- any prior knowledge, skills or understanding which the learner is required to have before taking the qualification
- the combination of units that a learner must have completed before the qualification will be awarded and any pathways
- any other requirements that a learner must have satisfied before they will be assessed or before the qualification will be awarded
- the knowledge, skills and understanding that will be assessed as part of the qualification
- the method of any assessment and any associated requirements relating to it
- the criteria against which a learner's level of attainment will be measured (such as assessment criteria)
- assessment requirements and/or evidence requirements required as specified by the relevant Sector Skills Council/Standards Setting Body
- assessment requirements/strategy as published by the relevant Sector Skills Council/Standards Setting Body
- the Apprenticeship Framework in which the qualification is included, where appropriate.

1 Introducing Pearson Edexcel Competencebased qualifications

What are Competence-based qualifications?

Competence-based qualifications are work-based qualifications that give learners the opportunity to develop and demonstrate their competence in the area of work or job role to which the qualification relates.

Competence-based qualifications are based on the National Occupational Standards (NOS) for the appropriate sector. NOS define what employees, or potential employees, must be able to do and know, and how well they should undertake work tasks and work roles. At Level 2 and above, these qualifications are recognised as the competence component of Apprenticeship Frameworks. Qualifications at Level 1 can be used in Traineeships, which are stepping-stones to Apprenticeship qualifications. Competence-based qualifications can also be delivered as standalone for those who wish to take a work-based qualification.

Competence-based qualifications are outcomes-based with no fixed learning programme - allowing flexible delivery that meets the individual learner's needs. They are suitable for those in employment or those who are studying at college and have a part-time job or access to a substantial work placement so that they are able to demonstrate the competencies that are required for work.

Most learners will work towards their qualification in the workplace or in settings that replicate the working environment as specified in the assessment requirements/strategy for the sector. Colleges, training centres and/or employers can offer these qualifications provided they have access to appropriate physical and human resources.

Sizes of NVQ/Competence-based qualifications

For all regulated qualifications, we specify a total number of hours that learners are expected to undertake in order to complete and show achievement for the qualification – this is the Total Qualification Time (TQT). The TQT value indicates the size of a qualification.

Within the TQT, we identify the number of Guided Learning Hours (GLH) that a centre delivering the qualification needs to provide. Guided learning means activities that directly or immediately involve tutors and assessors in teaching, supervising, and invigilating learners, for example lectures, tutorials, online instruction and supervised study.

As well as guided learning, there may be other required learning that is directed by tutors or assessors. This includes, for example, private study, preparation for assessment and undertaking assessment when not under supervision, such as preparatory reading, revision and independent research.

As well as TQT and GLH, qualifications can also have a credit value – equal to one tenth of TQT, rounded to the nearest whole number.

TQT and credit values are assigned after consultation with users of the qualifications.

NVQ/Competence-based qualifications are available in the following sizes:

- Award a qualification with a TQT value of 120 or less (equivalent to a range of 1–12 credits)
- Certificate a qualification with a TQT value in the range of 121–369 (equivalent to a range of 13–36 credits)
- Diploma a qualification with a TQT value of 370 or more (equivalent to 37 credits and above).

| Grading information            | The qualification and units are graded pass/fail.   |
| Entry requirements             | No prior knowledge, understanding, skills or qualifications are required before learners register for this qualification. However, centres must follow the Pearson Access and Recruitment policy (see Section 7, Access and Recruitment). |
| Funding                        | Qualifications eligible and funded for post-16-year-olds can be found on the funding Hub. The Skills Funding Agency also publishes a funding catalogue that lists the qualifications available for 19+ funding.                           |

Centres will need to use the Qualification Number (QN) when they seek public funding for their learners. As well as a QN, each unit within a qualification has a unit reference number (URN).

The qualification title, unit titles and QN will appear on each learner's final certificate. Centres should tell learners this when recruiting them and registering them with Pearson. There is more information about certification in our UK Information Manual, available on our website at: qualifications.pearson.com

3 Qualification rationale

Qualification objectives

The Pearson Edexcel Level 5 Diploma in Leadership for Health and Social Care and Children and Young People's Services (England) is for learners who work in, or who want to work in the Adult Social Care sector in England.

It gives learners the opportunity to:

- develop and demonstrate competence in leadership roles within either a Social Care or children and young people's services setting, such as:
  - o Managers of residential services
  - Assistant managers of residential services
  - Assistant managers
  - Senior Care workers
  - Day service managers
  - Day service assistant managers
  - Managers of domiciliary services
  - Assistant managers of domiciliary services
  - Managers of community based services.
- develop technical skills and knowledge and understanding related to the specified job roles above in health and social care or children and young people's services such as understanding safeguarding, managing health and safety risks and partnership working.
- · have existing skills recognised
- achieve a nationally-recognised Level 5 qualification
- develop their own personal growth and engagement in learning.

Relationship with previous qualifications

This qualification is a direct replacement for the Pearson Edexcel Level 5 NVQ Diploma in Leadership for Health and Social Care and Children and Young People's Services (England) (QCF), which expired on 31st October 2014. The old qualification with QN 600/0744/8 was replaced in order to meet the SASE Higher Apprenticeship framework requirements for minimum credit value of 90 credits.

This new qualification was amended in August 2015 to remove the Children and Young People's Residential Management pathway which has been replaced by the new Pearson BTEC Level 5 Diploma in Leadership and Management for Residential Childcare (England) with QN 601/5401/9, which has been live for registration since January 2015.

Apprenticeships

Skills for Care and Development include the Pearson Edexcel Level 5 Diploma in Leadership for Health and Social Care and Children and Young People's Services (England) as the competencies component for the Higher Apprenticeship in Care Leadership and Management (England) (General Adult Social Care).

Apprentices are required to achieve a minimum of 90 credits and must include the unit below, included as an option within the qualification:

• Unit 70, Understand Professional Management and Leadership in Health and Social Care or Children and Young People's Settings (F/504/2218).

Progression opportunities

Learners who achieve the Pearson Edexcel Level 5 Diploma can progress to higher education courses in health and social care leadership or courses in working with children and young people at undergraduate or postgraduate level.

Industry support and recognition

This qualification is supported by Skills for Care and Development, the Sector Skills Council for Adult Social Care.

Relationship with National Occupational Standards

This qualification is based on the National Occupational Standards (NOS) in Health and Social Care, which were set and designed by Skills for Care and Development, the Sector Skills Council for the sector.

5 Programme delivery

Centres are free to offer these qualifications using any mode of delivery (for example full-time, part-time, evening only, distance learning) that meets learners' needs. Learners must be in employment or working with a training provider on a programme so that they can develop and demonstrate the occupational competence required.

Whichever mode of delivery is used, centres must make sure that learners have access to specified resources and to the sector specialists delivering and assessing the units. Centres must adhere to the Pearson policies that apply to the different modes of delivery. Our policy on Collaborative arrangements for the delivery of vocational qualifications can be found on our website: http://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/support-topics/understanding-our-

http://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/support-topics/understanding-ourqualifications/policies-for-centres-learners-and-employees.html

There are various approaches to delivering a successful competence-based qualification. The section below outlines elements of good practice that centres can adopt in relation to learner recruitment, preparation and support, training and assessment delivery, and employer engagement.

Elements of good practice

Learner recruitment, preparation and support

Good practice in relation to learner recruitment, preparation and support include:

- providing initial advice and guidance, including work tasters, to potential learners to give them an insight into the relevant industry and the learning programme
- using a range of appropriate and rigorous selection methods to ensure that learners are matched to the programme best suited to their needs
- carrying out a thorough induction for learners to ensure that they completely understand the programme and what is expected of them. The induction can include, for example, the requirements of the programme, an initial assessment of current competency levels, assessment of individual learning styles, identification of training needs, an individual learning plan, details of training delivery, the assessment process. It is good practice to involve employers in the induction process, this helps them to understand what will be taking place during the programme and enables them to start building a relationship with the centre to support the effective delivery of the programme
- keeping in regular contact with the learner to keep them engaged and motivated, and ensuring that there are open lines of communication with the learner, the assessor, the employer and teaching staff.

Training and assessment delivery

Good practice in relation to training and assessment delivery include:

- Offering flexible delivery and assessment to meet the needs of the employer and learner, through the use of a range of approaches, for example virtual learning environments (VLEs), online lectures, video, printable online resources, virtual visits, webcams for distance training, e-portfolios.
- Planning opportunities for the development and practising of skills on the job.
   On-the-job training presents an excellent opportunity to develop the learner's routine expertise, resourcefulness, craftspersonship and business-like attitude.
   It is therefore important that there is intentional structuring of practice and guidance to supplement the learning and development provided through engagement in everyday work activities. Learners need to have structured time to learn and practice their skills separate from their everyday work activities.
   Teaching and learning methods, such as coaching, mentoring, shadowing, reflective practice, collaboration and consultation, could be used in this structured on-the-job learning.
- Integrating the delivery and assessment of Personal, Learning and Thinking Skills (PLTS) and Employment Rights and Responsibilities (ERR) if the programme is being delivered as a part of an Apprenticeship. It is important that learners understand the relevance of these skills in the workplace and are aware of when and how they will be developing them.
- Developing an holistic approach to assessment by matching evidence to different assessment criteria, learning outcomes and units as appropriate, thereby reducing the assessment burden on learners and assessors. It is good practice to draw up an assessment plan that aligns the units with the learning process and the acquisition of knowledge and skills, and that indicates how and when the units will be assessed.
- Discussing and agreeing with the learner and employer suitable times, dates and work areas where assessment will take place. Learners and employers should be given regular and relevant feedback on performance and progress.

Employer engagement

Good practice in relation to employer engagement include:

- Communicating with employers at the start of the programme to understand their business context and requirements so that the programme can be tailored to meet their needs.
- Working with the employer to ensure that learners are allocated a mentor in the workplace to assist them in the day-to-day working environment and to act as a contact for the assessor/tutor.
- Helping the employer to better understand their role in the delivery of the programme. It is important that employers understand that sufficient and relevant work must be given to learners in order to provide a culture of learning and to ensure that they are given every opportunity to participate in aspects of continuous professional development (CPD).

6 Centre resource requirements

As part of the approval process, centres must make sure that the resource requirements below are in place before offering the qualification.

- Centres must have the appropriate physical resources to support delivery and assessment of the qualification. For example, a workplace in line with industry standards, or a Realistic Working Environment (RWE), where permitted, as specified in the assessment requirements/strategy for the sector, equipment, IT, learning materials, teaching rooms.
- Where RWE is permitted, it must offer the same conditions as the normal, day-to-day working environment, with a similar range of demands, pressures and requirements for cost-effective working.
- Centres must meet any specific human and physical resource requirements outlined in the assessment requirements/strategy in Annexe A. Staff assessing learners must meet the occupational competence requirements within the overarching assessment requirements/strategy for the sector.
- There must be systems in place to ensure continuing professional development for staff delivering the qualification.
- Centres must have appropriate health and safety policies, procedures and practices in place for the delivery and assessment of the qualification.
- Centres must deliver the qualification in accordance with current equality legislation. For further details on Pearson's commitment to the Equality Act 2010, please see Section 7, Access and recruitment. For full details on the Equality Act 2010, please go to www.legislation.gov.uk

7 Access and recruitment

Our policy on access to our qualifications is that:

- they should be available to everyone who is capable of reaching the required standards
- they should be free from barriers that restrict access and progression
- there should be equal opportunities for all wishing to access the qualifications.

Centres must ensure that their learner recruitment process is conducted with integrity. This includes ensuring that applicants have appropriate information and advice about the qualification to ensure that it will meet their needs.

Centres should review applicants' prior qualifications and/or experience, considering whether this profile shows that they have the potential to achieve the qualification.

Prior knowledge, skills and understanding

This qualification is for all learners aged 19+ who are capable of reaching the required standards. Learners do not need any prior qualifications, knowledge or experience before starting the qualification, however they are likely to be employed in and have experience of working in a social care or children and young people's services setting.

Access to qualifications for learners with disabilities or specific needs

Equality and fairness are central to our work. Pearson's Equality Policy requires all learners to have equal opportunity to access our qualifications and assessments and that our qualifications are awarded in a way that is fair to every learner.

We are committed to making sure that:

- learners with a protected characteristic (as defined by the Equality Act 2010) are not, when they are undertaking one of our qualifications, disadvantaged in comparison to learners who do not share that characteristic
- all learners achieve the recognition they deserve from undertaking a qualification and that this achievement can be compared fairly to the achievement of their peers.

For learners with disabilities and specific needs, the assessment of their potential to achieve the qualification must identify, where appropriate, the support that will be made available to them during delivery and assessment of the qualification. Please see the information regarding reasonable adjustments and special consideration in Section 8, Assessment.

8 Assessment

To achieve a pass for the full qualification, the learner must achieve all the units required in the stated qualification structure.

Language of assessment

Assessment of the internally assessed units may be in English, Welsh or Irish. If assessment is to be carried out in either Welsh or Irish then centres must inform Pearson at the point of learner registration.

A learner taking the qualification may be assessed in British or Irish Sign Language where it is permitted for the purpose of reasonable adjustment.

Further information on the use of language in qualifications is available in our policy document Use of languages in qualifications policy, available on our website at: qualifications.pearson.com

Further information on access arrangements can be found in the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ) document Access Arrangements, Reasonable Adjustments and Special Consideration for General and Vocational qualifications. Both documents are on our website at: http://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/support-topics/understanding-our-qualifications/policies-for-centres-learners-and-employees.html

Internal assessment

The units in this qualification are assessed through an internally and externally quality assured Portfolio of Evidence made up of evidence gathered during the course of the learner's work.

Each unit has specified learning outcomes and assessment criteria. To pass each unit the learner must:

- achieve all the specified learning outcomes
- satisfy all the assessment criteria by providing sufficient and valid evidence for each criterion
- prove that the evidence is their own.

The learner must have an assessment record that identifies the assessment criteria that have been met. The assessment record should be cross-referenced to the evidence provided. The assessment record should include details of the type of evidence and the date of assessment. Suitable centre documentation should be used to form an assessment record.

It is important that the evidence provided to meet the assessment criteria for the unit and learning outcomes is:

Valid relevant to the standards for which competence is claimed

Authentic produced by the learner

Current sufficiently recent to create confidence that the same skill, understanding or knowledge persist at the time of the claim

Reliable indicates that the learner can consistently perform at this level

Sufficient fully meets the requirements of the standards.

Learners can provide evidence of occupational competence from:

current practice – where evidence is generated from a current job role

- a programme of development where evidence comes from assessment opportunities built into a learning programme. The evidence provided must meet the requirements of the Sector Skills Council's assessment requirements/strategy.
- the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) where a learner can demonstrate that they can meet a unit's assessment criteria through knowledge, understanding or skills they already possess without undertaking a course of development. They must submit sufficient, reliable, authentic and valid evidence for assessment. Evidence submitted that is based on RPL should give the centre confidence that the same level of skill, understanding and knowledge exists at the time of claim as existed at the time the evidence was produced. RPL is acceptable for accrediting a unit, several units, or a whole qualification.
- Further guidance is available in our policy document Recognition of Prior Learning Policy and Process, available on our website at: http://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/support-topics/understanding-our-qualifications/policies-for-centres-learners-and-employees.html
- a combination of these.

Assessment strategy

The assessment strategy for this qualification is included in Annexe A. It sets out the overarching assessment principles and the framework for assessing the units to ensure that the qualification remain valid and reliable. It has been developed by Skills for Care and Social Development (SfCD) in partnership with employers, training providers, awarding organisations and the regulatory authorities.

Types of evidence

To achieve a unit, the learner must gather evidence that shows that they have met the required standard specified in the assessment criteria, Pearson's quality assurance arrangements (please see Section 10, Quality assurance of centres) and the requirements of the assessment requirements/strategy given in Annexe A.

In line with the assessment requirements/strategy, evidence for internally assessed units can take a variety of forms as indicated below:

- direct observation of the learner's performance by their assessor (O)
- outcomes from oral or written questioning (Q&A)
- products of the learner's work (P)
- personal statements and/or reflective accounts (RA)
- outcomes from simulation (S)
- professional discussion (PD)
- authentic statements/witness testimony (WT)
- expert witness testimony (EWT)
- evidence of Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL).

Learners can use the abbreviations in their portfolios for cross-referencing purposes.

Learners can also use one piece of evidence to prove their knowledge, skills and understanding across different assessment criteria and/or across different units. It is not necessary for learners to have each assessment criterion assessed separately. They should be encouraged to reference evidence to the relevant assessment criteria. However, the evidence provided for each unit must be clearly reference the unit being assessed. Evidence must be available to the assessor, the internal verifier and the Pearson standards verifier.

Any specific evidence requirements for a unit are given in the Assessment section of the unit.

Further guidance on the requirements for centre quality assurance and internal verification processes is available on our website at: qualifications.pearson.com. Please see Section 12, Further information and useful publications for details.

Appeals

Centres must have a policy for dealing with appeals from learners. Appeals may relate to incorrect assessment decisions or unfairly conducted assessment. The first step in such a policy is a consideration of the evidence by a Lead Internal Verifier or other member of the programme team. The assessment plan should allow time for potential appeals after learners have been given assessment decisions.

