3 English Language (Specification A) content

Component 1: Non-fiction Texts and Transactional Writing (examined)

The focus of this component is:
Section A: Non-fiction texts – study and analyse selections from a range of non-fiction texts.
Section B: Transactional Writing – explore and develop transactional writing skills.

Content

Students should read a variety of high-quality, challenging non-fiction texts, in preparation to respond to one unseen non-fiction text in the examination. They should be able to read substantial pieces of writing, including whole and extended texts that make significant demands in terms of content, structure and the quality of the language. Throughout the qualification, students should develop the skills of interpretation and analysis.

Text types studied should include a range of non-fiction forms, such as journalism (for example articles and reviews), speeches, journals and reference book extracts.

Text types should also include literary non-fiction texts, such as selections from autobiography, letters, obituaries and travel writing. These lists are not exhaustive.

Texts that are essentially transient, such as instant news feeds and advertisements, will not form part of the assessment.

The Pearson Edexcel International GCSE English Anthology is a resource that supports teachers by providing examples of different types of non-fiction text. Students should be encouraged to read beyond the anthology to support their learning.

Students should use what they have learned about different text types to develop their transactional writing. They should be introduced to, and be given the opportunity to practise, a range of non-fiction writing techniques, planning and proofreading skills.

AO2 understand and analyse how writers use linguistic and structural devices to achieve their effects.

Section B: Imaginative Writing
• Students are advised to allocate 45 minutes to Section B.
• There will be one 30-mark imaginative writing task, based on one of three given prompts.
• Students will answer one question in this section.
• Total of 30 marks for this section.
Questions will test the following assessment objectives:
AO4 communicate effectively and imaginatively, adapting form, tone and register of writing for specific purposes and audiences
AO5 write clearly, using a range of vocabulary and sentence structures, with appropriate paragraphing and accurate spelling, grammar and punctuation.
Component 3: Poetry and Prose Texts and Imaginative Writing (non-examined assessment)

The focus of this component is:

Assignment A: Poetry and Prose Texts – study and analyse selections from a range of fictional poetry and prose texts.

Assignment B: Imaginative Writing – explore and develop imaginative writing skills.

Content

Non-examined assessment is available as an alternative to Component 2.

Students should read selections from a range of high-quality, challenging poetry or prose fiction to prepare them for an assignment based on their selected poetry and prose texts from Part 2 of the Pearson Edexcel International GCSE English Anthology.

They should be able to read substantial pieces of writing (extended texts) that make significant demands on them in terms of content, structure and the quality of language. Throughout the qualification, students should develop the skills of inference and analysis.

The Pearson Edexcel International GCSE English Anthology is a resource that supports teachers by providing examples of prose fiction. Students should read a variety of prose fiction from a range of genres and cultures.

Students should use what they have learned about the writer’s craft in their reading of fiction to inspire and influence their own imaginative writing. They should develop a range of creative writing techniques, planning and proofreading skills.

Assessment overview

Component 3 (non-examined option) assesses 40% of the total English Language (Specification A) qualification and assesses Reading (20%) and Writing (20%).

Non-examined assessment is available as an alternative to Component 2.

The assessment of this component is through two non-examined assignments, internally set and assessed and externally moderated by Pearson.
Assignment setting

Students will be required to write two non-examined assignments.

Students must complete two non-examined assignments, which may be self-generated or devised by their teacher. Students can be involved in choosing which texts to write about and the devising of the task. There is no requirement for students in a cohort to write on different texts. Students in a cohort may write on the same texts.

Assignment A: Poetry and Prose Texts

Students will prepare for the task as follows:

• select three texts from Part 2 of the Pearson Edexcel International GCSE English Anthology - there must be at least one poetry text and one prose text chosen

• choose a focus for the assignment, for example: setting, character(s), event(s), theme(s)

• make notes and plan the response to the task.

The response to the task must show that students can:

• read and understand three texts from Part 2 of the Pearson Edexcel International GCSE English Anthology, selecting and interpreting information, ideas and perspectives (AO1)

• understand and analyse how writers use linguistic and structural devices to achieve their effects in three texts from Part 2 of the Pearson Edexcel International GCSE English Anthology (AO2).

There are 30 marks available for this assignment:

• 12 marks for AO1

• 18 marks for AO2.

Setting the question

The assignment must allow students to access both AO1 and AO2.

