PEARSON

Instructions to Candidates

Introduction

This examination consists of two parts.

- Preparatory studies

You will be given six school weeks before the Timed Examination to carry out preparatory work in response to the theme presented in this paper.

You should use the preparatory period to investigate the theme, experiment with your ideas, and gather visual information including contextual references to develop your final work. All source material used in the development of your response must be clearly labelled.

Boards and canvas stretchers should not be submitted. If you use pastel or chalk, these must be fixed. Paintings and prints must be dry. After the examination you will have the opportunity, with the help of your teacher, to select and mount your preparatory studies, with no overlapping, on up to three sheets of A2 paper. Use only one side of the paper.

The preparatory studies you produce are an essential part of the examination and marks will be lost if they are not submitted.

You must take your preparatory studies into the examination room and use them to help you with your final work.

- Timed Examination

This consists of up to ten hours working under examination conditions to produce unaided work in response to the theme. Your teacher can only help you with technical problems, such as working space, materials and equipment.

Work in a way which is comfortable for you. Board and canvas stretchers should not be submitted. If your final piece is fragile, bulky or larger than A2 (420 mm x 594 mm) in size, the centre must make arrangements to photograph your work. The photographs (size A4) must then be sent to Edexcel for marking.

A completed copy of the following label should be clearly shown in the top right-hand corner on the FRONT of your work.

Exploring and developing the theme

The theme this year is

Open

This theme can be explored in many ways and covers all endorsed titles (Fine Art, Textiles, Photography and Graphic Design). Discuss the theme with your teacher and make sure that you produce evidence to cover each of the four Assessment Objectives below. Your preparatory studies and final examination piece combined must show evidence of all four of these Assessment Objectives.

The four Assessment Objectives are:

- AO1 Record observations, experiences and ideas which are appropriate to intentions.
- AO2 Analyse and evaluate images, objects and artefacts, making informed connections with the work of others.
- AO3 Develop and explore ideas, using a variety of media and processes that are appropriate to intentions.
- AO4 Review and refine ideas, modifying work as it progresses, before presenting a coherent personal response.

The suggestions on the following pages will help you to think about your ideas. You may work from any one of the suggested starting points, or you may develop a relevant starting point of your own which explores the theme 'Open'.

The total mark for this paper is 100.

Open

Open spaces

Interesting features in panoramic views reach far across land, sea and sky.

As the sun sets across the wilderness, the atmosphere changes and nocturnal wildlife emerges.

People gather on a large open terrace, or balcony at the side of a hotel and gaze at the view.

On wide open spaces, trees, shrubs and grazing animals fade from view into the distance.

The spaces between shapes can sometimes be as interesting as the shapes themselves.

Openings

Through a magnificent entrance into a building, an oasis of calm is revealed which could include ornate and decorative objects.

A strong beam of light, from a door left slightly open, floods into a darkened room.

Caves carved into a cliff face by continuous erosion provide sanctuary for nesting birds.

Shutters and windows left open high above narrow streets create a flow of cool air into small rooms.

Open to the elements

Trees knotted and twisted, leaning away from the prevailing wind, surround a derelict shelter with a roof in a state of near collapse.

Vulnerable people, stranded on a fragile rooftop, wait to be rescued. Frightened and desperate, between survival and disaster, they cling to each other and try to remain calm.

Open air

Animals, hoping to be fed, move amongst small groups of people sitting down to eat.

Children gather in groups eager to eat lunch as adults prepare food for their meal.

At night in a busy city street, lined with cafés and restaurants, people eat and drink. Flickering candlelight, bright spotlights and neon signs illuminate diners, drinkers and entertainers.

Open minded

People gather in an open space to listen to an inspiring speaker. The growing crowd encourages passers-by to stop and listen.

Newspaper headlines highlighting topical issues, or posters raising controversial matters, provoke different viewpoints.

A festival attracts people who have extraordinary clothing, tattoos, colourful crafted hairstyles and jewellery.

A lively discussion could bring about a change in attitude.

Open garment

A light-weight garment, designed to hang open on the shoulders, could be appropriate for wearing in the evening.

A cloak, cape or poncho made from a heavy fabric could provide protection from extreme weather conditions.

Head gear worn to accompany different types of clothing could be decorative, offer protection, or attract the attention of others.

Open out

Blankets and carpets are spread out ready for sale with a canvas canopy opened to protect them from the weather.

Leaflets, brochures, maps, pamphlets or magazines open to reveal important information and images.

Pop-up books and cards open to show surprising contents.

Flocks of flamingos and other wading birds, their wings stretched out ready to land, glide into shallow water. Pelicans extend their huge wings to take off as they move on. Cormorants open their wings to dry them.

A couple approach one another and open their arms to embrace.

Opened

The surface of eggs crack and reveal the emergence of young.

Presents are received at a celebration and are opened quickly. The discarded wrapping paper and ribbons pile up to create a patchwork of colourful patterns and textures.

Eyes open, suddenly awakened by a loud noise.

Open fabric

The perforated and organic appearance of a crocheted blanket could transform the surface of the furniture it covers.

Intricately detailed lacework could be used to both cover and decorate.

Fine white netting is draped over a hammock or bed to protect a sleeper from mosquitoes or strong sunlight.