Centres must document all learners' appeals and their resolutions. Further information on the appeals process can be found in the document Enquiries and appeals about Pearson vocational qualifications policy, which is available on our website at: http://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/support-topics/understanding-our-qualifications/policies-for-centres-learners-and-employees.html

Dealing with malpractice

Centres must have a policy for dealing with malpractice by learners. This policy must follow the Pearson Assessment Malpractice Policy, which is available on our website at: http://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/support-topics/understanding-our-qualifications/policies-for-centres-learners-and-employees.html. Centres must report malpractice to Pearson, particularly if any units have been subject to quality assurance or certification.

Reasonable adjustments to assessment

Centres are able to make adjustments to assessments to take account of the needs of individual learners in line with the guidance given in the document Pearson Supplementary Guidance for Reasonable Adjustment and Special Consideration in Vocational Internally Assessed Units. In most instances, adjustments can be achieved by following the guidance; for example allowing the use of assistive technology or adjusting the format of the evidence. We can advise you if you are uncertain as to whether an adjustment is fair and reasonable. Any reasonable adjustment must reflect the normal learning or working practice of a learner in a centre or working within the occupational area.

Both documents are on our website at:

http://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/support-topics/understanding-our-qualifications/policies-for-centres-learners-and-employees.html

Special consideration

Centres must operate special consideration in line with the guidance given in the document Pearson Supplementary Guidance for Reasonable Adjustment and Special Consideration in Vocational Internally Assessed Units. Special consideration may not be applicable in instances where:

- assessment requires the demonstration of practical competence
- criteria have to be met fully
- units/qualifications confer licence to practice.

Centres cannot apply their own special consideration; applications for special consideration must be made to Pearson and can be made only on a case-by-case basis. A separate application must be made for each learner and certification claims must not be made until the outcome of the application has been received.

Further information on special consideration can be found in the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ) document Access Arrangements, Reasonable Adjustments and Special Consideration for General and Vocational qualifications.

Both of the documents mentioned above are on our website at: http://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/support-topics/understanding-our-qualifications/policies-for-centres-learners-and-employees.html

9 Centre recognition and approval

Centre recognition

Centres that have not previously offered Pearson vocational qualifications need to apply for and be granted centre recognition and approval as part of the process for approval to offer individual qualifications.

Existing centres will be given 'automatic approval' for a new qualification if they are already approved for a qualification that is being replaced by a new qualification and the conditions for automatic approval are met.

Guidance on seeking approval to deliver Pearson vocational qualifications is available at www.pearsonwbl.edexcel.com/qualifications-approval.

Approvals agreement

All centres are required to enter into an approval agreement, which is a formal commitment by the head or principal of a centre, to meet all the requirements of the specification and any associated codes, conditions or regulations. Pearson will act to protect the integrity of the awarding of qualifications. If centres do not comply with the agreement, this could result in the suspension of certification or withdrawal of approval.

10 Quality assurance of centres

Quality assurance is at the heart of vocational qualifications. Centres are required to declare their commitment to ensuring quality and to giving learners appropriate opportunities that lead to valid and accurate assessment outcomes.

Centres must follow quality assurance requirements for standardisation of assessors and internal verifiers and the monitoring and recording of assessment processes. Pearson uses external quality assurance procedures to check that all centres are working to national standards. It gives us the opportunity to identify and provide support to safeguard certification and quality standards. It also allows us to recognise and support good practice.

Centres offering competence-based qualifications will usually receive two standards verification visits per year (a total of two days per year). The exact frequency and duration of standards verifier visits will reflect the centre's performance, taking account of the:

- number of assessment sites
- number and throughput of learners
- number and turnover of assessors
- number and turnover of internal verifiers.

For centres offering a full Pearson BTEC Apprenticeship (i.e. all elements of the Apprenticeship are delivered with Pearson through registration of learners on a BTEC Apprenticeship framework) a single standards verifier will normally be allocated to verify all elements of the BTEC Apprenticeship programme. Centres should make use of our one-click learner registration to access this facility. If a centre is also offering stand-alone NVQs/Competence-based qualifications in the same sector as a full BTEC Apprenticeship, the same standards verifier should be allocated. If a centre is also offering stand-alone BTEC qualifications in the same sector as a full BTEC Apprenticeship, a different quality assurance model applies.

In order for certification to be released, confirmation is required that the National Occupational Standards (NOS) for assessment and verification, and for the specific occupational sector are being met consistently.

For further details, please go to the NVQ Quality Assurance Centre Handbook, the BTEC Apprenticeships Quality Assurance Handbook and the Pearson Edexcel NVQs, SVQs and competence-based qualifications – Delivery Requirements and Quality Assurance Guidance on our website at www.pearsonwbl.edexcel.com

11 Unit format

Each unit has the following sections.

Unit title

This is the formal title of the unit that will appear on the learner's certificate.

Unit reference number

Each unit is assigned a unit reference number that appears with the unit title on the Register of Regulated Qualifications.

Level

All units and qualifications have a level assigned to them. The level assigned is informed by the level descriptors by Ofqual, the qualifications regulator.

Credit value

All units have a credit value. When a learner achieves a unit, they gain the specified number of credits. The minimum credit value is 1 and credits can be awarded in whole numbers only.

Guided learning hours

Guided Learning Hours (GLH) is the number of hours that a centre delivering the qualification needs to provide. Guided learning means activities that directly or immediately involve tutors and assessors in teaching, supervising, and invigilating learners, for example lectures, tutorials, online instruction and supervised study.

Unit summary

This summarises the purpose of the unit and the learning the unit offers.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

The SSC/B set the assessment/evidence requirements. Learners must provide evidence according to each of the requirements stated in this section.

Assessment methodology

This provides a summary of the assessment methodology to be used for the unit.

Learning outcomes

The learning outcomes set out what a learner will know, understand or be able to do as the result of a process of learning.

Assessment criteria

Descriptions of the requirements a learner is expected to meet to demonstrate that a learning outcome has been achieved.

Unit content

The unit content identifies the breadth of knowledge, skills and understanding needed to design and deliver a programme of learning to achieve each of the learning outcomes. This is informed by the underpinning knowledge and understanding requirements of the related National Occupational Standards (NOS), where relevant. The content provides the range of subject material for the programme of learning and specifies the skills, knowledge and understanding required for achievement of the unit.

Each learning outcome is stated in full and then the key phrases or concepts related to that learning outcome are listed in italics followed by the subsequent range of related topics.

Unit 1: Use and Develop

Systems that Promote

Communication

Unit reference number: F/602/2335

Level: 5

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 24

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to develop communication systems for meeting individual outcomes and promoting partnership working. The unit explores the challenges and barriers to communication and the importance of effective management of information.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 1, 2, 3 and 4 must be assessed in the work setting.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Learning outcomes and assessment criteria

To pass this unit, the learner needs to demonstrate that they can meet all the learning outcomes for the unit. The assessment criteria outline the requirements the learner is expected to meet to achieve the unit.

Content

1 Be able to address the range of communication requirements in own role

Groups and individuals: clients; families; advocates; internal staff; liaising with external agencies, e.g. Care Quality Commission, health professionals, social services

Methods of communication: verbal; non-verbal, e.g. signs, pictorial, written, electronic, assisted; personal; organisational; formal; informal; promotional; informative

Support: empowerment; promotion of rights; maintaining confidentiality; personalisation

Barriers and challenges: type of communication, e.g. difficult, complex, sensitive; language needs/preferences; disability; personality; environment; time; self-esteem and self-image of others; anxiety; depression; assumptions; cultural differences; value and belief systems; stereotypes; use and abuse of power; attitude; assertiveness, aggressiveness, submissiveness; responses to behaviour; effects on identity

2 Be able to improve communication systems and practices that support positive outcomes for individuals

Communication systems: internal, e.g. records, handovers, client files, staff meetings; external, e.g. multi-agency working, shared records, email, electronic files, fax, face to face

Effectiveness of existing communication systems and practices: maintaining confidentiality; complying with legal requirements, e.g. Essential Standards for Safety and Quality; meeting organisational requirements

Propose improvements to communication systems and practices to address any shortcomings: proposals in meetings through written or oral communication; shortcomings, e.g. in shared access with multi-agency working; who can have access and when this is appropriate; maintaining accurate records, e.g. ensuring all information is documented in full and accurately

Lead the implementation of revised communication systems and practices: communicating with staff on change through team meetings; involving and listening to ideas and problems; finding solutions; being able to compromise; alleviating anxieties of others; designating new roles, responsibilities and practices

3 Be able to improve communication systems to support partnership working

Use communication systems to promote partnership working: shared records, e.g. electronic, written, email, fax, face-to-face; working effectively together with people, e.g. professionals, agencies and organisations to enhance the wellbeing of people and support positive and improved outcomes

Compare the effectiveness of different communications systems for partnership working: computerised systems; shared records and access; power issue, e.g. who has access and who is excluded; faster response and retrieval of information; increased frequency with which information is collected and shared; standardisation across partnership working

Propose improvements to communication systems for partnership working: proposals in meetings through written or oral communication; liaising with external partners through meetings; involving and listening to ideas and problems; finding solutions; being able to compromise; alleviating anxieties of others

4 Be able to use systems for effective information management

Explain legal and ethical tensions between maintaining confidentiality and sharing information: Data Protection Act 1998; CQC Essential Standards on Safety and Quality; ethical issues when to share information; who to share with; when to maintain confidentiality

Analyse the essential features of information-sharing agreements within and between organisations: who can access records and who is excluded; circumstances for sharing information; boundaries to agreement

Demonstrate use of information management systems that meet legal and ethical requirements: Data Protection Act 1998; CQC Essential Standards on Safety and Quality; maintenance of records; positive promotion of individual rights; advocacy; work practices; putting the patient/service user at the heart of service provision

Unit 2: Promote Professional Development

Unit reference number: L/602/2578

Level: 4

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 33

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to promote the professional duty to maintain the currency of knowledge and skills and the need to continually reflect on and improve practice.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3 and 4 must be assessed in the work setting.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Learning outcomes and assessment criteria

To pass this unit, the learner needs to demonstrate that they can meet all the learning outcomes for the unit. The assessment criteria outline the requirements the learner is expected to meet to achieve the unit.

Content

1 Understand principles of professional development

Improving professional development: understanding the meaning of professional practice and the need to continually improve; barriers to professional development – personal (intellectual, social, emotional), time pressures (family or other commitments), financial barriers, organisational barriers and work pressures; how these might be managed and overcome

Sources and systems of support: information sources, e.g. books, internet; formal learning opportunities, e.g. mentoring, appraisal and formal supervision; informal learning opportunities, e.g. support from work colleagues; organisational support for personal development that links with business plans/organisational goals; how to recognise the most relevant sources of information and the most supportive approaches including partnership organisations

Factors to consider: how to assess the relevance of sources and systems of support in relation to personal, professional and organisational goals, e.g. relevant journals; methods of evaluating information sources, e.g. peer review, research (Social Care Institute for Excellence (SCIE), National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE), Cochrane library, NHS Information centre)

2 Prioritise goals and targets for professional development

Evaluate own knowledge and practice: how to assess own performance and how to benchmark own current practice using professional standards and operational benchmarks including codes of practice, regulations, minimum/essential standards and National Occupational Standards (NOS), e.g. by undertaking a personal skills inventory; how to identify personal goals and targets for improvement; how to identify and prioritise targets to meet standards, e.g. gaps in own knowledge, skills practice; personal goals, e.g. career progression and aspirations; personal development, e.g. how to critically review own beliefs and values

3 Produce a personal development plan

Developing a professional development plan: how to select formal and informal learning opportunities to meet identified goals, targets and objectives for personal development, e.g. being mentored or coached, shadowing, secondment, accredited and non-accredited courses; how to identify and consider own preferred learning style and recognise this within the plan; how to evaluate own plan, e.g. developing a timeframe, monitoring and review of plan, collecting evidence of achievement and performance, self-assessment against targets, validating plan with chosen mentor, colleague or manager

4 Improve performance through reflective practice

Models of reflective practice: e.g. Schon D, Moon, J, Gibbs reflective cycle, Johns model of reflection, Atkins and Murphy's model of reflection; feedback from others, importance of objectivity and how to achieve this; identifying reflection in practice and reflection on practice and when to use these, how reflective practice improves performance

Importance of reflective practice: links between theory and practice; how reflective practice influences future performance; reflective writing, e.g. storyboards, diaries, tape recordings, documenting achievements and mistakes; how you can influence others through learned theories applied to practice

Evaluation: formal and informal evaluation – self-assessment using personal documentation; assessment by others, e.g. supervisors, peer evaluation; ongoing evaluation using own criteria, e.g. milestone assessment, against personal development plan (PDP); feeding results of evaluation into PDP to establish cycle of continuous improvement

Unit 3: Champion Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

Unit reference number: Y/602/3183

Level: 5

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 34

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required a whole systems approach to equality, diversity and inclusion. The unit explores models of practice and requires demonstration of skills and understanding of systems and processes

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2 and 4 must be assessed in the work setting.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Learning outcomes and assessment criteria

To pass this unit, the learner needs to demonstrate that they can meet all the learning outcomes for the unit. The assessment criteria outline the requirements the learner is expected to meet to achieve the unit.

1 Understand diversity, equality and inclusion in own area of responsibility

Models of practice that underpin equality, diversity and inclusion in own area of responsibility: e.g. egalitarianism, equity, equality of opportunity, rights, privacy, individuality, independence, dignity, respect, partnerships respecting diversity, empowerment, equality of care, individual rights, individual choice, acceptance, confidentiality, redress, person-centred practice, wishes and needs, supporting privacy and dignity, allocating resources, current codes of practice, partnership working, quality assurance systems, protection from abuse and harm, support and attention for individuals, family, friends, carers, groups and communities, the European Union, local government, unions, meeting national minimum standards, responding to national initiatives, complaint procedures

Potential effects of barriers to equality and inclusion in own area of Responsibility: the law and effects on organisation when barriers exist, e.g. breaking the law and outcomes, self-esteem, self-concept, mental health, physical health, unsafe environment, harm and abuse; critical reflection; the cycle of oppression; learned helplessness; disempowerment, diminished life chance; social exclusion; being marginalised; poor interpersonal interactions and communication; risk assessment and case for action; new organisational structures and systems; lack of group cohesiveness; differing personalities; the media; prejudice; implications of non-compliance, e.g. financial, legal, moral, health

The impact of legislation and policy initiatives on the promotion of equality, diversity and inclusion in own area of responsibility: as relevant, e.g. Every Child Matters, Rights to Action, The Equal Pay Act 1975, The Disability Discrimination Act 1995, Race Relations Act 1976, The Children Act 1989, The Children Act 2004, The NHS and Community Care Act 1990, The Data Protection Act 1984, The Mental Health Act 1983, Sex Discrimination Acts 1975 and 1986, Care Standards Act 2000, Care Homes Regulations 2001, European Convention on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms 1950, The Convention on the Rights of the Child 1989, Human Rights Act 1998, The Disability Discrimination Act 2005; Codes of Practice, e.g. Code of Practice for Social care Workers and Code of Practice for Employers of Social Care Workers, Charters, Organisational Policies; The Patient's Charter; changes to practice, development and improvement needs; inter-professional working; how legislation impacts/shapes practice through own policies and codes of practice

2 Be able to champion diversity, equality and inclusion

Promote equality, diversity and inclusion in policy and practice: articulating own values and beliefs regarding, e.g. embracing diversity, recognising equality, respect and tolerance, non-judgemental attitudes, anti-discriminatory practice, the importance of challenging overt and covert discrimination; use of legislation; codes of practice; charters; staff training and CPD; keeping up to date with new developments; supervision; roles and accountability; quality assurance systems; record keeping; monitoring and evaluating processes; auditing; inspecting the workplace; management structure; meetings; workshops; principles of good practice; record keeping; enforcement and compliance; activities and opportunities for promotion

Challenging discrimination and exclusion in policy and practice – providing others with information about the effects of discrimination: positive and negative effects; short and long-term effects, e.g. health problems, unemployment, inequality; policy and practice reforms; roles and responsibilities; reduced productivity; reduced client numbers; redress

The impact of inclusion: e.g. self-esteem, self-concept, health, equality, respect, valued; improvements e.g. health, recovery rate, future progress, increased productivity, effective team and partnership working, increased client numbers, successful business

The value of diversity: e.g. increased knowledge of other cultures, religions, age, gender, sexuality; increased opportunities; enterprise

Support others to challenge discrimination and exclusion: e.g. positive culture, training and CPD opportunities, own and others contributions, responsibilities for management of practice, a safe environment, monitor and review; dilemmas, e.g. risk-benefit analysis, risk to self and others, resource implications, differing priorities between stakeholders/partners; promoting principles of good practice; reviewing practice; updating of policies and procedures, SWOT analysis

3 Understand how to develop systems and processes that promote diversity, equality and inclusion

How systems and processes can promote equality and inclusion or reinforce discrimination and exclusion: using relevant legislation; anti-discriminatory practice to combat, e.g. racism, ageism, sexism; in-house policies and codes of practice; audit of practice; staff appraisals; client/family questionnaire; actions from questionnaire results; sharing good practice and partnership working

The effectiveness of systems and processes in promoting equality, diversity and inclusion in own area of responsibility: specific improvements to individual client/staff, e.g. health, self-esteem, self-concept, staff happiness and productivity, timescales; effective communication of others' evaluations and use of for reforms in processes and systems

Propose improvements to address gaps or shortfalls in systems and processes: plans; team meeting; roles and responsibilities; timescales; audit; policy reform; allocation of resources

4 Be able to manage the risks presented when balancing individual rights and professional duty of care

Ethical dilemmas that may arise in own area of responsibility when balancing individual rights and duty of care: confidentiality versus disclosure; protection issues relating to individuals and to communities; sharing data between professionals; conflicts between principles of good practice and the values of others; rights and responsibilities of users of the service versus care workers and others; challenging behaviour; conflict; facilitator; advocate; advisor; counsellor; mentor; personal values and beliefs; legal responsibilities of disclosure

The principle of informed choice: e.g. professional, family, individual, child, the elderly; enabling environment; supporting others to make informed choices about the services they receive; making an informed choice; implementing an informed choice; decision making for both short term and long term; culture; values; views; unbiased information; evidence-based information; options

Issues of individual capacity may affect informed choice: e.g. physical health, mental health, the law, social class, culture, religion, age, ability, gender, location, family support, carer support, social mobility, communication and interpersonal skills

Propose a strategy to manage risks when balancing individual rights and duty of care in own area of responsibility: risk assessment and appropriate procedures; action plans; team meetings; monitoring and review; relevant legislation; roles and responsibilities; partnership working to include family and friends

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required for Health and Safety and Risk Management, including the development of policies, procedures and practices in health and social care or children and young people's settings.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3, 4 and 5 must be assessed in the work setting.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Learning outcomes and assessment criteria

To pass this unit, the learner needs to demonstrate that they can meet all the learning outcomes for the unit. The assessment criteria outline the requirements the learner is expected to meet to achieve the unit.