This assignment is a written response based on three or more texts from Part 2 of the anthology. At least one poetry text and one prose text are discussed.

Assignments could take the following format:

[Suggested task title]

- Discuss how the writers use language and structure to present [insert chosen focus] in [insert chosen Anthology text 1], [insert chosen Anthology text 2] and [insert chosen Anthology text 3].

In your response you should:

- discuss the ideas and perspectives of the writers about the chosen focus
- discuss how the writers use language and structure to achieve their effects
- include textual references to illustrate the points you make.

Assignment B: Imaginative Writing

- A piece of imaginative writing based on a selected topic.
- Students must respond to a teacher-devised non-examined assignment which will allow them to address the following assessment objectives:
  - AO4 communicate effectively and imaginatively, adapting form, tone and register of writing for specific purposes and audiences
  - AO5 write clearly, using a range of vocabulary and sentence structures, with appropriate paragraphing and accurate spelling, grammar and punctuation.
- The purpose should be to narrate, describe or entertain.
- Total of 30 marks for this assignment.

Setting the question

The assignment must allow students to access both AO4 and AO5.

The topic could be suggested by a piece in the anthology, for example:

- 'The moment had passed' write an imaginative piece ending with these words
- The last time I saw...
- "I've left Auror and that leaving of my home was hard and bitter, but my time is coming." After reading 'Significant Cigarettes' write what you imagine might be the next episode in Lev's story.
- 'During the night the wind rose'. Write your own imaginative and descriptive piece that begins with those words.

Or an unrelated topic relating to a set of images, for example:

- The visitor
- A frightening experience
- My most embarrassing moment.

Students may write about real or imagined experiences.
Assignment taking

Authenticity
Students must sign the Non-examined Assessment Authentication Sheet in Appendix 2: Non-examined assessment authentication sheet to confirm that they have produced their non-examined assessment independently.

Teachers must also sign the Non-examined Assessment Authentication Sheet to confirm that students have been sufficiently supervised to ensure the authenticity of the work.

Collaboration
Students must work independently in producing their non-examined assessment.

Teacher feedback
- Teachers may advise students in the production of non-examined assessment. Teachers may suggest general improvements to the non-examined assessment at a draft stage, but it is the student’s responsibility to make any corrections and update the work.
- Student work must not be rewritten after it has been marked.
- Students should be informed at the start of the teaching that they must not plagiarise other work. Students must acknowledge sources in their work and be advised how to do so. Teachers should be alert to essays derived from other sources – such as the internet – when signing the declaration on the non-examined assessment front sheet.

Presentation of the work
- Each piece of non-examined assessment should contain the student’s name, the date on which the work was completed, the mark awarded and a brief teacher comment justifying the mark. This comment should be based on the assessment criteria for the mark range awarded.
- Non-examined assessment pieces may be handwritten or word-processed.

Word count
- Assignment A: Poetry and Prose Texts
  Students will present a written response of approximately 1200 words.
- Assignment B: Imaginative Writing
  Students will present a written response of approximately 700 words.

The above word count is advisory only and there is no penalty for exceeding this recommendation.
Assignment marking

Assessment of non-examined component

Teachers must mark non-examined assessment according to the assessment criteria shown on the following pages. Teachers should use their professional judgement to apply the criteria appropriately and fairly to the work of students. To help teachers mark accurately, consistently and confidently, Pearson offers annual marking training sessions, available online.

Students should be awarded the appropriate mark within any range on a ‘best fit’ basis, balancing strengths and weaknesses in each essay. Answers may display characteristics of more than one level, and where this happens, markers must use professional judgement to decide which level is most appropriate. For example, a passage in the assignment may contain characteristics of Level 4 while the rest of the assignment tends towards Level 3. The outcome may therefore be a high Level 3.

Standardisation of non-examined assessment

To help teachers mark accurately, consistently and confidently, Pearson offers annual marking training sessions, available online and presented by our senior examining team. We recommend that teachers attend this training in advance of the marking.

Where there is more than one teacher of the non-examined assessment option in a centre, the centre should conduct internal standardisation. This can be carried out by paired marking.

Completed non-examined assessment should be kept secure in the centre until at least six months after the examination session. Non-examined assessment may then be returned to students.

Final assessment of non-examined component at the end of the course

There will be two marks out of 30 which will be combined to make one mark out of 60. At the end of the course, the non-examined assessment may be re-assessed and the marks adjusted in light of internal standardisation.

