foundation and Higher)

These grids start with a list of the topics in the current specification and map the legacy exam questions to that list. They are most useful for building your own papers that focus on specific topics.

- Question numbers in standard black font map well to the current GCSE qualification in terms of topic but not in terms of question type, i.e. they do not visually resemble questions in our amended GCSE listening exams for first assessment in 2021.
- Question numbers in bold map well in terms of both topic and question type, meaning they look and feel similar to the current GCSE listening exam. These are the best questions to use for extra listening practice. However, please note that they will not offer a fully accurate exam experience, due to differences in audio speed or passage length, and subtle differences in question type that affect the difficulty level.

Mapping grid 2 (Foundation and Higher)

These grids show the questions in each legacy paper in order, mapped to the current topics. They are most useful if you want to use whole papers and see how well they map to the current GCSE.

- Where the topic name is greyed out, we have mapped the question to the closest match but the content of the listening passage is not well aligned to the current specification or is quite dated (especially passages about technology). Most of these questions also use a question type not found in, or presented differently to those in, our amended GCSE exams for first assessment in 2021.
- Where a topic name is in standard black font, the question maps well to the topics in the current specification but uses a question type not found in, or presented differently to those in, our amended GCSE exams for first assessment in 2021.
- Where a topic name is in bold in a light yellow cell, the question maps well to the topics in the current specification and a similarly presented question type is found in our amended GCSE exams, so the format will feel somewhat familiar to students. These are the best questions to use for extra listening practice. However, please note that they will not offer a fully accurate exam experience, due to differences in audio speed and length between the legacy and current exams, and other differences that affect the difficulty level, such as the number of answer options to choose from.
