Network with teachers at our autumn and spring events

"Best CPD for a long time. ...so many useful resources and tips are provided."

● GCSE network events

Friendly language specialist support on hand, available to visit your school wherever you're located.

*Find your nearest network event. If there isn't a network in your area and you'd be willing to host an event, please email us at MFLevents1@pearson.com

*Our spring online network events during the period of teaching remotely were well received. Our forthcoming network events for autumn 2020 will also be online only.

Meet our subject specialists

Tim Guilford taught languages in various schools in Birmingham and London for almost 30 years. He was Head of Languages in two schools and then Deputy Head of a school in London. He left that role to work as a senior manager for an exam board. Tim has experience as a senior examiner for both GCSE and GCE and was a consultant for Ofqual for the accreditation of current specifications. Tim now works in consultancy in languages education, where he provides a range of support services to schools. He also contributes to various journals in the world of Languages and authors resources for teachers. Tim has worked in CPD for languages teachers across the UK as well as internationally in Kazakhstan, Turkey, Hong Kong, France, Switzerland and the Caribbean.

Carol Hughes taught German and French in comprehensive and grammar schools in Cheshire and in Essex for over 30 years, and was also Head of Languages. Carol is an active member of ALL who has run workshops at a number of conferences and been a teacher-trainer for over 20 years. More recently she has been the MFL subject lead for the Southend SCITT programme. Since retiring from teaching in 2015 Carol has continued to develop her interest in MFL teaching through her role as a Pearson trainer.

Karine Harrington is a secondary teacher and a freelance consultant who has vast expertise within her field as a former Head of Department, examiner, trainer and author. Karine is also the MFL Specialist Leader in Education for the Empower Teaching Alliance in Havering, Essex, and is an active member of the Association for Language Learning. In recent years Karine has published numerous titles for GCSE, iGCSE and A-level: she co-authored the latest Hodder textbook for the new Pearson Edexcel French A-level specification and has published widely on A-level texts and films. Karine delivers training nationwide and online as well as supporting teachers in centres.

Neil Owen is currently employed as a part-time Lecturer in French and German at Cardiff and Vale College, one of the largest Further Education establishments in the UK. Neil has spent the rest of his extensive teaching career in three challenging inner-city schools in Cardiff where he taught pupils of all abilities from KS3 to KS5 and was a Head of Faculty in his last school. Neil has considerable experience as a GCSE examiner in all linguistic skills, having worked for 4 major awarding bodies and having been a Team Leader for all of them.