Teachers should reward the quality of the writing and reading demonstrated in the non-examined assignment. A second opinion, by a teacher other than the class teacher, will enable the centre to arrive at an objective judgement on achievement.

Submission of non-examined assessment

Towards the end of the course centres will be required to send a sample of non-examined assessment to a Pearson-appointed non-examined assessment moderator. Final non-examined assessment marks for each student should be recorded on the non-examined assessment front sheet in Appendix 2: Non-examined assessment authentication sheet.

Teachers should photocopy the number of sheets required. The non-examined assessment front sheet should be attached to the front of the non-examined assessment essay.

Please refer to the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ) document Instructions for conducting non-examination assessments for further information.

Additional guidance on the mark scheme:

Textual reference: any reference to supporting evidence from the text - direct quotations or references to specific moments/events within the text, e.g.

We learn that the recruiting officers in the poem knew the person was under age when he joined up: 'Smiling they wrote his lie; aged nineteen years.'

We perhaps learn the extent of Madame Loisel's materialistic nature when she disregards the many elegant jewels belonging to her friend and selects instead the diamond necklace.

Citing Disabled, Wilfred Owen and The Necklace, Guy de Maupassant

Example: citing specific examples of features of language and/or structure from the text, e.g.

The author uses violent verbs, 'snarled', 'rattled', to convey shock.

The author structures the poem using a clear pattern of repetition: 'You may shoot me... You may cut me... You may kill me...' on lines 21 to 23.

Citing "*Out, Out—", Robert Frost and Still I Rise, Maya Angelou

Security and backups

It is the responsibility of the centre to keep the work that students have submitted for assessment secure.

Secure storage is defined as a securely-locked cabinet or cupboard. The rules on storage also apply to electronic data. For materials stored electronically, centres are strongly advised to use firewall protection and virus-checking software, and to employ an effective backup strategy, so that an up-to-date archive of students’ evidence is maintained.

Further information

Spoken Language endorsement (optional)

The optional spoken language endorsement for Pearson Edexcel International GCSE in English Language (Specification A)

These are the requirements of the optional spoken language endorsement for Pearson Edexcel International GCSE in English Language (Specification A) including the recording, storing and submission of spoken language assessments.

The preparation and assessment of spoken language is an optional component of the course of study. If a student completes the endorsement, it will appear on their certificate as a separately reported grade, alongside the overall grade issued.

Overview

Students must demonstrate their presentation skills in a formal setting, listen and respond to questions and feedback, and use spoken English effectively.

Presentation

The spoken language presentation may take a variety of forms, including:

a) a speech or talk by a student, followed by questions from the audience

b) a formal debate or dialogue, such as an interview where the student is able to prepare extended responses to questions or prompts, which have been shared in advance, followed by questions from the audience.

In all cases, the presentation should be prepared and last no longer than 10 minutes.

Audience

Students must give their presentations to an audience, which must always include the teacher.

The size and composition of the audience should be determined by the teacher, in discussion with the student. However, where the audience is the teacher only, the presentation and dialogue should be designed in such a way that it could have a potentially wider audience than just one person (for example, it replicates a television interview).

Assessment criteria

Students should be assessed either live or from recordings.

There are no marks for the spoken language endorsement. Should students choose to attempt the assessment, they should be awarded a grade (Not Classified, Pass, Merit or Distinction) using the assessment criteria below. Students’ grades will appear on their certificates.

In order to achieve a particular grade, a student must meet all of the criteria for that grade.
General criteria

To be awarded a Pass, Merit or Distinction, a student must:

- be audible
- use spoken Standard English.

For the purposes of the spoken language assessment a student must:

- be intelligible, and
- generally use language appropriate to the formal setting of the presentation.

External monitoring

For each May/June and/or January series, all centres are required to provide audio-visual recordings of the presentations of a sample of students. There is no requirement to record the presentations of all students.

Assessment record sheet

A record sheet to assist with assessment is provided in Appendix 3: Spoken Language Endorsement Assessment record sheet. One should be completed for each student, but these should not be submitted to monitors unless requested.
Guidance on making and submitting recordings\(^1\)

We no longer accept submissions on physical media, e.g. DVDs or USBs. All learner work must be submitted digitally.

For more information, please go to the Pearson’s qualifications website at: https://qualifications.pearson.com/en/home.html.