Content

Understand the current legislative framework and organisational health, safety and risk management policies, procedures and practices that are relevant to health and social care or children and young people's settings:

The legislative framework for health and safety: understanding the framework; the difference between Acts and Regulations and the roles and responsibilities of the Health and Safety Executive (HSE); role of service managers and team leaders, employees and service users under the law, e.g. Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and the Management of Health and Safety Regulations 1999 (amended 2003); RIDDOR 1995; COSSH 1994 (amended 2002); Manual Handling Operations 1992; Food Safety Act 1990 and Food Hygiene Regulations 2006; Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order (FSO) 2005

The contribution of policies, procedures and practices to health and safety: how organisational policies support the implementation of the legislation; how work practices are influenced by the legislation and how the way in which procedures are developed is influenced by legislation in own work setting in relation to health, safety and risk management

2 Be able to implement and monitor compliance with health, safety and risk management requirements in health and social care or children and young people's settings

Supporting compliance: the importance of being a role model for health and safety compliance and what this means for practice

Supporting others: others including colleagues and practitioners, individuals and their carers/significant others, and visitors to the setting, including inspectors and regulators; supporting others to comply with health and safety requirements including policies, practices and procedures through advising, mentoring, coaching, training

Monitoring compliance: how to identify non-compliance and the correct action to take in different circumstances, e.g. what to do when observing a colleague failing to follow food hygiene policy or failing to place hazard notices during cleaning procedures

Completing records: how to develop and implement reporting procedures in line with legislation and the requirements of the organisation

3 Be able to lead the implementation of policies, procedures and practices to manage risk to individuals and others in health and social care or children and young people's settings

Developing and implementing risk assessment and risk management policies: implementing the five steps to planning a risk assessment; understanding how risk assessment is used in the development of policies, procedures and practices in health and social care or childcare services, including the relationship to safeguarding

Working with individuals and others to assess and manage potential risks and hazards: working with a range of other people and organisations to assess potential risks, identify hazards and develop policies to manage risk in your area of responsibility, e.g. individuals accessing care or support, workers/practitioners, carers, significant others, visitors to the work setting, Local Area Safeguarding Boards or equivalent, carers and domiciliary workers, personal assistants

4 Be able to promote a culture where needs and risks are balanced with health and safety practice in health and social care or children and young people's settings

Balancing management of risks with individual rights: understanding how to raise awareness of the importance of risk taking to the development of independence, health and wellbeing of individuals in own setting; understanding how to identify opportunities to promote independence and develop a culture where individuals can take calculated risks whilst remaining safe

Working with individuals and others: taking action to help others understand the importance of a balance between risks and individual rights, including the concept of calculated risk (risk assessment)

Evaluating own practice: through reflective action; analysing the benefits for improved practice of supporting colleagues and others to assess and manage risk

Supporting others: encouraging others to reflect on their practice in relation to risk management

5 Be able to improve health, safety and risk management policies, procedures and practices in health and social care or children and young people's settings

Obtaining feedback: e.g. from staff, individuals, carers, significant others, domiciliary workers

Evaluating policies: setting up an evaluation cycle for health and safety policy review

Identifying improvements: keeping up to date with health and safety issues; identifying methods of updating staff

Recommending changes: recommending changes to policies, procedures or practice in the context of new and emerging health, safety and risk management issues, e.g. staff changes

Unit 5: Work in Partnership in

Health and Social Care or Children and Young

People's Settings

Unit reference number: A/602/3189

Level: 4

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 26

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to implement and promote effective partnership working.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3 and 4 must be assessed in the work setting.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Learning outcomes and assessment criteria

To pass this unit, the learner needs to demonstrate that they can meet all the learning outcomes for the unit. The assessment criteria outline the requirements the learner is expected to meet to achieve the unit.

1 Understand partnership working

Effective partnership working: placing individuals accessing care or services at the centre; shared purpose and vision; common purpose to improve individuals' lives; other features, e.g. trust, empathy, respect for the skills and contribution of colleagues, communication, realistic expectations, clear objectives, honesty; working to agreed practices; maintenance of balance between task and relationship orientation; effective listening skills; Team Role Theory (Belbin 1970s), avoidance of groupthink (Janis, 1960), avoidance of social loafing; supportive approach

Importance of partnership working: importance for improved outcomes for individuals accessing services; maintenance of trust; promotion of the communication cycle; achievement of objectives; maximum utilisation of expertise; reduced duplication of tasks and services; shared responsibilities; meeting common objectives; integrated workforce agenda; shared skills and knowledge; colleagues, e.g. social care support workers, nurses, managers; other types of staff within the setting, e.g. kitchen workers, domestic staff; other professionals, e.g. workers from other agencies or organisations, advocates, independent visitors; others, e.g. individuals, children and young people, families, carers, friends of the individual, advocates

Effects on outcomes: improved quality of support for users of services; dissemination of good practice; a co-ordinated approach to service delivery; reduced duplication of services; reduced professional isolation; minimisation of barriers to communication; delivery of flexible services centred on individual needs

Overcoming barriers: shared goals and objectives; recognition of shared aims; continuing communication; involving individuals in key decisions; early intervention; sharing of information; understanding of respective roles, responsibilities and expertise; shared use of language/terminology; clear rationale for joint working; commitment to partnership; joint training; agreed joint protocols; informal meetings, networking and team-building activities; recognition of the contribution of others

2 Be able to establish and maintain working relationships with colleagues

Own role when working with colleagues: maintenance of professional approach; upholding sector principles and values; willingness to share concerns; recognition of own limitations; sharing relevant information; completion of own tasks; reporting concerns to colleagues, managers, others; Tuckman's stages

Common objectives: negotiation; compromise; clear communication; setting goals and targets; users of services at the centre of planning; open approach

Evaluation of own working relationship: self-appraisal; acceptance of feedback; measurement against set targets; review of objectives

Dealing with conflict: openness and honesty; identification of issues; establishment of common ground; formulation of points of agreement; equalisation of power; pursuance of common goals; use of third parties to aid negotiation; non-judgemental approach; self-appraisal

3 Be able to establish and maintain working relationships with other professionals

Own role and responsibilities: other professionals, e.g. workers from other agencies or organisations, advocates, independent visitors; upholding sector principles and values; maintenance of a professional approach; providing flexible services centred on individual; sharing of information; respect for the skills, roles and responsibilities of other professionals; recognition of limits of own role; adherence to protocols, procedures and practices; effective recording and storing of information; avoidance of jargon/acronyms; proactive initiation of necessary actions; confidence to challenge where appropriate; stating own judgements assertively; know requirements of own role and responsibilities; sharing relevant information; timely communication

Procedures for effective working relationships: establishment of common objectives, goals and targets; use of established tools, processes and procedures

Agree common objectives: use of SMART, (Specific, Achievable Measurable, Realistic, Time-managed) objectives; realistic approach; maintain standards; clarify understanding; avoidance of jargon/acronyms; recognition of boundaries of own role and responsibilities; clear communication

Dealing with conflict: identification of issues; establishment of common ground; equalisation of power where appropriate; use of third parties to aid negotiation; appropriate challenge; listening skills, empathy; self-appraisal

4 Be able to work in partnership with others

Importance of working in partnership with others: others, e.g. individuals, children and young people, families, carers, friends of the individual, advocates; user of services at the centre of the process; use of information from the individual's social circle; person-centred approach to care and support; recognition of individual within their community; promotion of the individual's wellbeing; a holistic approach

Procedures for effective working relationships: establishing a shared understanding; setting boundaries, e.g. confidentiality, involvement in delivery of support and care; promotion of problem solving; mechanisms for managing potential areas of conflict; regular communication; recording and storing of information; individual at the centre of the process

Agree common objectives: use of SMART objectives; individual at the centre of the process; recognition of boundaries of own role and responsibilities; reference to objectives and guidelines of the setting; recording of information; agreed agendas

Evaluate procedures: monitor and review process; measured against set outcomes; impact on individuals

Dealing with conflict: identification of issues; establishment of common ground; non-judgemental approach; self-appraisal; equalisation of power where appropriate; formulation of points of agreement; listening skills; empathy; use of third parties for arbitration

Unit 6: Understand Children and Young Person's

Development

Unit reference number: F/601/9449

Level: 5

Credit value: 6

Guided learning hours: 30

Unit summary

This unit provides knowledge and understanding of how children and young people from birth to 19 years develop. The unit also explores actions which should be taken when differences in development are identified and the potential effects of transitions on children and young people's development.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit needs to be assessed in line with Skills for care and development Assessment Principles.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Learning outcomes and assessment criteria

To pass this unit, the learner needs to demonstrate that they can meet all the learning outcomes for the unit. The assessment criteria outline the requirements the learner is expected to meet to achieve the unit.

Content

1 Understand the pattern of development that would normally be expected for children and young people from birth-19 yrs

The sequence and rate of each aspect of development that would normally be expected in children and young people from birth-19 years: definition of development; physical development (gross motor skills, fine motor skills, sensory development); speech and language (receptive, expressive, articulation); intellectual/cognitive development e.g. concept, understanding, reasoning, imagination, creativity, perception; social development e.g. bonding and attachment, developing positive relationships; emotional/behavioural e.g. feeling valued, self-identity; emotional boundaries, feelings, sexual development; confidence; moral development e.g. concept of right and wrong, values, respect

The difference between sequence of development and rate of development and why the distinction is important: development follows a sequence from simple to complex and from head to toe; inner to outer, general to specific; interrelationship between aspects of development; links between development of the brain and emotional wellbeing (Goleman); variations in the way children pass through sequences of development; normal ranges; strengths and weaknesses of a biological approach to development (Gesell's theory of maturation); optimum periods for development; differences in rate/speed of development; growth spurts; puberty; identifying developmental delay; the need for a holistic approach

The reasons why children and young people's development may not follow the pattern normally expected: genetic and biological influences e.g. disability, health, gender; needs e.g. physical, social, learning; socio-economic factors e.g. family circumstances, community, education, culture, employment/income, education, access to health and care services; environmental e.g. pollution, housing, access to leisure facilities; communication difficulties e.g. speech and language delay, English as an additional language; emotional reasons

2 Understand the factors that impact on children and young people's development

How children and young people's development is influenced by a range of personal factors: health status e.g. chronic illness, mental illness; disability (congenital, developmental, illness or accident); children with complex needs; sensory impairment (sight and/or hearing); specific learning difficulties e.g. literacy, numeracy; giftedness; emotional difficulties; genetic factors; predisposition; effects of personal or common transition; attachment; effects of using illegal substances

How children and young people's development is influenced by a range of external factors: the effects of poverty and deprivation; abuse (sexual, physical, emotional, neglect); family environment and background e.g. family structure, parenting styles; culture, housing, community; pre conceptual care; antenatal care; social exclusion; behaviour of mother during pregnancy e.g. smoking, nutrition, drugs or alcohol intake, diet; personal choices e.g. diet, exercise, rest and sleep, leisure activities, media, safe sex; looked after/care status e.g. foster care, residential care; children as carers; effects of crime; lack of stimulation; educational opportunities; compensatory education

How theories of development and frameworks to support development influence current practice: cognitive development theories; learning dispositions; behaviourist approach (Pavlov, Skinner, Watson); constructivist approach (Piaget, Vygotsky, Bruner); information processing; psychoanalytic (Freud, Erikson); humanist theory (Maslow, Rogers); social learning theory (Bandura); attachment theories (Winnicott, Bowlby, Rutter); constructivist approach (Donaldson, Athey); language development theories (Chomsky, Trevarthen); ecological systems theory (Bronfenbremer); curriculum approaches (Te Whāriki); Kohlberg's levels of moral development; social pedagogy; Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS)

Influence on practice: child-centred approach; behaviour strategies; curriculum approaches e.g. Reggio Emilia, High Scope; teaching and learning strategies; personalised learning programmes; inclusive practice; use of observation; role of key workers

3 Understand the benefits of early intervention to support the development of children and young people

Importance of early identification of development delay: identification, e.g. neonatal tests, health checks, growth charts, screening programmes (hearing, sight), observation; improving outcomes in all areas of development; prevention of harm; timely coordination of services; providing support for families or communities; removal of barriers; provision of targeted and/or specialist services; improving quality of life; reducing the likelihood of behaviour problems

The potential risks of late recognition of development delay: delay in identifying services and putting interventions into place; children and young people not meeting their full potential; outcomes not being met; effecting/causing delay in other areas of development; effects on self-esteem; reducing potential for independent living

How multi-agency teams work together to support all aspects of development in children and young people: Every Child matters, 2005; Child Care Act 2006; multi-agency working, e.g. multi-agency panels, multi-agency teams, integrated services; commissioning of services; role of lead professionals; child-centred approaches; common assessment framework, coordinated planning, delivery and review, Aiming High for Disabled Children – National Service Framework; sharing information; shared resources; parents as partners

How play and leisure activities can be used to support all aspects of development of children and young people: role of play (Bruce, Moyles) value of play (Froebel, Steiner, Isaacs, Montessori); value of freely chosen play; types of play and leisure activities, e.g. physical, creative, fantasy, role play, games with rules, sport (team and individual), music; specialist play activities, e.g. therapeutic play, multi-sensory play; importance of challenge; mastery of skills; promotion of health and fitness; cognitive development, e.g. problem solving, creativity, language; physical development (gross and fine motor skills); emotional and social development, e.g. confidence, self-awareness, interpersonal skills, resilience

4 Understand the potential effects of transition on children and young people's development

How different types of transitions can affect children and young people's development: common transition, e.g. transferring to primary or secondary school; physiological, e.g. stages of growth and development; puberty; long-term or medical conditions; particular or personal transition, e.g. ill health, disability, family breakdown, reconstituted family, change of carer, physical move to new home/locality, from one activity to another, between carers; effects (positive and negative); effects on social and emotional development, e.g. ability to form relationships, anxiety, phobias, depression, self-esteem; effects on cognitive development, e.g. new experiences and development of concepts, academic achievement; emotional transitions affected by personal experience, e.g. bereavement, entering or leaving care; physical transitions, e.g. moving from pre-school to primary

The importance of children and young people having positive relationships through periods of transition: support networks, e.g. family, friends, mentors, health and educational professionals, play workers; role of key worker; buddy system; listening to worries and concerns; reassuring; promoting resilience; supporting individuality; identifying needs, preferences and interests; understanding culture and religious needs

The effectiveness of positive relationships on children and young people's development: the application of coping strategies; the level of resilience of child or young person; positive attitudes; application of self-help skills; level of independence; development of 'can do' attitudes; meeting developmental norms; meeting full potential; self-esteem; feeling valued; development of own interests and pursuits

5 Understand how assessing, monitoring and recording the development of children and young people informs the use of interventions

Different methods of assessing, recording and monitoring children and young people's development: routine screening; common assessment framework (CAF); observation, e.g. narrative, time sampling, event sampling, checklist, longitudinal study, diagrammatic (graphs, charts, sociogram), video recording; photographs; assessment for learning; standard measurements; centile charts; information from others (parents, carers, children and young people, professionals, colleagues); Leuven Involvement Scale

Different methods for assessing, recording and monitoring children and young people's development in the work setting: assessment on entry to setting; individual profile, e.g. health needs, learning needs, preferences; regular and on-going assessments to record progress; records of discussions with children and young people, parents, colleagues and professionals; reviews of progress; assessment in response to concerns; methods of recording, e.g. formal, informal, diary, reports, electronic

How different types of interventions can promote positive outcomes for children and young people where development is not following the pattern normally expected: intervention provided by specialist services, e.g. social workers, psychologists, psychiatrists, physiotherapists, nurse specialists, health visitors, speech and language therapists; youth offending teams; residential social workers; foster carers; respite care; palliative care; assistive technology, e.g. voice input or output devices, communication boards, hearing aids; mobility aids

Evaluate the importance of accurate documentation regarding the development of children and young people: registration and inspection frameworks; legal requirements (principles of the Data Protection Act 1998); policy and procedures of setting; importance of accuracy and objectivity; ethical guidelines; bias; confidentiality

Unit 7: Lead Practice that

Supports Positive

Outcomes for Child and

Young Person Development

Unit reference number: J/601/9369

Level: 5

Credit value: 6

Guided learning hours: 36

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to provide learners with the knowledge, understanding and skills to lead practice that supports positive outcomes for child and young person development.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit need to be assessed in line with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Learning outcomes and assessment criteria

To pass this unit, the learner needs to demonstrate that they can meet all the learning outcomes for the unit. The assessment criteria outline the requirements the learner is expected to meet to achieve the unit.

