

Move to the latest specifications with confidence

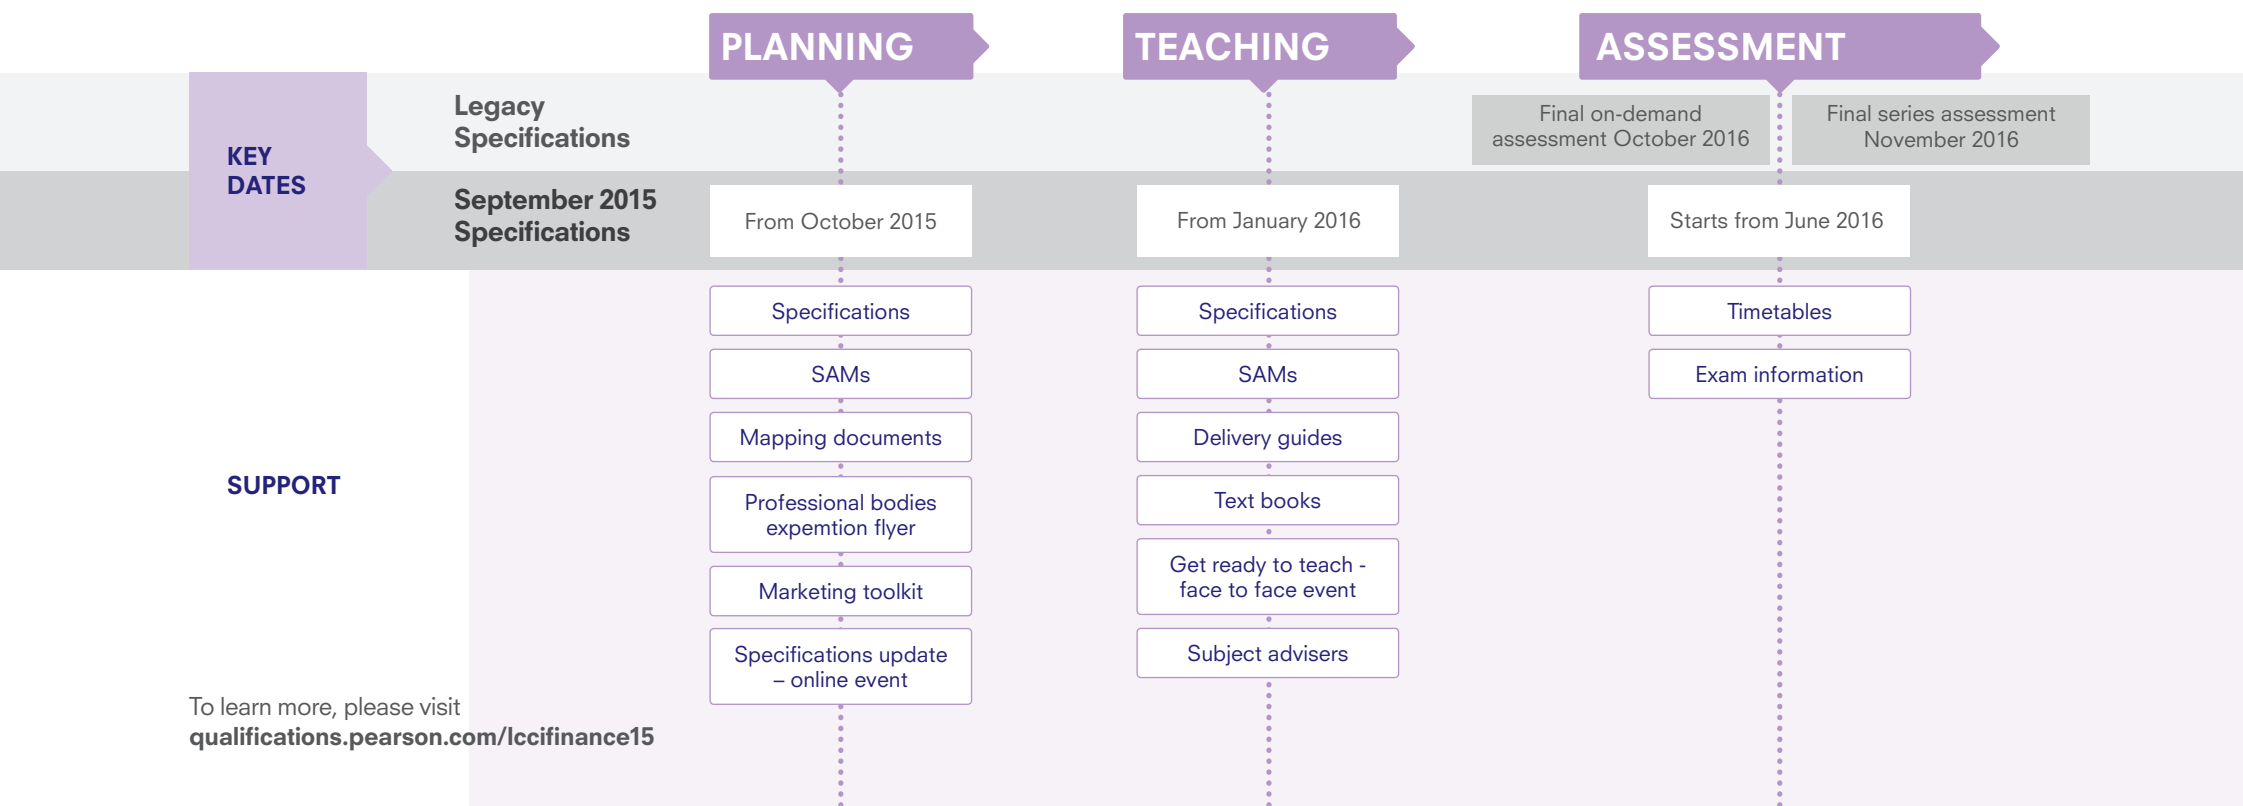

Straight forward guidance to help you move to the latest LCCI Financial and Quantitative specifications

If you are currently teaching the LCCI Financial and Quantitative legacy specifications, please note that you will need to move to the September 2015 specifications.

To support you with your planning, please refer to the September 2015 specifications and suggested timeline below:

- Planning: from October 2015
- Teaching: from January 2016
- Assessment: starts from June 2016

It is possible for you to start teaching the updated specifications from this September but we advise that you attend our 'Get ready to teach' events from January 2016.