5 Administration and general information

Entries

Details of how to enter students for the examinations for this qualification can be found in our International information manual. A copy is made available to all examinations officers and is also available on our website.

Students should be advised that, if they take two qualifications in the same subject, colleges, universities and employers are very likely to take the view that they have achieved only one of the two GCSEs/International GCSEs. Students or their advisers who have any doubts about subject combinations should check with the institution to which they wish to progress before embarking on their programmes.

Access arrangements, reasonable adjustments, special consideration and malpractice

Equality and fairness are central to our work. Our equality policy requires all students to have equal opportunity to access our qualifications and assessments, and our qualifications to be awarded in a way that is fair to every student.

We are committed to making sure that:

- students with a protected characteristic (as defined by the UK Equality Act 2010) are not, when they are undertaking one of our qualifications, disadvantaged in comparison to students who do not share that characteristic
- all students achieve the recognition they deserve for undertaking a qualification and that this achievement can be compared fairly to the achievement of their peers.

Language of assessment

Assessment of this qualification will be available in English only. All student work must be in English.

We recommend that students have the ability to read and write in English at Level B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
Access arrangements

Access arrangements are agreed before an assessment. They allow students with special educational needs, disabilities or temporary injuries to:

• access the assessment
• show what they know and can do without changing the demands of the assessment.

The intention behind an access arrangement is to meet the particular needs of an individual student with a disability without affecting the integrity of the assessment. Access arrangements are the principal way in which awarding bodies comply with the duty under the UK Equality Act 2010 to make ‘reasonable adjustments’.

Access arrangements should always be processed at the start of the course. Students will then know what is available and have the access arrangement(s) in place for assessment.

Reasonable adjustments

The UK Equality Act 2010 requires an awarding organisation to make reasonable adjustments where a student with a disability would be at a substantial disadvantage in undertaking an assessment. The awarding organisation is required to take reasonable steps to overcome that disadvantage.

A reasonable adjustment for a particular student may be unique to that individual and therefore might not be in the list of available access arrangements.

Whether an adjustment will be considered reasonable will depend on a number of factors, including:

• the needs of the student with the disability
• the effectiveness of the adjustment
• the cost of the adjustment, and
• the likely impact of the adjustment on the student with the disability and other students.

An adjustment will not be approved if it involves unreasonable costs to the awarding organisation, timeframes or affects the security or integrity of the assessment. This is because the adjustment is not ‘reasonable’.

Special considerations

Special consideration is a post-examination adjustment to a candidate's mark or grade to reflect temporary injury, illness or other indisposition at the time of the examination/assessment, which has had, or is reasonably likely to have had, a material effect on a candidate’s ability to take an assessment or demonstrate his or her level of attainment in an assessment.

Further information

Please see our website for information about how to apply for access arrangements and special considerations.

For information about access arrangements, reasonable adjustments and special considerations please refer to the JCQ website: www.jcq.org.uk
Candidate malpractice

Candidate malpractice refers to any act by a candidate that compromises or seeks to compromise the process of assessment or which undermines the integrity of the qualifications or the validity of results/certificates.

Candidate malpractice in controlled assessments discovered before the candidate has signed the declaration of authentication form does not need to be reported to Pearson.

Candidate malpractice found in controlled assessments after the declaration of authenticity has been signed, and in examinations must be reported to Pearson on a JCQ Form MI (available at www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice). The form should be emailed to candidatemalpractice@pearson.com. Please provide as much information and supporting documentation as possible. Note that the final decision regarding appropriate sanctions lies with Pearson.

Failure to report candidate malpractice constitutes staff or centre malpractice.

Staff/centre malpractice

Staff and centre malpractice includes both deliberate malpractice and maladministration of our qualifications. As with candidate malpractice, staff and centre malpractice is any act that compromises or seeks to compromise the process of assessment or undermines the integrity of the qualifications or the validity of results/certificates.

All cases of suspected staff malpractice and maladministration must be reported immediately, before any investigation is undertaken by the centre, to Pearson on a JCQ Form M2a (available at www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice).

The form, supporting documentation and as much information as possible should be emailed to: pqsmalpractice@pearson.com. Note that the final decision regarding appropriate sanctions lies with Pearson.

Failure to report malpractice itself constitutes malpractice.