Content

1 Understand theoretical approaches to child and young person development

Theories and frameworks of child and young person development: cognitive development theory (Piaget, Vygotsky, Bruner); psychoanalytic (Freud, Erikson); humanist theory (Maslow, Rogers); social learning theory (Bandura); behaviourist approaches (Pavlov, Skinner, Watson); information-processing approach; attachment theories (Winnicott, Bowlby, Rutter); Kohlberg's levels of moral development; social pedagogy; constructivist approach (Donaldson, Athey); language development theories (Brofenbremer); personalised learning programmes; curriculum approaches (Te Whāriki)

The potential impact on service provision of different theories and approaches: child-centred approach; behaviour policies and strategies; curriculum approaches e.g. Reggio Emilia, High Scope; teaching and learning strategies; use of observation; role of key workers; inclusive practice

The move towards outcomes-based services for children and young people: Every Child Matters Outcomes Framework (2008); The Children's Plan (2007); Outcomes Based Accountability (OBA) approach; focus on results rather than service input; increasing engagement with community, families, children and young people

2 Be able to lead and support developmental assessment of children and young people

Methods of developmental assessment and recording for children and young people: role of lead professional; assessment frameworks; observation e.g. narrative, time sampling, event sampling, checklist, longitudinal study, diagrammatic (graphs, charts, sociogram), video recording, photographs; assessment for learning; standard measurements; centile charts; information from others (parents, carers, children and young people, professionals, colleagues); Leuven Involvement Scale; neonatal tests e.g. Apgar Score, Barlow's test; Common Assessment Framework; screening programmes e.g. sight, hearing tests; health surveillance; health records; developmental reviews

Partnership work with other professionals in assessing development of children and young people: other professionals e.g. health, children's social care, youth justice; public, private and third sector services; models of multi-agency working (multi-agency panel, multi-agency teams, integrated services); commissioning services; information sharing; shared language, values and systems; early intervention strategies

Strategies to encourage child or young person and carers' participation in developmental assessment: carers e.g. families, paid carers; building partnerships with families/carers; involving in decision making; listening to children and young people; demonstrating respect; use of advocates; supporting children, young people and parents to make informed choices; parental rights and responsibilities; building trust, building and maintaining relationships; breaking down barriers e.g. physical access, communication, language; sharing information/observations; home visits; knowledge of culture, language, religion; workshops/parenting programmes; providing coherent/transparent policies and services; SEAL Programme (Social and Emotional Aspects of Learning) promotes whole school approach to encourage learners to develop social and emotional skills

Measuring the effectiveness of strategies: level of involvement, evidence from feedback, willingness to share information; outcomes (wellbeing of child and young person); reaching priority groups, e.g. young unsupported parents, socially isolated, those in poor housing conditions

3 Be able to develop and implement programmes with children or young people requiring developmental support

Assessments to develop programmes of support: holistic assessment; involvement of child, young person and family; importance of identifying strengths and needs; taking into account preferences and family circumstances; advocacy; identifying services to support

Circumstances where referrals to other agencies may be required: developmental delay; failure to thrive; learning difficulties; concerns about harm or abuse or likelihood of harm or abuse; changes in behaviour; anti-social or offending behaviour; concerns raised by parent/carer/colleague; lack of progress following intervention; communication difficulties; health concerns; risk factors, e.g. poverty, attitudes towards education, lack of bonding/attachment

How referrals to other agencies are managed: legislation affecting information sharing (Data Protection Act 1998, Freedom of Information Act 2000); Government guidelines, e.g. information-sharing toolkit; Codes of practice, policy and procedures of setting; Caldicott Principles (1997); shared IT systems; Contact Point (CP); Common Assessment Framework (CAF); explicit informed consent and implied consent; concept of 'capacity to consent'

Early interventions to promote positive outcomes for children and young people's development: Children's National Service Framework; Child Health Promotion Programme including developmental screening and immunisation; family support services e.g. family centres, Sure Start programme; healthy schools programme; early diagnosis of health conditions; mental health assessments; pre-conception and neonatal care; assistive technology; mobility aids; health promotion e.g. mental and sexual health; diet and nutrition

The implementation of a personalised programme of support for children or young people: programmes of support, e.g. Individual Education Plans (IEP), behaviour support plans, transition to adult services, child protection plans, Youth Inclusion Programme (YIP), Early Support Programme for children with disabilities and their family; leading on assessment and target setting; being receptive to new ideas and innovative working practice; liaising with others e.g. children, parents, professionals; monitoring the implementation of programmes; evaluating outcomes; methods of recording implementation

4 Be able to evaluate programmes for children or young people requiring developmental support

Reviewing programmes of developmental support: as a continuous cycle; monitoring and reviewing quality of outcomes; use of specific, measurable, achievable, realistic and timed (SMART) targets; seeking feedback from children, young people and carers; liaising with colleagues and professionals; appropriateness of targets and goals

Strategies for improvement for programmes of development support: collaborative and team approach; drawing on specialist expertise; removing barriers which prevent successful outcomes, e.g. communication, physical, attitudinal; problem solving strategies; identify training needs

5 Be able to lead and promote support for children experiencing transitions

Evidence-based practice to support children or young people experiencing transition: common transition, e.g. transferring to primary or secondary school; physiological transitions e.g. stages of growth and development, puberty; particular or personal transition, e.g. ill health, disability, family breakdown, reconstituted family, change of carer, physical move to new home/locality; research evidence, e.g. Ofsted 2004, Barnardos 2004; systematic observations; reflecting on current policies and procedures; professional knowledge and expertise

Implement evidence-based practice to support children and young people experiencing transition: child-centred practice, e.g. needs and preferences; seeking feedback from children, young people and families; preparing for and supporting during transition; promoting coping strategies; building trusting relationships; promoting a supportive ethos; giving praise and encouragement; finding opportunities to discuss concerns and effects of transition with children; showing respect; use of reflective listening skills

Evaluate the implementation of evidence-based practice to support children and young people experiencing transition: listening to children and young people and families; comparison of outcomes with expectations/objectives; identifying benefits; identifying changes or improvements to be made

6 Be able to lead positive behaviour support

Evidence-based practice with children and young people to encourage positive behaviour: current research evidence, e.g. Irvinct et all 2006, Waler, Cheney, Stage and Blum 2005, Oswald, Safran and Johansan 2005; systematic observation; implications for practice; evidence-based policy making; monitoring progress/outcomes; professional expertise/discussion; reflective practice

Approaches to supporting positive behaviour: least restrictive principle; reinforcing positive behaviour; modelling/positive culture; child-centred approach, e.g. understanding reasons for inappropriate behaviour and adapting responses; inclusive approach; implementing individual behaviour plans; phased stages; interventions; de-escalation and diversion strategies; containment; when restraint may be used; setting boundaries and negotiation; involving children to reflect on and manage own behaviour; inductive discipline; anti-bullying strategies including cyber-bullying

1 Understand the impact of current legislation that underpins the safeguarding of children and young people

Legislation underpinning safeguarding: key requirements of legislation relevant to own setting, e.g. Children Act 1989, relevant sections from United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) 1989, Education Act 2002, Children Act 2004, Childcare Act 2006, Children and Young Person's Act 2008, Borders, Citizenship and Immigration Act 2009, Local Safeguarding Children Boards (Amendment) Regulations 2010, and the implications of these for work practice and policy

Key legislation in the relevant home country: e.g. Children (Scotland) Act 1995, Protection of Vulnerable Groups (Scotland) Act 2007; National Assembly for Wales (Legislative Competence) (Social Welfare and Other Fields) Order 2008, Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007, The Sexual Offences (Northern Ireland) Order 2008 and the implications for differences in policy and practice between the countries of the UK

Day-to-day work: e.g. child-care practice, child protection, risk assessment, ensuring voice of child or young person is heard (advocacy service), supporting children and young people and others who may be expressing concerns, working practices that protect practitioners and children/young people

National guidelines: statutory guidance, e.g. Working Together to Safeguard Children 2010 (revised), Guidance for Safe Working Practice for the Protection of Children and Staff in Education Settings (DfES 2005), What to do if you think a child is being abused (2006), Safeguarding children and young people who may be affected by gang activity (2010), Vetting and Barring Scheme Guidance (HM Government 2009), Framework for the Assessment of Children in Need and their Parents (2000), Common Assessment Framework (England), Parenting and Family Support: Guidance for Local Authorities in England (2010); non-statutory guidance, e.g. Think Family Toolkit (DCSF 2009), Positively Safe: a guide to developing safeguarding practices (National Council of Voluntary Child Care Organisations 2005), Safeguarding children and safer recruitment in education (2006); how statutory and non-statutory guidance is used to inform policy and practice in different settings and areas of responsibility, Every Child Matters: Change for Children (DCSF 2004)

Local guidelines: Local Authority Children's Plan, Local Safeguarding Children Board safeguarding and referral policy in your area; Data protection and information handling including the Data Protection Act 2009, Freedom of Information Act 2000; how local arrangements for information sharing between agencies and individuals operate in your setting; day-to-day work with children and young people including how the policies, procedures and work practices in your setting comply with safeguarding legislation; national and local statutory and non-statutory guidelines in relation to risk assessment (including risk to staff), advocacy and representation for children and young people, child protection, support for staff and children involved in safeguarding incidents or procedures

2 Support the review of policies and procedures for safeguarding children and young people

Inquiries and serious case reviews: the purpose of reviews of child deaths, e.g. DCSF Research Report: A biennial analysis of serious case reviews 2003 – 2005 e.g. the Victoria Climbie Enquiry Report, report into death of Baby P; how these can be used to inform policy development and good practice in own area of responsibility.

Policies and procedures for safeguarding children and young people: general policies and procedures, e.g. job/role descriptions indicating safeguarding responsibilities and clear lines of accountability, including reporting mechanisms and procedures; safe recruitment policies, including CRB/Barring and Vetting checks; record-keeping and confidentiality policies indicating the circumstances in which confidential information should be shared; attendance registers and individual records of children's health and developmental progress, including next of kin, GP, multi-agency involvement, family profile and named persons authorised to collect or drop off children; first-aid policy; the purpose of such policies and the contribution they make to safeguarding; safeguarding policies and procedures, e.g. staff training policy, including safeguarding procedures, timelines, assessment, Common Assessment Framework, referral criteria and procedures, inter-agency working; procedures for providing intimate care and for dealing with allegations against staff, procedures for logging referrals/cause for concern to other agencies and documenting follow-up, procedures for documenting and logging parental engagement; safe working practices, e.g. safe and appropriate behaviour when dealing with children and young people's personal care; professional responsibility, e.g. role modelling, whistle blowing, duty of care during off-site visits, safe arrangements for photographic and video representation of children and young people

Monitoring and review: timetable for monitoring policy, e.g. in line with national or local changes to legislation or guidance; mechanisms for evaluating and reviewing policy; liaising with other statutory, voluntary and community organisations supporting children and young people within the local area to inform review of policies, including Local Authority Social Services, Foster Care organisations, NSPCC, health visiting and school/specialist community nursing service, GP, teaching and support services staff in school, psychology services, police and probation services

3 Implement policies and procedures for safeguarding children and young people

Implementing safeguarding policies and procedures: e.g. ensuring copies of safeguarding policies and procedures are available to staff; the importance of leading by example; training and mentoring staff; raising awareness of possible physical, emotional and social indicators suggesting abuse or neglect; working with parents and other agencies involved with individual children

Supporting other practitioners: arranging and delivering training; observing, coaching and mentoring practitioners; raising awareness of best practice and ensuring policies and procedures are understood and followed; being aware of alternative approaches and the importance of keeping self and others up to date with new and emerging practice

4 Lead practice in supporting children and young people's wellbeing and resilience

Promoting wellbeing and resilience: understanding and showing others how children and young people demonstrate wellbeing and resilience; the actions that can be taken by childcare practitioners to encourage and promote the development of resilience; the importance of taking opportunities to demonstrate to others how resilience and emotional wellbeing are supported through daily interactions with children and young people and why this is important to safeguarding by helping children and young people protect themselves and Social Care or Children and Young

People's Setting

Unit reference number: H/602/3171

Level: 6

Credit value: 7

Guided learning hours: 46

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to lead and manage a team in a health and social care or children and young people's setting.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 must be assessed in the work setting.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Content

1 Understand the features of effective team performance within a health and social care or children and young people's setting

Team performance: Syer and Connolly Cycle of developing teamworking skills; Tuckman's team dynamics; induction; retention of staff; allocation of workloads; Belbin's team roles

Challenges: challenges experienced by developing teams – new members, induction, recruitment and appointment, establishing team objectives/goals, establishing team roles; challenges experienced by established teams — resistance to change, practice becomes routine; methods of overcoming challenges — listening to team members, shared responsibilities, delegating roles and responsibilities, changing workload

Management styles: Mintzberg; situational leadership; leading by example; leading by direction; democratic; laissey fare; autocratic; consultative

Maintaining trust and accountability: use of supervision; team meetings; shared goals; delegation and allocation of roles and responsibilities; analysing methods used, e.g. comparing outcomes to objectives/goals

Conflict: causes of conflict, e.g. workload, lack of communication, perceived lack of appreciation, personal grievances; addressing conflict, e.g. gathering and sharing information, listening to team members, agreeing problems, reaching consensus, building trust

2 Be able to support a positive culture within the team for a health and social care or children and young people's setting

Positive culture: shared methods of working; communication; values and beliefs; closer working methods between organisations; valuing contribution from others; inclusiveness and openness

Own practice: sharing information; communicating; listening to others; making sure team works to common goal/objectives

Systems and processes: shared records; team meetings; supervisions and appraisals; induction and staff training

Creative and innovative methods of working: strengths and weaknesses, e.g. problems with inter-agency working; potential issues, e.g. communication problems, time, shared notes; advantages, e.g. dynamic approach, personcentred care, integrated workforce agenda, urgency and priorities, co-working arrangements, rota systems, challenging routine practices

3 Be able to support a shared vision within the team for a health and social care or children and young people's setting

Vision and strategic direction: transformational leadership; shared values; empowerment; developing other people; openness; honesty; strategic planning

Communication: through meetings; supervision and appraisals; open channels of communication; verbal; written; relationship with others

Working with others: others, e.g. carers, significant others, other professionals, people who use services; effective communication, e.g. listening to others, allowing input into team decisions, establishing agreed goals/objectives; motivating staff, e.g. praise, encouragement, recognition of achievement, providing clear goals, providing learning and development opportunities

Evaluation methods: audits; reports; self-assessment of teams; team performance; feedback from individuals, families, other professionals

4 Be able to develop a plan with team members to meet agreed objectives for a health and social care or children and young people's setting

Team objectives: shared goals; agreed plans; access to information for all team

Skills, interests, knowledge and expertise: Honey and Mumford; use of supervision; staff development opportunities; utilisation of staff in work allocation

Planning process: involvement of individual; family; team; external agencies; agreeing plan; implementation; obtaining feedback

Sharing skills and knowledge: through mentoring; shadowing; supervision and appraisals; team meetings; effective and open communication

Agreeing roles and responsibilities: based on individual strengths; expertise; knowledge; needs of the team; needs of the service user; through meetings; supervision and appraisals

5 Be able to support individual team members to work towards agreed objectives in a health and social care or children and young people's setting

Set personal objectives: based upon learning needs and staff development, through supervision and appraisals; comparing skills and requirements; setting SMART objectives (specific, measurable, realistic, time-related); realistic number of objectives

Opportunities for development and growth: personal and professional development; Continuing Professional Development; advancement of career; development of roles within the team; growth and expansion of the team

Advice and support: mentoring; shadowing; supervision and appraisal; personal development plans

Solution focused approach: effective communication; methods to overcome challenges, e.g. communication, participation, involvement, training, extra resources, agreement, reviewing, allocation of responsibilities, revising plans, reassessing priorities; effective use of resources, effective use of time, effective use of personnel

6 Be able to manage team performance in a health and social care or children and young people's setting

Monitor and evaluate processes: through observation of practices; outcomes compared against objectives; feedback from service users, families, external agencies, team members

Feedback to individual: e.g. one-to-one meetings, supervision and appraisals, using positive and negative critique, self-assessment, reflection

Feedback to teams: types, e.g. verbal, written, informal and formal, meetings, use of reports and audits, positive and negative critique, ensuring shared responsibility

Recognition of achievements: positive reinforcement, recognition, praise, encouragement

Performance not meeting requirements: use of constructive criticism; identifying limitation or gaps in performance; use of mentoring; supervision; identifying personal training needs; staff development; encouraging self-reflection and self-critiquing; engaging in continuous professional development

Unit 10: Develop Professional

Supervision Practice in Health and Social Care or Children and Young People's Work Settings

Unit reference number: M/602/3187

Level: 5

Credit value: 5

Guided learning hours: 39

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to undertake professional supervision of others.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 3, 4, 5 and 6 must be assessed in the work setting.

