Expert support for science

Wherever you are in the UK
– we're always here to help

Discover your local network

Last year our specialists hosted

72 free hub events

You told us:

Superb knowledge and relevance to me, as a convert from another awarding body

Plus online events if you can't make it to a face-to-face hub

Really appreciated the opportunity to ask questions about how examiners mark papers.

Useful collaboration with other schools and tips from Pearson.

Our network events are a great opportunity to meet other schools in your area, and always have a different teaching and learning focus as suggested by you.

Expert training and support

Our specialists not only host our termly network events up and down the country, they also deliver tailored training sessions for many of our schools. From free 'New to Edexcel' training sessions to centre-based CPD, we're available to offer support and advice at every stage.