More-detailed guidance on malpractice can be found in the latest version of the document JCQ Suspected Malpractice: Policies and Procedures, available at www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice

Awarding and reporting

The International GCSE qualification will be graded and certificated on a nine-grade scale from 9 to 1 using the total subject mark where 9 is the highest grade. Individual papers are not graded. The optional spoken language endorsement is graded and certificated Not Classified/Pass/Merit or Distinction and appears, when taken, as a separate grade on the certificate. The first certification opportunity for the Pearson Edexcel International GCSE in English Language (Specification A) was in 2018. Students whose level of achievement is below the minimum judged by Pearson to be of sufficient standard to be recorded on a certificate will receive an unclassified U result.

Student recruitment and progression

Pearson’s policy concerning recruitment to our qualifications is that:

- they must be available to anyone who is capable of reaching the required standard
- they must be free from barriers that restrict access and progression
- equal opportunities exist for all students.
Prior learning and other requirements

There are no prior learning or other requirements for this qualification.

Progression

Students can progress from this qualification to:

- International AS and A Levels in English Language, AS and A Levels in English Language and other subjects.

Appendix 4: Pearson World Class Qualification design principles

Pearson’s World Class Qualification design principles mean that all Edexcel qualifications are developed to be rigorous, demanding, inclusive and empowering.

We work collaboratively to gain approval from an external panel of educational thought-leaders and assessment experts from across the globe. This is to ensure that Edexcel qualifications are globally relevant, represent world-class best practice in Pearson qualification and assessment design, maintain a consistent standard and support learner progression in today’s fast-changing world.

Pearson’s Expert Panel for World-Class Qualifications is chaired by Sir Michael Barber, a leading authority on education systems and reform. He is joined by a wide range of key influencers with expertise in education and employability.

“I’m excited to be in a position to work with the global leaders in curriculum and assessment to take a fresh look at what young people need to know and be able to do in the 21st century, and to consider how we can give them the opportunity to access that sort of education.” Sir Michael Barber.
Endorsement from Pearson’s Expert Panel for World-Class Qualifications for International GCSE development processes

May 2014

We were chosen, either because of our expertise in the UK education system, or because of our experience in reforming qualifications in other systems around the world as diverse as Singapore, Hong Kong, Australia and a number of countries across Europe.

We have guided Pearson through what we judge to be a rigorous world-class qualification development process that has included:

- extensive international comparability of subject content against the highest-performing jurisdictions in the world
- benchmarking assessments against UK and overseas providers to ensure that they are at the right level of demand
- establishing External Subject Advisory Groups, drawing on independent subject-specific expertise to challenge and validate our qualifications.

Importantly, we have worked to ensure that the content and learning is future oriented, and that the design has been guided by Pearson’s Efficacy Framework. This is a structured, evidence-based process which means that learner outcomes have been at the heart of this development throughout.

We understand that ultimately it is excellent teaching that is the key factor to a learner’s success in education but as a result of our work as a panel we are confident that we have supported the development of Pearson Edexcel International GCSE qualifications that are outstanding for their coherence, thoroughness and attention to detail and can be regarded as representing world-class best practice.

Appendix 5: Transferable skills

The need for transferable skills

In recent years, higher education institutions and employers have consistently flagged the need for students to develop a range of transferable skills to enable them to respond with confidence to the demands of undergraduate study and the world of work.

The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) defines skills, or competencies, as ‘the bundle of knowledge, attributes and capacities that can be learned and that enable individuals to successfully and consistently perform an activity or task and can be built upon and extended through learning.’[1]

To support the design of our qualifications, the Pearson Research Team selected and evaluated seven global 21st-century skills frameworks. Following on from this process, we identified the National Research Council’s (NRC) framework[2] as the most evidence-based and robust skills framework, and have used this as a basis for our adapted skills framework.

The framework includes cognitive, intrapersonal skills and interpersonal skills.

The skills have been interpreted for this specification to ensure that they are appropriate for the subject. All of the skills listed are evident or accessible in the teaching, learning and/or assessment of the qualifications. Some skills are directly assessed. Pearson materials will support you in identifying these skills and developing these skills in students.

The table overleaf sets out the framework and gives an indication of the skills that can be found in English Language and indicates the interpretation of the skill in this area. A full subject interpretation of each skill, with mapping to show opportunities for student development is given on the subject pages of our website: qualifications.pearson.com