Additional information

Agreed ways of working will include policies and procedures, where these exist.

An Individual is someone accessing care or support.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 11: Lead Practice in Promoting the Wellbeing and

Resilience of Children and Young People

Unit reference number: J/602/2577

Level: 5

Credit value: 8

Guided learning hours: 53

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to lead practice in support of children and young people's wellbeing and resilience. It includes the promotion of health as well as promoting self-esteem and supporting children to recognise and value who they are. The unit includes evaluation and development of practice.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3, 4 and 5 must be assessed in the work setting.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Content

1 Understand how different approaches to promoting positive wellbeing and resilience in children and young people impact on practice

The importance of wellbeing for children and young people: holistic development and wellbeing, e.g. health, mental health, mobility, self-identity, cognitive development, communication, sexual wellbeing, emotional wellbeing; interrelationship between aspects of development; links between development of the brain and emotional development (Golman's theory of emotional intelligence)

The importance of resilience for children and young people: the capacity for successful adaptation despite challenging or threatening circumstances; factors associated with resilience, e.g. empathy with others, close family or social bonds, problem solving skills, communication skills, sociable, independence, autonomy, ability to be reflective, planning skills, ability to concentrate at school, extra-curricular interests and activities

Approaches to promoting wellbeing and resilience of children and young people: wellbeing and resilience in relation to managing risk and counteracting adversity e.g. healthy living (diet, exercise, rest and sleep), health screening, preventive health programme, early interventions and diagnosis, prompt medical/dental attention when needed, mobility, self-esteem building, providing opportunities for play and leisure, encouraging strong relationships with family, friends, mentors, wider social network, encouraging positive experiences at school or in extra-curricular activities, promoting independence, providing a secure environment, e.g. routines, boundaries, supporting children to develop own coping strategies to deal with transitions (common and personal); reducing effects of transitions; improving outcomes for wellbeing, health, social and emotional; dealing with single, a sequence or concurrent transitions; being able to deal with feelings

2 Be able to lead practice in supporting children and young people's wellbeing and resilience

Lead practice that supports others to engage with children and young people to build their self-esteem: supporting others (human resource personnel, workers/practitioners, carers, significant others); supporting children and young people to identify with their own self-image and identity; supporting children and young people to recognise and value own abilities, talents and achievements; using language to reinforce 'can do' attitudes; leading practice which empowers and involves children and young people in decisions about own life; setting goals and targets that contribute towards wellbeing and resilience

Support others to work with children or young people in a manner that is open, trustworthy, respectful and reliable: encouraging open and honest communication; shared values; shared goals; modelling and leading ethical, transparent and fair practice; providing training; fostering anti-discriminatory and inclusive practice; acknowledging and celebrating diversity; supporting the development of positive interpersonal relationships; challenging inappropriate behaviour; providing opportunities to reflect on practice

Ways to encourage and support children or young people to express their feelings, views and hopes: involving children in decision making; building trusting relationships; giving praise and encouragement; finding opportunities to discuss the effects of transition with children; providing a safe and secure environment; showing respect; using reflective listening skills; having high expectations; SEAL Programme (Social and Educational Aspects of Learning)

How to challenge practices that act as barriers to children and young people's wellbeing and resilience: practices which act as barriers, e.g. poor communication, physical, psychological, inappropriate expectations, exclusion, discriminatory practice; protecting the rights of children and young people; possessing professional values and attitudes relevant for work in childcare settings; how to challenge practices, e.g. self-assertion, giving unambiguous messages; understanding procedures for reporting concerns; dealing with inappropriate practice; identifying training needs

3 Be able to lead practice in work with carers who are supporting children and young people

Strategies to support carers' understanding and involvement with the wellbeing and resilience needs of a child or young person: carers, e.g. families and paid carers; parents as partners; focusing support at key stages, e.g. school transfers, adolescence; building trusting relationships; role of key worker; wellbeing and resilience needs, e.g. self-esteem, friendships, participating in play and leisure pursuits, feeling valued; providing information, e.g. workshops and parenting programmes; informed decision making; coherent/transparent policies; information sharing and involvement, e.g. open days, meetings, parent booklets, websites; use of preferred language

Lead practice that supports carers to engage with children and young people to build their self-esteem: keeping carers informed, e.g. routines, activities; involving carers in planning and policy development, e.g. preparing children for transfer to new school; focusing on skills and abilities of children and young people; recognising and reinforcing carers' own self-esteem; recognising, celebrating and providing feedback on child or young person's achievements; supporting children, young people and parents to make informed choices

Monitor the involvement of carers in supporting children and young people's wellbeing and resilience: feedback and reviewing progress; level of engagement; evidence from feedback; willingness to share information; quality of outcomes (wellbeing of child and young person)

Strategies used to engage with carers who are supporting a child or young person: carers, e.g. families, paid carers; sharing responsibility and accountability; building partnerships with families/carers; having mutual respect; building and maintaining trusting relationships; breaking down barriers, e.g. physical access, communication, language; sharing information/observations; home visits; knowledge of culture, language, religion, family circumstances; workshops/parenting programmes; providing coherent/transparent policies and services; reaching priority groups, e.g. young unsupported parents, socially isolated, those in poor housing conditions

4 Be able to lead practice in responding to the health needs of children and young people

Lead practice that supports children and young people to make positive choices about their health needs: providing information on health needs (physical, mental, sexual); health promotion to support children and carers to make informed choices, e.g. diet and nutrition, exercise, safe sex; lead/workers as role models

Risks to or concerns about the health of children and young people: illness; injury; use of illegal substances; emotional distress; poor lifestyle choices; bullying (either as victim or perpetrator); exploitative behaviour (either as victim or perpetrator); harm or abuse; changes in behaviour

Support others to recognise and record concerns about a child or young person's health following agreed procedures: identifying training needs, e.g. policy, procedures, health needs, developmental stages; unambiguous reporting and recording procedures, including reporting concerns of harm or abuse; use of observation; accessible and secure systems for recording, e.g. written, electronic; confidentiality/data protection; protocols for reporting to carers, colleagues professionals

Actions to address concerns identified about the health of children and young people: sharing information/concerns with children, young people and carers; obtaining consent to make referral routes, e.g. specialist health professionals; provide targeted/specialist support; knowledge of intervention programmes; assistive technology; how to access information and advice

5 Be able to lead the development of practice with children or young people to promote their wellbeing and resilience

Methods of evaluating own practice in promoting children or young people's wellbeing and resilience: reflective practice; Reflective Practitioner (Schon); Models of Reflection (Gibbs); Levels of Reflection (Goodman); appraisal system; use of specific, measurable, achievable, realistic and timed (SMART) targets in professional development planning; identifying own training needs

Methods of evaluating organisational practice in promoting children or young people's wellbeing and resilience: cycle of review of policies and procedures; seeking feedback from carers, colleagues and other professionals; inspection processes, e.g. Ofsted; success in meeting objectives/goals

Practice that supports solution focused approaches for supporting children or young people's wellbeing and resilience: encouraging reflective practice; focusing on solution rather than problem; responding to children and young people's needs and preferences; shared goals and views; planned and phased approaches

Areas of practice to promote children or young people's wellbeing and resilience: ethos of setting; involving children young people and carers in decision making; encouraging inclusive practice; encouraging reflective practice; actioning research needs; building trusting and open relationships; support networks; anti-discriminatory practice; staff appraisals

Unit 12: Manage Health and Social Care Practice to Ensure Positive

Outcomes for Individuals

Unit reference number: M/602/2850

Level: 5

Credit value: 5

Guided learning hours: 35

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required in the process of planning and achieving positive outcomes that underpin the personalisation agenda. This unit covers a range of the key areas of practice that support the implementation of personalisation.

The unit also explores the role of the manager/senior worker in providing a supportive environment for individuals to achieve positive outcomes.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3, 4 and 5 must be assessed in the work setting.

Additional information

Approaches to outcome based-practice may include:

- results-based accountability
- outcomes management
- outcomes into practice
- logic model.

Appropriate methods may include:

- agreed therapeutic/development activities
- regular health checks
- administering prescribed medication/treatment
- promoting/supporting healthy lifestyle choices.

Appropriate approaches to address conflicts and dilemmas may include:

- one-to-one discussion
- group discussion
- using contracts
- providing information to inform choices.
- mentoring for conflict resolution.

Unit 13: Safeguarding and Protection of Vulnerable Adults

Unit reference number: R/602/2856

Level: 5

Credit value: 5

Guided learning hours: 37

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to protect and safeguard vulnerable adults. The unit requires learners to understand the legal and regulatory basis for safeguarding and to know the actions to take and procedures to follow. It also follows the personalisation agenda in supporting individuals to develop the confidence to manage their own risks. One of the key steps in safeguarding is to work in partnership with other organisations in order to achieve the best possible outcomes.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3 and 4 must be assessed in the work setting.

Additional information

Policy developments may include:

- Our Health, our care, our say
- Putting People First
- No Secrets
- In Safe Hands
- Vetting and Barring Scheme/Independent Safeguarding Authority
- Local Safeguarding Adults Boards.

Agreed protocols may include:

- boundaries
- areas of responsibility
- information sharing
- limits of authority
- · decision making
- recording information.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Content

1 Be able to develop the physical group living environment to promote positive outcomes for individuals

Theoretical approaches to group living provision for adults: the personalisation agenda and best practice in supporting independence and autonomy; personcentred care; community inclusion; normalisation and Wolfensberger's theory of social role valorisation; the importance of shared decision making and how this can be facilitated; the importance of methods and approaches which facilitate effective communication; preferred methods; advocacy

Impact of legal and regulatory requirements on physical group living: e.g. Health and Safety at Work Act 1974, the Human Rights Act 1998, Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006, the Disability Discrimination Act 1995; Mental Capacity Act 2005; Control of Substances that are Hazardous to Health Regulations 2002 (COSHH)

Safety and security: the importance of a common approach to risk across partner agencies; the importance of an inclusive approach to group decision making and group living; developing and reviewing policies and procedures that promote freedom and choice within a framework of safety and security

How the physical environment promotes wellbeing: the links between the physical environment and emotional wellbeing; the importance of high quality furnishings, fixtures and fittings to self-esteem and the promotion of self-care; how this leads to positive outcomes for individuals

Developing an inclusive approach: providing information; listening to others; considering desires, needs and aspirations of individuals

2 Be able to lead the planning, implementation and review of daily living activities

Impact of legislation: how legislation influences the development of policies and procedures for daily living, including accessibility and shared decision making e.g. Health and Safety at Work Act 1974, Disability Discrimination Act 1995, Human Rights Act 1998, Mental Capacity Act 2005 and other equalities legislation, Reporting of Injuries, Diseases and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations 1995 (RIDDOR), Control of Substances that are Hazardous to Health Regulations (COSHH)

Support planning: implementing leadership strategies that provide guidance for others on planning and implementing daily living activities that meet individual needs for people with challenging behaviour, complex needs, or survivors of abuse

Systems that ensure individuals are central to decisions: demonstrating ways in which such individuals can be central to decision making, e.g. by developing systems that take a flexible approach and engaging in effective communication

Evaluation and review: the importance of implementing and overseeing regular monitoring and review of the systems and procedures supporting group living and daily activities; effective mechanisms to manage disagreement, conflict and complaints and rewards

3 Be able to promote positive outcomes in a group living environment

Positive outcomes: evaluate the systems for group living that enable positive outcomes for individuals, e.g. self-sufficiency (personal autonomy, collective autonomy), self-care for physical and mental health (healthy eating, personal hygiene, self-medicating, exercise), self-direction to achieve personal goals (acting according to own opinions, views, values and beliefs)

Review group activities: ensuring group activities are consensual; freely chosen; contribute to individual's personal goals; ensuring activities lead to positive outcomes

Supporting individuals to maintain and develop relationships: review group living arrangements to ensure support for individuals to enable, develop and maintain healthy relationships

Conflict resolution: develop and implement systems (policies and procedures) for dealing with tensions and disputes in ways that enable positive outcomes and promote good relationships, e.g. making sure that residents know how to make a complaint and are supported to do so, training staff in managing challenging situations, difficult behaviour and conflict resolution, arbitration, mediation, negotiation

4 Be able to manage a positive group living environment

Working patterns: know the potential effects of different working patterns on the development of relationships, e.g. shifts; developing methods to manage this to minimise disruption, e.g. key worker system; ensuring staff are aware of and apply professional boundaries in relationships with residents and the implications of not doing so for all concerned; awareness of the manager's role in modelling appropriate approaches to developing and maintaining relationships with clients, awareness of power dynamics and the potentially negative impact of these on relationships and outcomes for individuals

Recommending changes as a result of evaluation: ensure clear lines of accountability for managing rotas and working patterns, recognise the importance of regular monitoring and review, implementing changes as required, e.g. where there has been disruption, disturbance or dispute to relationships; monitoring resources and resource allocation to ensure that positive outcomes for individuals can be achieved and maintained

Workforce development plan: egg developing and implementing a workforce development plan to ensure succession planning, implementing appropriate training and development opportunities, e.g. group dynamics, theoretical approaches to group living, methods available for raising staff awareness of these

Professional boundaries: ensuring staff are aware of professional boundaries in relationships with adults in a group living environment and the implications of not doing so for all concerned

Group dynamics: raising staff awareness of group dynamics; training and development; impact of group dynamics on group living environment

Resource management: e.g. staff, equipment, finances; reviewing – outcomes of activity against goal/objective.

Unit 15: Understand

Safeguarding of Children and Young People (for those Working in the Adult

Sector)

Unit reference number: Y/602/2860

Level: 3

Credit value: 1

Guided learning hours: 10

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge required to understand the safeguarding of children and young people. These workers do not work directly with children, but need to know how to recognise and respond to abuse and/or neglect should they come across it in the course of their work with adults.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

Unit 16: Lead Person-Centred Practice

Unit reference number: D/602/2844

Level: 5

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 29

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to work as a manager or senior practitioner in a wide range of settings. It covers the promotion and implementation of person-centred practice.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

Consent means informed agreement to an action or decision; the process of establishing consent will vary according to an individual's assessed capacity to consent.

Others may include:

- family members
- friends
- advocates
- paid workers
- other professionals
- carers.

An individual is someone accessing care or support.

Active participation is a way of working that recognises an individual's right to participate in the activities and relationships of everyday life as independently as possible; the individual is regarded as an active partner in their own care or support, rather than a passive recipient.

Assessment methodology

This unit is assessed in the workplace or in conditions resembling the workplace. Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 29: Understand Partnership Working

Unit reference number: T/602/3188

Level: 4

Credit value: 1

Guided learning hours: 7

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge required to understand partnership working.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

Others may include:

- individuals
- children and young people
- families
- carers
- friends of the individual
- advocates.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 30: Understand how to Manage a Team

Unit reference number: D/602/3170

Level: 4

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 20

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge and understanding necessary to support and enable team development.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

Models may include:

- team development activities
- induction into a new team.

Approaches may include groups such as quality circles.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Content

1 Understand the neurology of dementia

Causes of dementia syndrome: Alzheimer's disease; vascular dementia; Pick's disease; dementia with Lewy bodies (Fronto-Temporal); Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease (CJD); Huntington's disease

Types of memory impairment commonly experienced by individuals with dementia: decline in memory, reasoning and communication; changes in behaviour; loss of skills; abilities which fluctuate; movement difficulties

The way that individuals process information with reference to the abilities and limitations of individuals with dementia: information processing – sensory input of sight, sound, attention; short-term memory; long-term memory; effects of different types of dementia on this process

How other factors can cause changes in an individual's condition that may not be attributable to dementia: the difference between dementia, depression and confusional states; sensory changes due to age-related degeneration, e.g. macular degeneration and cataracts affecting vision, loss of hearing and increase of tinnitus affecting balance; reduced metabolism causing poor appetite; osteoporosis and fear of falling

Why the abilities and needs of an individual with dementia may fluctuate: changes to the physical environment, e.g. moving home, starting at a day centre; changes to the social environment, e.g. changes in carers, loss of family or friends and social isolation, bereavement; changes to the emotional environment, e.g. carers become stressed, experience of abuse; personal changes – changes in treatment, changes in medication, and changes in physical condition, e.g. bacteria or viral infections, vascular changes, rapidity of onset of dementia

2 Understand the impact of recognition and diagnosis of dementia

The impact of early diagnosis and follow-up to diagnosis: quality of life, e.g. fear, feeling of lack of control, loss of dignity, loss of identity, lack of involvement, invasion of privacy, fear of losing own home, inability to communicate needs and preferences; social, e.g. loss of friends, loss of community involvement, difficulty in dealing with own finances, attitudes of others; impact on health, e.g. increased risk of falls, nutrition, personal hygiene, reduced exercise; increased likelihood of abuse, e.g. emotional, neglect, physical, sexual, financial, increased likelihood of injury or harm

The importance of recording possible signs or symptoms of dementia in an individual in line with agreed ways of working: agreed ways of recording in own organisation; written or electronic recording is factual, legible, dated, signed or authenticated and confidential; importance of recording to highlight risk and establish if there is a pattern, an improvement or a worsening of symptoms

The process of reporting possible signs of dementia within agreed ways of working: agreed ways of reporting in own organisation such as verbal, written, electronic; accurate, timely, and confidential reporting

The possible impact of receiving a diagnosis of dementia on the individual: impact on individual includes fear, denial, need for information, need for sources of support, e.g. emotional or financial support

The possible impact of receiving a diagnosis of dementia on the individual's family and friends: impact on family and friends such as fear, denial, need for information, need for sources of support, e.g. emotional or financial support

3 Understand how dementia care must be underpinned by a personcentred approach

Person-centred approach: principles of care including dignity, respect, choice, independence, privacy, rights, culture; seeing the person first and the dementia second; focusing on strengths and ability; preferred or appropriate communication; acting in the best interests of the individual; person-to-person relationships; involving individual in care planning; taking account of history, e.g. personal, family, medical

Non-person-centred approaches: institutional perspective; bio-medical perspective

Techniques to meet the fluctuating abilities and needs of the individual with dementia: reality-orientation approach; validation approach

Techniques using the physical environment to meet the fluctuating abilities and needs of the individual with dementia: use of assistive technologies, e.g. pressure mats, door alarms linked to staff pagers, personal pendant alarms; an enabling and safe environment, e.g. hand-rails, safe flooring, use of colour/textures, practical aids

Techniques using the social environment to meet the fluctuating abilities and needs of the individual with dementia: use of social environment to enable positive interactions with individuals with dementia; use of reminiscence techniques to facilitate a positive interaction with the individual with dementia; holistic approach, responsive and flexible approach; involving family and friends, individual's personal beliefs, focusing on strengths and abilities, effective communication; appropriate exercise, activities specific to the needs of the individual, e.g. music sensory; alternative therapies, e.g. aromatherapy, massage, sensory

Maintaining health and wellbeing: methods, e.g. conventional medicines, safe handling of medicines, complementary medicines, diet and nutrition, fluid intake, personal care, measures to reduce risk of infection

Unit 33: Understand Physical Disability

Unit reference number: J/601/6150

Level: 3

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 22

Unit summary

This unit covers an understanding of physical disability, the impact of a physical disability on a person's life and the role played by society. The unit promotes a person-centred approach as an underpinning value in working with individuals with physical disabilities.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed according to Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

The individual is the person requiring care or support:

Congenital can include:

- cerebral palsy
- cystic fibrosis
- spina bifida
- · congenital heart conditions
- muscular dystrophy
- congenital hip disorder.

Acquired disabilities can include:

- arthritis
- rheumatism
- cardiac conditions
- pulmonary conditions from work conditions or smoking e.g. emphysema, pulmonary fibrosis.

Neurological conditions can include:

- multiple sclerosis
- Parkinson's Disease
- stroke.

Progressive can also include neurological and some congenital conditions:

motor neurone disease.

Life choices:

- physical health
- education
- housing
- employment
- access to cultural/leisure activities
- mobility
- sexuality.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 34: Understand the Impact of Acquired Brain

Injury on Individuals

Unit reference number: Y/601/6167

Level: 3

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 28

Unit summary

The aim of the unit is to acquire knowledge to support people who have an Acquired Brain Injury. It covers both the impact on the individual who has the Acquired Brain Injury and their carers.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

Units need to be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

The individual is the person requiring support. An advocate may need to act on behalf of an individual.

Functional – relates to the individual's ability to carry out day-to-day tasks, i.e. dressing, washing, cooking. It does not solely mean the physical ability but also can mean concentration, motivation for doing tasks.

Concepts of loss – consider stages of grief as outlined by Elizabeth Kublar Ross and Warden.

Personality changes

- irritability
- disinhibited behaviour
- frustration
- loss of social skills
- lack of self-awareness.

Self-awareness – ability to understand the impact of behaviour on others

Carers

- spouse/partner
- child
- parent
- sibling
- friend.

Challenging behaviour:

- physical attack
- threatening language
- · sexual disinhibition.

Measures – actions required to manage risk, e.g.:

- policies
- supervision
- support from colleagues
- make a risk assessment
- risk management plan.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 35: Understand Sensory

Loss

Unit reference number: M/601/3467

Level: 3

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 21

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to provide the learner with introductory knowledge and understanding about sensory loss.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

Sensory Loss could include:

- sight loss
- hearing loss
- deafblindness.

Factors could include:

- communication
- information
- · familiar layouts and routines
- · mobility.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 36: Principles of Supporting Individuals

with a Learning

Disability Regarding Sexuality and Sexual

Health

Unit reference number: A/601/6274

Level: 3

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 21

Unit summary

The unit introduces the principles of supporting individuals with a learning disability regarding sexuality and sexual health. It gives a broad summary of sexuality, sexual development and sexual health. The unit also introduces relevant legislation that relates to the development of sexuality for an individual with a learning disability.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit needs to be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

An individual is someone requiring care or support.

The principles of human rights underpin this unit. Where mental capacity is referred to it should be remembered that the Mental Capacity Act (2007) states that everyone should be treated as able to make their own decisions until it is shown that they are not.

Key features of sexual health may include: contraception, hygiene, sexually transmitted infections etc.

Plans for health care – in England this refers to/should include Health Action Plans.

Relevant legislation – any legislation related to supporting individuals with learning disabilities with sexuality and sexual health.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 37: Manage Domiciliary Services

Unit reference number: L/602/2337

Level: 5

Credit value: 6

Guided learning hours: 39

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to manage domiciliary care services supporting the practice of a dispersed workforce.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 must be assessed in the work setting.

Additional information

Others may include:

- self
- workers/practitioners
- carers
- significant others
- visitors to the work setting.

Agreed ways of working will include policies and procedures, where these exist.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Behavioural Assessment Report refers to a detailed report on an individual based on a functional analysis of their behaviour. The report should include such information as personal history and service use, health status, strengths and needs, motivational analysis, operational description of behaviours, risk factors, early indicators, slow and fast triggers, maintaining consequences and summary statements or hypotheses.

Indirect assessment schedules refer to assessments of skills, behaviours, mental health, participation in activities and so on, usually administered by interview with carers. Examples include the Functional Assessment Interview (O'Neill et al, 1997), the Motivational Assessment Scale (Durand and Crimmins, 1988), the PAS-ADD (Moss et al, 1993), the Contextual Assessment Inventory (McAtee et al, 2004), The AAMR Adaptive Behaviour Scale (Nihira et al, 1993), the Aberrant Behaviour Checklist (Aman et al, 1995) and so on.

Direct observation data refers to information on an individual's behaviour collected through directly observing them using structured methods, such as ABC charts, Scatterplots, Momentary Time Sampling, Continuous Time Sampling, Partial Interval Recording and so on.

Triangulate refers to the drawing together of results from a variety of different sources, to assess consistency in findings.

Challenging Behaviour may include behaviours that are:

- repetitive/obsessive
- withdrawn
- aggressive
- self-injurious
- disruptive
- anti-social or illegal
- verbally abusive.

Primary Prevention refers to strategies that involve changing aspects of a person's living, working and recreational environments so that the possibility of challenging behaviour occurring is reduced.

Contributory factors that lead to behaviour being defined as challenging can include competence and capacity of settings, social norms, frequency, intensity, duration and ability to communicate.

Schedule of structured activities is a detailed daily participation plan for an individual that includes scheduled and optional activities, and indicates who will provide the necessary support to maximise participation throughout the day.

Skill teaching refers to structured developmental work undertaken with an individual to teach specific skills that may reduce their challenging behaviour. It can include a full teaching plan and detailed teaching steps based on task analysis.

Social validity refers to interventions that are ethical. That is, they address socially significant problems, have clear benefits for the individual, are acceptable to the individual and others, and use the least restrictive or intrusive approach.

Secondary prevention refers to strategies that apply when a person's challenging behaviour begins to escalate, in order to prevent a major incident.

Non-aversive and aversive reactive strategies

Reactive strategies are ways of responding to challenging behaviours that have not been prevented. Non-aversive strategies are designed not to be unpleasant for the individual: they avoid pain and punishment and can include physical interventions that comply with the British Institute of Learning Disabilities (BILD) code of practice for the use of physical interventions.

Aversive strategies are punishment based. They work by causing an unpleasant experience for the individual, such as pain, discomfort, seclusion, infringement of rights, removal of possessions and so on.

Positive Monitoring is a process that avoids managers being distanced or having a mainly administrative role, by helping them maintain close contact with service users and staff in a structured and constructive way. It specifies exactly what staff need to do, with managers giving frequent feedback on what they are doing well, identifying areas for improvement and helping them to find solutions. (See Porterfield, 1987)

Periodic Service Review provides a way of improving and maintaining the quality of services committed to implementing PBS. It is based on positive behavioural approaches to staff management and focuses on motivating and supporting staff to improve service quality (See LaVigna, et al, 1994).

Unit 40: Develop Provision for

Family Support

Unit reference number: K/602/3074

Level: 5

Credit value: 5

Guided learning hours: 33

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills required to develop provision for family support.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit needs to be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3 and 4 must be assessed in a real work environment.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Carers

Unit reference number: M/602/2380

Level: 6

Credit value: 8

Guided learning hours: 57

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge, understanding and skills that are required to support others to lead service provision that supports disabled children and young people and their carers.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

Assessment of this unit must comply with Skills for Care and Development assessment principles.

Learning outcomes 2 and 3 must be assessed in the work setting.

Additional information

Others may include:

- workers/practitioners
- colleagues
- carers
- volunteers
- students
- other professionals
- advocates.

Unit 42: Undertake a Research

Project within Services for Health and Social Care or Children and Young People

Unit reference number: J/602/3499

Level: 5

Credit value: 10

Guided learning hours: 80

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learners' knowledge, understanding and skills required to undertake a research project within services for health and social care or children and young people.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

Units need to be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development Assessment Principles.

Additional information

Aims and objectives – the reasons, understanding and methods for conducting the research project.

Ethical considerations – confidentiality, sensitivity of data, seeking agreements with participants.

Unit 43: Lead Active Support

Unit reference number: H/601/7354

Level: 5

Credit value: 5

Guided learning hours: 35

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to provide the learner with the knowledge, understanding and skills to lead active support. It is aimed at those whose role includes managing others to deliver direct support and assistance to individuals.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit needs to be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3, and 4 must be assessed in real work environment.

Additional information

Active support model comprises a person-centred model of how to interact positively with individuals combined with daily planning systems that promote participation and enhance quality of life.

Individual is someone requiring care or support.

Contemporary person-centred values and aims are derived from Social Role Valorisation and are commonly expressed as the five service accomplishments of Respect, Competence, Participation, Community Presence and Choice. This is in stark contrast to the practices seen in the hotel model, where carers undertake all the domestic tasks such as cooking and cleaning etc, while individuals remain unoccupied and are not or rarely encouraged to participate in caring for their own home. These are institutional style settings organised mainly around staffing needs. They are not person-centred and offer a poor quality of life to individuals.

Practice leadership refers to the development and maintenance of high quality support, involving a constant focus on promoting an optimum quality of life for individuals. Key elements include: organising others to deliver support when and how individuals need and want it; coaching others to deliver better support by observing them, providing constructive feedback and modelling good practice; and reviewing the quality of support provided in regular supervision and finding ways to improve it.

Positive interaction refers to supportive interaction using the level of assistance, task analysis and positive reinforcement that helps an individual to participate in constructive activity.

Valued range of activities refers to the balance of activities that contribute to a good quality of life for individuals, incorporating vocational, domestic, personal, leisure, educational and social activities.

Disengagement means doing no constructive or meaningful activity, and can include aimlessly wandering about, pacing, staring, sitting, lying down, purposelessly fiddling with items and so on, with no social contact.

Valued lifestyle refers to the balance of activities that contribute to a good quality of life for individuals, incorporating vocational, domestic, personal, leisure, educational and social activities.

Unit 44: Active Support: Lead Interactive Training

Unit reference number: K/601/7355

Level: 5

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 30

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to provide the learner with the knowledge, understanding and skills to deliver interactive training. It is aimed at those whose role includes managing or training others to deliver direct support and targeted assistance to individuals.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit needs to be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 2, 3, and 4 must be assessed in real work environment.

Additional information

Key factors that make training effective

Traditional classroom training approaches are inadequate due to problems of generalisation. Combinations of different techniques, including training in the environment where the desired performance is required, are most effective in changing staff behaviour and maintaining improved ways of working.

Three-stage training model

Training is complete when the required skills are demonstrated in the workplace. The three stages in this process are: demonstration of verbal competence; demonstration of competence via role play in a simulated situation; demonstration of competence in the workplace or natural environment.

Positive interaction refers to supportive interaction using the levels of assistance, task analysis and positive reinforcement that helps an individual to participate in constructive activity.

Process of person-centred interactive training

This is an iterative process: the trainer observes others positively interacting with individuals, provides constructive feedback for improvement, observes again and so on until the required performance is achieved.

Key others

The trainer should involve others – manager or team leader – in organising rotas and individuals' activities to facilitate a sufficient number of two-hour interactive training sessions with minimal interruption. The manager should also attend most of the sessions, as on-going management attention is a further key factor in training effectiveness.

Timetable is planned by the trainer and the member of staff being trained, with the times agreed in advance to fit with the normal routine of the individual.

Preparation required prior to interactive training

Others to be trained need to know the process of interactive training, as well as which individuals they will be supporting. They should also identify a range of activities to undertake and make any necessary preparations for this.

Structured format

Observations of others' performance should be conducted in a systematic way and cover the following aspects:

- preparation of the environment, e.g. equipment available, distractions minimised
- presentation of activity to the individual, e.g. positive, encouraging, clear, promoting informed choice
- task analysis, i.e. breaking activity into steps and sequencing steps to facilitate participation
- hierarchy of assistance, i.e. providing only enough help to enable the individual to participate, using levels of help flexibly according to the individual's need for support
- reinforcement, i.e. ensuring appropriate range of rewards for participation are given promptly
- style, e.g. tone of voice, facial gesture, body language, verbal economy, ageappropriate interaction, appropriate corrective feedback, positioning.

Required skills and process during direct observation of others

Trainer maintains a discreet distance but remains able to observe clearly, interrupts activity only when necessary, takes notes during observation and interacts respectfully with the individual and others.

Required skills and values when giving feedback to others

Feedback is based on the structured observation. Positive performance is highlighted first, suggestions for improvement are constructive and specific, other is put in lead role. Feedback is conducted in private, and a friendly, supportive atmosphere is created.

Role model – the task is undertaken to demonstrate best practice.

Unit 45: Promote Access to Healthcare for Individuals with Learning Disabilities

Unit reference number: J/601/5645

Level: 5

Credit value: 6

Guided learning hours: 44

Unit summary

The unit is aimed at those who are leading, supervising or influencing others to support individuals with learning disabilities to access healthcare and meet their healthcare needs.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit needs to be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learners must have opportunities to support individuals with learning disabilities to access a range of healthcare services, and manage other workers in the process.

Learning outcomes 5 and 6 must be assessed in a real work environment.

Unit 46: Promote Good Practice in the Support of Individuals with Autistic Spectrum

Conditions

Unit reference number: A/601/5318

Level: 5

Credit value: 7

Guided learning hours: 53

Unit summary

This unit is aimed at learners who manage and support others to provide quality outcomes for individuals with autistic spectrum conditions. It considers issues such as communication and support strategies, partnership working and ways of supporting staff. It also addresses the complexity of theory and practice in the area of autistic spectrum conditions.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit needs to be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 3, 4 and 5 must be assessed in a real work environment.

Additional information

The terminology chosen to describe the Autistic Spectrum in this unit is Autistic Spectrum Condition (ASC), one of several different usages in this field. In diagnosis and other clinical and research settings, the more usual term is Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASDs). Other usages, such as 'autism' as an umbrella term for the spectrum, are also frequently used informally and by organisations such as the National Autistic Society. ASC has been chosen here since it forms a more neutral and less medical phrase than ASDs in this context.

An individual is someone requiring care or support.

Different approaches should include multi-agency approaches.

Vulnerability covers areas such as: being exploited or abused; violating the law without realising s/he is doing something harmful; being the victim of cyberbullying.

Behaviour includes non-verbal communication and behaviour that can present challenges.

Relevant Professionals can include: speech and language professionals, psychologists, specialist nurses.

Credit value: 7

Guided learning hours: 53

Unit summary

This unit is aimed at those working in a wide range of settings. It provides the learner with the knowledge and skills required to support end-of-life care.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 4, 7, 8, 9 and 10 must be assessed in a real work environment in ways that do not intrude on the care of an individual at the end of life.

Additional information

Legislation and agreed ways of working will include policies and procedures, where these apply, and may relate to:

- equality, diversity and discrimination
- data protection, recording, reporting, confidentiality and sharing information
- the making of wills and living wills
- dealing with personal property of deceased people
- removal of medical equipment from deceased people
- visitors
- safeguarding of vulnerable adults.

Systems for advance care planning may include:

- Gold Standard Framework
- Preferred Priorities for Care.

An individual is the person requiring end-of-life care.

Key people may include:

- family members
- friends
- others who are important to the wellbeing of the individual.

Support organisations and specialist services may include:

- nursing and care homes
- specialist palliative care services
- domiciliary, respite and day services
- funeral directors.

Other members of the team may include:

- line manager
- religious representatives
- specialist nurse
- occupational or other therapist
- social worker
- key people.

Actions may include:

- attending to the body of the deceased
- reporting the death through agreed channels
- informing key people.

Agreed ways of working will include policies and procedures, where these exist.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 53: Implement the Positive

Behavioural Support

Model

Unit reference number: T/601/9738

Level: 4

Credit value: 8

Guided learning hours: 61

Unit summary

This unit is aimed at those working with individuals who have complex needs/continuing health care/severe challenging behaviour.

It provides the learner with knowledge, understanding and skills required to implement the Positive Behavioural Support model.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 must be assessed in a real work environment. Simulation will be accepted to assess assessment criteria 6.2, 8.5 and 9.5 if real work assessment is not possible.

Additional information

Positive Behavioural Support

An approach to supporting individuals who challenge that combines the technology of applied behaviour analysis with the values base of social role valorisation and the individualised focus of person-centred planning.

Applied Behaviour Analysis (ABA)

A scientific process of examining what causes and maintains behaviour, in order to bring about positive change.

Social Role Valorisation (SRV)

Promotes valued social roles for individuals who are socially disadvantaged, to help them get some of the good things in life.

Challenging behaviour may include behaviours that are:

- repetitive/obsessive
- withdrawn
- aggressive
- · self-injurious
- disruptive
- anti-social or illegal
- verbally abusive.

Factors that lead to behaviour being defined as challenging may include:

- culture
- competence and capacity of settings
- social norms
- · frequency, intensity and duration of the behaviour
- ability to communicate effectively.

Environmental risk factors will include features that are physical or social, such as:

- uncomfortable levels of stimulation (e.g. too busy, boring)
- institutional-style setting (e.g. block treatment, rigid routines)
- poor service organisation (e.g. inexperienced carers)
- inappropriate social environment (e.g. overly restrictive, limited choice)
- environmental pollutants (e.g. temperature, noise levels).

Triggers are factors that make challenging behaviours more likely to occur. They include:

- slow triggers, which are aspects of a person's environment or daily routines that do not necessarily happen immediately before the challenging behaviours, but still affect whether these behaviours are performed
- fast triggers, which are specific events that occur immediately prior to the behaviour. Their impact upon behaviour is rapid or immediate.

Reinforcement strengthens behaviour and is of two types – positive and negative. Positive reinforcement works because individuals gain access to things or events that they like or want while negative reinforcement works because individuals get rid of things that they don't like.

Time intensity model

The stages of increasing agitation to crisis point and back again. This helps to understand the emotional and physiological changes experienced during a severe episode of challenging behaviour.

Functional analysis

The process for identifying or analysing the function or purpose of someone's behaviour, using a range of structured measures.

Structured methods

Measures for monitoring and recording behaviour; may include

- ABC charts
- scatterplots
- · incident forms
- behaviour monitoring forms
- direct observation.

Primary prevention

Proactive strategies that involve changing aspects of a person's living, working and recreational environments so that the possibility of challenging behaviour occurring is reduced.

Secondary prevention

Strategies that apply when a person's challenging behaviour begins to escalate, in order to prevent a major incident.

Non-aversive reactive strategies are ways of responding safely and efficiently to challenging behaviours that have not been prevented. They can include physical interventions that do not cause pain and do minimise discomfort, and comply with the British Institute of Learning Disabilities (BILD) code of practice for the use of physical interventions.

Social validity refers to interventions that are ethical. That is, they address socially significant problems, have clear benefits for the individual, are acceptable to the individual and others, and use the least restrictive or intrusive approach.

Positive interaction concerns the performance of those supporting an individual. It consists of providing different levels of help, breaking activities into manageable steps; and positive reinforcement to promote participation.

Levels of help

Graduated levels of assistance, from simple verbal reminders providing the lowest level of support to actual physical guidance providing the highest level. Assistance should be given flexibly according to the individual's need for help, and should be focused on encouraging as much independence as possible.

Active Support

A person-centred model of how to interact with individuals combined with daily planning systems that promote participation and enhance quality of life.

Review should take place involving the individual as much as is possible.

Post-incident support may include:

- emotional support
- time away from the setting
- first aid
- quiet time
- space
- temporary redeployment
- · additional training
- personal reflection
- counselling
- opportunity to express feelings.

Positive Behaviour Support Plan

A document containing the key information that those who support individuals with challenging behaviour must have, in order to provide consistent support on a daily basis.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 54: Support Individuals to Access Education,

Training or Employment

Unit reference number: H/601/3546

Level: 4

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 31

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to provide the learner with the knowledge, understanding and skills required to support individuals to access education, training or employment.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 4, 5 and 6 must be assessed in real work environment.

Additional information

Wellbeing, e.g.

- emotional
- psychological
- physical.

Others could include:

- other professionals
- specialist employment agencies
- careers services
- job coach
- learning providers
- employers
- · carers/family members
- advocates
- colleagues.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 55: Promote Awareness of

Sensory Loss

Unit reference number: M/601/5249

Level: 5

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 19

Unit summary

This unit aims to provide workers with the knowledge and skills to devise, implement and review strategies to promote awareness of sensory loss in the context of an individual's life.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

Sensory loss could include:

- sight loss
- hearing loss
- deafblindness.

Others could include:

- other professionals
- · carers/family members
- advocates
- colleagues.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 60: Support Children's

Speech, Language and

Communication

Unit reference number: T/600/9789

Level: 3

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 30

Unit summary

The unit aims to provide a basis for understanding the importance of speech, language and communication for a child's overall development and explores the ways in which those working with children can support the development of speech, language and communication skills.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

Units need to be assessed in line with the Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learning outcomes 3 and 4 must be assessed in a real work environment.

Additional information

Communication is a complex, two-way process, reliant on a wide range of skills including listening, understanding and means of expression as well as interaction skills. Consideration of the complexity of this process and the many factors which can affect it underpins effective communication in practice.

Explain taken from a leaflet produced by the Communications Consortium 'Explaining Speech, Language and Communication Needs (SLCN)',

'Children and young people with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulties in communicating with others; it may be that they cannot express themselves effectively or they may have difficulties in understanding what is being said to them. Alternatively those who support them may not understand their way of communicating.

Children and young people may have difficulties across one or many of the different elements of speech, language and communication resulting in a communication breakdown. This may be minor and temporary, or it may be complex and long-term. Under this umbrella term, there will be many different labels used. The term 'needs' refers both to the needs of the individual and to what society can do to support their inclusion. It implicitly looks both at the individual and the environment in which children play, learn, communicate and live.'

Ways may include:

- the words and levels of language adults use with children(including the use of questions)
- their conversations/interactions with children
- information and activities used
- work with parents/carers.

Positive effects may include improvements in:

- speech, language and communication skills
- social interaction
- behaviour
- emotional development/self confidence.

Methods may include:

- adapting own language
- scaffolding the child's language
- giving children the time and opportunity to communicate
- facilitating communication between children with each other
- learning through play
- working with carers.

Key Factors may include:

- the physical environment
- · staff roles and responsibilities
- training needs and opportunities
- views of the child
- appropriate involvement of carers.

Unit 62: Independent Mental Capacity Advocacy

Unit reference number: F/502/3295

Level: 4

Credit value: 12

Guided learning hours: 35

Unit summary

The unit aims to support candidates to develop the practical skills and knowledge required to provide IMCA support within the Mental Capacity Act 2005.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed according to Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

Good Practice

It is envisaged the delivery of this unit will take place during taught sessions and on-the-job training. Tutors should consider which learning outcomes are delivered during taught elements and identify which competency-based outcomes must be demonstrated through work based evidence. Service users should be supported to co-deliver taught sessions and have appropriate opportunity to comment on a candidate's competency across a range of learning outcomes.

Key principles: including the five key principles and best interests framework

Provisions: new provisions within the Act including advance decisions to refuse treatment, Court of Protection, office of public guardian, lasting power of attorney and Court appointed deputies

Challenges: including working with people who cannot instruct, working with professionals, challenging decisions, time constraint of role

Differences: a range of differences between IMCA and general advocacy including differences in confidentiality boundaries, information sharing, seeking consent, taking instructions, accepting referrals and securing outcomes

Dilemmas and challenges: dilemmas faced when taking referrals, challenging decisions and accessing information

Evaluate: identify requirements of the assessment of capacity and how IMCAs can raise concerns about the person's capacity to make the referral decision.

Area: including serious medical treatment, change of accommodation, protection of vulnerable adults and accommodation review.

Range of methods: including verbal and non-verbal communication

Information: taken from inspection reports

Types of accommodation: including supported living, residential care, nursing homes, sheltered housing and receiving support in one's own home

Regulatory bodies: including CQC and CSSIW

Decision: the impact a range of decisions could have on the individual including end-of-life decisions and Do not Attempt Resuscitation orders.

Guidelines: ADASS guidance on the criteria for the use of IMCAs in safeguarding adult cases.

Unit 64: Providing Independent Advocacy Management

Unit reference number: L/502/3297

Level: 4

Credit value: 11

Guided learning hours: 35

Unit summary

The unit develops practical skills in how to manage an Independent Advocacy service or scheme.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional information

Good Practice

It is envisaged the delivery of this unit will take place during taught sessions and on-the-job training. Tutors should consider which learning outcomes are delivered during taught elements and identify which competency-based outcomes must be demonstrated through work-based evidence. Service users should be supported to co-deliver taught sessions and have appropriate opportunity to comment on a candidate's competency across a range of learning outcomes.

Supervision: a range of different approaches to supervision such as peer support meetings, 1:1 supervision, group supervision and quality assurance of case files

Policy and Procedures: range of policies including child/adult protection, whistle blowing, information sharing and confidentiality

Good practice: range of good practice checks including securing CRB checks and references

Involve service users: including at board level, through evaluation and feedback of the service, in training and recruitment, in developing policy or business plans, in promoting the service and creating marketing literature

Key features: including funding opportunities, aims of the service and threats

Present: to a range of people including trustees, management board and staff

Outcomes: including qualitative and quantitative types

Key advocacy principles: including independence, being client led and confidentiality within the SLA

Opportunities: including attending conferences, delivering training, visiting places where people receive services and a range of methods including producing leaflets, marketing products, and word of mouth

Unit 65: Providing Independent Advocacy to Adults

Unit reference number: R/502/3298

Level: 4

Credit value: 5

Guided learning hours: 35

Unit summary

The unit aims to provide learners with a detailed understanding and the practical skills needed to provide Independent Advocacy to adults in a range of settings including: care homes, hospital wards, community settings, secure settings, supported housing, prisons, day centres and police stations.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed according to Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Additional Information

Good Practice

It is envisaged the delivery of this unit will take place during taught sessions and on-the-job training. Tutors should consider which learning outcomes are delivered during taught elements and identify which competency-based outcomes must be demonstrated through work based evidence. Service users should be supported to co-deliver taught sessions and have appropriate opportunity to comment on a candidate's competency across a range of learning outcomes.

Settings: including prisons, day centres, hospital and locked wards and their impact on the adult receiving advocacy support

Dilemmas: including maintaining confidentiality, remaining person led and information sharing

Local or national standards: UKAN, Mind, Action 4 Advocacy: Advocacy Charter and Code of Practice

Communication methods: verbal and non-verbal methods of communication

Barriers: including financial, time, personal and organisational

Different people common myths and assumptions about people including those with learning and physical disabilities, sensory impairments, mental health needs and dementia

Sources of information: including reports, records, medical information and rights

Legislation: including the Human Rights Act 1998, NHS + Community Care Act 1990, Mental Health Acts 1983 and 2007, Disability and Discrimination Act 2005, Care Standards Act 2000

Meetings: including review, assessment, planning, safeguarding and complaints meetings

Range of people: including social workers, care managers, day centre staff, therapists, GP's, managers

Support: including attending a meeting, empowering an individual, representing an individual at the meeting and working with an individual before the meeting

Review and take further steps: review the outcome of the meeting and help the individual decide if any further action is required

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Service users should be supported to co-deliver taught sessions and have appropriate opportunity to comment on a candidate's competency across a range of learning outcomes.

- representing people who are being assessed for standard authorisation or being assessed for a potential unlawful deprivation of liberty(39A)
- standing in as a person's representative (39C) for people who are subject to an authorisation when no other representative is available
- supporting the person who is subject to an authorisation or his/her representative where the persons' representative is unpaid (39D).

Methods: including non-verbal and verbal

Information: including rights, the assessment process review of a standard authorisation and access to the Court of Protection

Report: including reports to assessors as part of the assessment process and IMCA reports provided to the supervisory body for 39A, 39C and 39D roles

Potential routes: formal routes to include complaints procedures, the review process for standard authorisation, access to the Court of Protection and alert of potential unlawful deprivation of liberty to a supervisory body

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 68: Recognise Indications of Substance Misuse and Refer Individuals to Specialists

Unit reference number: M/601/0648

Level: 3

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 24

Unit summary

This unit covers recognising signs which may indicate that someone may be misusing drugs (illegal, prescription or over the counter), alcohol, solvents or other substances. It also includes referring individuals with indications of substance misuse to service providers where this is the appropriate action.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed according to Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Learners must provide the assessor with evidence for all the learning outcomes and assessment criteria. The evidence must be provided in the following ways taking into account any of the special considerations below.

Special Considerations:

Simulation is not permitted for this unit.

The nature of this unit means that all of the evidence must come from real work activities.

The evidence must reflect, at all times, the policies and procedures of the workplace, as linked to current legislation and the values and principles for good practice in the sector.

Required sources of performance and knowledge evidence:

Observation and/or Expert Witness Testimony is the required assessment method to be used to evidence some part of this unit.

If the assessor is unable to observe the learner s/he will identify an expert witness in the workplace who will provide testimony of the learner's work-based performance. The assessor or expert witness will observe the learner in real work activities and this is likely to provide most of the evidence for the assessment criteria for this unit.

Other sources of performance and knowledge evidence:

The assessor will identify other sources of evidence to ensure that the most reliable and efficient mix of evidence-gathering methods from the list below. This will ensure that all learning outcomes and assessment criteria are met and that the consistency of the learner's performance can be established.

Work Products: These are non-confidential records made, or contributed to, by the learner e.g. promotional material relating to the effects of substance misuse and the services available in the local community.

Confidential Records: These may be used as evidence but must not be placed in the learner's portfolio. They must remain in their usual location and be referred to in the assessor records in the learner's portfolio e.g. case records, care plans and referral forms.

Questioning: Questions may be oral or written. In each case the question and the learner's answer will need to be recorded e.g. what are the risks that have to be managed in accessing services and facilities for the individual in question?

Professional discussion: this should be in the form of a structured review of the learner's practice with the outcomes captured by means of audiotape or a written summary. These are particularly useful to provide evidence that the learner knows and understands principles which support practice; policies, procedures and legislation, and that the learner can critically evaluate their application e.g. how to keep personal knowledge about substances and possible indications of substance misuse up-to-date.

Original Certificates: certificates of training and records of attendance must be authentic, current and valid. The assessor will also want to check the content of such training so that this can be matched to the standards and check that the learner has retained and can apply learning to practice e.g. Certificate/Progression Award in Drug and Alcohol Services.

These methods are most appropriately used to cover any outstanding areas of the qualification.

Occasionally, because an event happens rarely or may be difficult to observe, the learner may be able to use a learner/reflective account to provide some of the evidence for this unit e.g. the risk to the individual and to others which may result from substance misuse.

Witness Testimony

Colleagues, allied professionals and individuals with whom you work may be able to provide testimony of your performance. The assessor will help you to identify the appropriate use of witnesses.

Unit Guidance

The evidence for this unit is likely to come from:

- the observation of the candidate working with an individual
- · confidential case records and referrals, and
- the learner's explanation of their work with this and other individuals recorded either through professional discussion or a reflective account.

Assessment methodology

This unit is assessed in the workplace or in conditions resembling the workplace. Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 69: Identify and Act Upon

Immediate Risk of Danger to Substance

Misusers

Unit reference number: D/501/0585

Level: 3

Credit value: 4

Guided learning hours: 24

Unit summary

This unit is about identifying the immediate risk of danger to individuals who have used drugs, alcohol or other substances, acting upon the immediate risk of danger and supporting the individual once the risk of danger has passed.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed according to Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

The learner must provide the assessor with evidence for all the learning outcomes and assessment criteria. The evidence must be provided in the following ways, taking into account any of the special considerations below.

Special Considerations:

Simulation is permitted for this unit.

The nature of this unit means that most of the learner's evidence must come from real work activities. However simulation may be used as long as it meets the criteria for its use. This can be found in the assessment guidance for this qualification.

The evidence must reflect, at all times, the policies and procedures of the workplace, as linked to current legislation and the values and principles for good practice in the sector.

Required sources of performance and knowledge evidence:

Observation and/or Expert Witness Testimony is the required assessment method to be used to evidence some part of this unit.

If the assessor is unable to observe the learner s/he will identify an expert witness in the workplace who will provide testimony of the learner's work-based performance. The assessor or expert witness will observe the learner in real-work activities and this is likely to provide most of the evidence for the assessment criteria for this unit.

Other sources of performance and knowledge evidence:

The following assessment criteria may be difficult to evidence by observation and/or expert witness testimony because they refer to contingencies or infrequently occurring activities: Assessment criteria 2.5.

The assessor will identify other sources of evidence to ensure that the most reliable and efficient mix of evidence-gathering methods from the list below. This will ensure that all learning outcomes and assessment criteria are met and that the consistency of the learner's performance can be established.

Work Products: these are non-confidential records made, or contributed to, by the learner, e.g. promotional material relating to the risks of misuse.

Confidential Records: these may be used as evidence but must not be placed in the learner's portfolio. They must remain in their usual location and be referred to in the assessor records in the learner's portfolio, e.g. case records and incident reports.

Questioning: questions may be oral or written. In each case the question and the learner's answer will need to be recorded, e.g. in what circumstances should support/first-aid treatment be requested?

Professional discussion: this should be in the form of a structured review of the learner's practice with the outcomes captured by means of audiotape or a written summary. These are particularly useful to provide evidence that the learner knows and understands principles which support practice; policies, procedures and legislation, and that the learner can critically evaluate their application, e.g. explain the relevant policies and procedures for dealing with risk of danger to individuals and others.

Original Certificates: certificates of training and records of attendance must be authentic, current and valid. The assessor will also want to check the content of such training so that this can be matched to the standards and check that the learner has retained and can apply learning to practice, e.g. Certificate in First Aid.

Case Studies, projects, assignments and candidate/reflective accounts of your work:

These methods are most appropriately used to cover any outstanding areas of the learner's qualification.

Occasionally, because an event happens rarely or may be difficult to observe, the learner may be able to use a candidate/reflective account to provide some of the evidence for this unit, e.g. describe the signs of immediate risk of danger which may including overdose and individuals causing injury or harm to themselves or others.

Witness Testimony

Colleagues, allied professionals and individuals with whom the learner works may be able to provide testimony of their performance. The assessor will help the learner to identify the appropriate use of witnesses.

Unit Guidance

The evidence for this unit is likely to come from:

- The observation of the learner working with an individual
- · Confidential case records and incident reports, and
- The learner's explanation of their work with this and other individuals recorded either through professional discussion or a reflective account.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 70: Understand

Professional

Management and

Leadership in Health

and Social Care or Children and Young

People's Settings

Unit reference number: F/504/2218

Level: 5

Credit value: 6

Guided learning hours: 50

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to develop the learner's knowledge and understanding in management and leadership in health and social care or children and young people's settings.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles.

Assessment methodology

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Content

1 Understand theories of management and leadership and their application to health and social care or children and young people settings

Theories of management and leadership: transactional theory (Weber, Bass 1981), bureaucratic, giving orders and expecting them to be followed, leadership through authority; Transformational theory (Burns 1978, Bass 1985), process of motivation between leaders and followers, authority based on likeability and ability to articulate a vision, charismatic leadership, appealing to the higher values of staff, e.g. serving others, professionalism; Trait theory (Goldman), leaders derive their authority from experience, basic traits include self-awareness, social skills, self-control, motivation and empathy, combined to produce a leader/manager; Situational theory (Hersey, Blanchard 1999), spectrum of coercion from command to observation, dependent upon the situation; Cognitive Resource theory (Fiedler and Garcia 1987), intelligent leading by command in complex situations

Application of theories to relevant settings: Transactional theory in emergency situations when orders must be followed precisely, e.g. saving lives, preventing imminent accidents and incidents; Transformational theory when seeking to motivate staff, motivate individuals, inspire children and young people to achieve; Trait theory when appointing individuals to manage/lead in complex situations, e.g. following an adverse inspection or multiple complaints from service users, when managing individuals with complex needs; Situational theory when dealing with challenging behavior or individuals with complex needs; Cognitive Resource theory used in complex situations, e.g. group disagreements, managing serious cases reviews

Models: Action-centred leadership model (Adair) — needs of the task, needs of the team undertaking the task, needs of the individuals within the team; Management Roles Model (Mitzberg), based on categories -Interpersonal, Informational, Decisional

Application of models to relevant settings: Action-Centered leadership (Adair), reviewing work methods, shift patterns, staff timetables; Management Roles Model (Mitzberg), reviewing own leadership and management skills

Influences of organisational values and cultural contexts on how theories and models of management and leadership are applied: importance of established norms and rituals; personality mix of staff, profile of service users; previous experience of leadership within a setting; other affecting factors, e.g. bereavement within the setting, restructuring prior to the appointment of leaders, cultures of blame, bullying, existence of scapegoats, perception of the role of management within a setting, existing work-related values within a setting such as working to complete tasks, fill the day, commitment to the organisation, application of a duty of care to the work role (s); focus of staff teams, e.g. task oriented, relationship oriented

2 Understand the relationship between professional management and leadership

Interdependencies between leadership and management: definition of leadership(setting a direction or vision for a group to follow, defining the values of an organisation); definition of management (directing or controlling people and resources according to principles or values which have already been set)

Reasons for interdependence between professional management and leadership: e.g. liaison with staff, promotion of harmony and common goals within the setting, recognition of skills and expertise of others, promotion of staff relations

Factors which affect relationships between management and leadership: e.g. effectiveness of communication networks, individual perception of roles and responsibilities

Conflicts between leadership and management: Differing models of leadership (Blake and Mouton, 1978); Concern for tasks (emphasising the achievement of defined objectives and seeking ways to organise people and resources in order to achieve objectives); Concern for people (seeking to develop the team and showing concern for individuals); Directive leadership (demanding obedience from the team, making decisions and giving directions to be followed); Participative leadership (sharing leadership with the team and inviting involvement in decision making)

Conflicts from application of differing models: Concern for tasks, e.g. conflict due to perceived disregard for relationships, individual personality clashes, conflicts between achieving objectives and meeting the holistic needs of service users; Concern for people, e.g. conflicts between supporting individuals and completion of tasks, meeting targets and meeting needs; Directive leadership, e.g. conflicts due to perceived devaluation/ disempowerment of team members, need for flexibility versus restriction of creative decision making and work methods; Participative leadership, e.g. conflict due to perceived pressure on team members to participate, lack of direction from named leader, lack of agreement on decisions

Addressing conflicts between management and leadership models: constructive ways to address conflict, e.g. focusing on issues and possible solutions, avoiding a 'blame culture', addressing conflict, honest dialogue, recognition of variations in communication styles, respecting different views, agreeing common goals; use of reflection to consider own contributions to conflict

3 Understand the skills of professional management and leadership in health and social care or children and young people's settings

Skills required for effective management: human relations skills, e.g. ability to build a rapport, establishing team goals, eliciting contributions from others, engendering enthusiasm for plans, concepts and ideas, demonstrating interest in team members, empathy, willingness to consider alternative views; communication skills, e.g. clear and appropriate use of verbal and non-verbal communication, active listening, positive use of reflection and paraphrasing to check understanding, recognition of verbal and non-verbal cues when interacting with team and individuals; recognition of potential barriers to communication, e.g. exiting conflict, personality clashes, perceived disempowerment of individuals/teams; time management; resource management; planning setting goals and objectives, use of SMART – Specific, Achievable, Realistic, Timed targets; problem solving; managing personal stress; delegation skills; models of management, e.g. Value Chain Analysis, (Porter 1985), 5 Configurations, (Mintzberg 1979), System Dynamics (Forester 1961); self-awareness; ability to reflect on own performance

Skills required for effective leadership: human relations skills, e.g. setting goals and articulating a vision, inspiring others, persuading others to follow, ability to build a rapport and relationships, demonstrating interest in team members, empathy; ability to motivate teams and individuals including middle and senior management; establishing team goals and organisational goals, e.g. inviting contributions from others, engendering enthusiasm for plans, concepts and ideas, willingness to consider alternative views; communication skills, e.g. clear and appropriate use of verbal and non-verbal communication, active listening, positive use of reflection and paraphrasing to check understanding, recognition of verbal and non-verbal cues when interacting with team and individuals; recognition of potential barriers to communication, e.g. exiting conflict, personality clashes, perceived disempowerment of individuals/teams; time management; resource management; management of staff; planning setting goals and objectives, use of SMART -Specific, Achievable, Realistic, Timed targets; managing change; managing conflict; problem solving; managing personal stress; delegation skills; awareness of subcultures within organisations; creative thinking skills; self-awareness; ability to reflect on own performance

Reasons for having both sets of skills: interdependence of roles; enabling delegation of roles and positions; promotion of a seamless approach to leading teams; mutual support of leaders and managers; similarities in both roles

Influences of leadership skills on organisational values: promotion of ethics; adherence to legislation, policies and procedures; promotion of the importance of individuals; recognition of personhood; inspiring pride in the organisation; commitment to organisational goals in terms of quality of care and support for individuals

Reasons for adapting leadership skills to situations: matching solutions with problems; meeting the needs of individual team members and service users; demonstrating flexibility to teams and service users

4 Understand the impact of policy drivers on professional management and leadership in health and social care or children and young people's services

Factors that drive formulation and implementation of policy: resource availability including appropriately qualified staff; changes in requirements for sector qualifications; financial constraints; existing legislation; changes in legislation and government policy due to action by pressure groups, e.g. Age UK, Barnados, NSPCC; media coverage of relevant and high profile cases; ethical considerations, e.g. rights of individuals to autonomy, right to freedom from maltreatment and abuse, right to have culture and religion taken into consideration, right to be communicated with in own language

Emerging policy themes and trends which impact leadership and management: integration of services; partnership working across statutory, private and voluntary sectors; development of qualifications which combine competencies and knowledge from more than one relevant sector, e.g. mental health nursing and social work; updating of qualifications for the Children and Young People's workforce, recognition of the need to ensure safeguarding children and young people across UK borders ,e.g. due to trafficking, under-age asylum seeking; developing a co-ordinated response to emerging patterns of abuse across cultures and ethnic groups; importance of keeping up to date with changes in policies

Impact on professional management and leadership due to changes in policy and legislation resulting from high profile cases (and additionally, any subsequent changes in policy and legislation): impact of high profile cases, e.g. The Cleveland Case (which resulted in the introduction of the Children Act 1989), e.g. the 'Victoria Climbie' and 'Baby P' cases (which resulted in changes to safeguarding policy, including the introduction of Local Safeguarding Children Boards, under the Children Act 2004, in order to provide a more cohesive service for looked after children, and the Local Safeguarding Children Boards Regulations 2006 which regulate the conduct of the Boards and have implications for leaders and managers of relevant organisations), e.g. the Stephen Lawrence enquiry (which prompted legislation requiring public institutions to demonstrate how they are promoting an anti-discriminatory approach within the organisation), e.g. the Soham murders case and Bichard inquiry (which led to the introduction of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006, introducing a barring and vetting system enabling organisations to vet prospective employees with regard to allowing access to children and vulnerable adults) – and subsequent changes to the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006, e.g. media exposure of abuse at Winterbourne View Hospital and similar institutions (which lead to criticisms of the Care Quality Commission's actions and resulted in more rigorous inspections of health and social care facilities and proposals by the Law Commission for a complete overhaul of adult care, 2011).

Information for tutors

Delivery

Tutors should include as many practical activities as possible in the delivery of this unit. This will help learners relate the theoretical concepts and models in the unit content to practical work situations. A wide range of techniques including presentations, seminars, and guest speakers could support learning. Additional learning resources could include journals, videos, DVDs, case studies, learner presentation and group work.

Introduction

Tutors may wish to introduce the unit by asking learners to produce a list of leaders with whom they have worked. These might include head teachers, course tutors and senior colleagues. Learners could then be asked to work in groups to define common themes and characteristics which lead to successful leadership and management of teams. It is suggested that a plenary is used to draw the discussion together and produce a conclusion for the session.

Learning outcome 1

Tutor-led input in the form of lectures and seminars will be required for this learning outcome, particularly with regard to the introduction of relevant theories and management models. However, learners could also be supported to conduct research on the different leadership and management styles, ensuring that they include a focus on current theories and models. Learners could present the results of their findings to the group in the form of seminars which include the invitation of questions from peers.

Group work using case studies would enable learners to analyse the different management and leadership styles. The use of online tools such as the Myers-Briggs Inventory and the Belbin Team Roles Analysis would support the development of learner self-awareness. Visits from speakers who are involved in the leadership and management of relevant organisations would enhance learner understanding of the subject.

Learners could participate in group discussions on the organisational values and cultural contexts within their own organisations. The group discussions are likely to lead to consideration of the factors which have an influence on organisational values and culture. Learner understanding of these concepts could be enhanced by visits from guest speakers who are leaders and managers within their own organisations.

Learning outcome 2

Independent research, using relevant online journals and other sources of information, could provide learners with an introduction to this learning outcome. This information could be used as a prompt for plenary and group discussion, enabling learners to gain a fuller understanding of their research. Tutors are advised to make links with relevant organisations and current theories and models during the discussions.

Role play and observation of DVD/video clips will enable learners to investigate the positive and negative aspects of leadership styles, particularly those aspects which may lead to conflict. Group discussion could follow, focussing particularly on resolution and management of conflict.

Learning outcome 3

For this learning outcome, learners could participate in thought showers/buzz groups to identify the different skills required for both leadership and management. Role play and other simulation-based activities could enable learners to investigate the reasons for having both sets of skills. Examples from learners' own place of employment and consideration of current best practice would support understanding. Learners will also require taught input in the form of lectures, relevant DVDs and recordings of suitable television programmes.

Learning outcome 4

For this learning outcome, it is suggested that learners draw from their own experience, identifying those factors which impact professional management and leadership within their own organisations. Independent research, using online journals and professional magazines, would be useful sources of information for learners. Input from visiting speakers would enhance learner experience. Where legislation or policy is referred to, tutors should ensure that reference is made to current legislation and policy. Learners should also be encouraged to keep up to date with changes in legislation and policy in their own practice and research.

Learning outcome 1

The evidence for this learning outcome could be in the form of a report. Alternatively, learners could present their evidence as a seminar. Although peer assessment should not be included in the grading of the seminar, it could provide learners with an aid to reflection following the presentation of their evidence.

Assessment criterion 1.1

In achieving 1.1, learners must include evidence of independent research; they should not merely reproduce notes from class sessions. Learners should include reference to examples of all of the types of theory and management models stated in the unit content.

Assessment criterion 1.2

The learner's analysis should be applied to at least three different situations within one work setting. These situations could be either based on case studies or drawn from the learner's own work place.

Assessment criterion 1.3

The learner's analysis should include reference to at least six influencing factors; three factors should be key factors and three should be 'other' affecting factors as indicated in the content section for learning outcome 1. All six influencing factors should show clear relevance to health and social care settings or children and young people's settings.

Learning outcome 2

The evidence for this learning outcome could be in the form of a report which is based on a case study or set of case studies. This would demonstrate learner ability to apply knowledge to health and social care or to children and young people's settings.

Assessment criterion 2.1

Learners should provide a justification for their evaluation of interdependencies, referring to evidence taken from reliable sources which are referenced.

Assessment criterion 2.2

The learner's analysis should include the definitions of leadership and management and also references to all of the different types of leadership included in the unit content.

Assessment criterion 2.3

The learner's description should include reference to at least three examples of the types of relevant conflict and how these could be addressed.

Learning outcome 3

This evidence for this learning outcome could be in the form of a presentation or seminar delivered by the learner. The presentation or seminar is likely to be based on a combination of learner experience, and case studies taken either from reliable sources, or produced by the learner. The learner will not be assessed on the quality of the case studies but the case studies must show clear relevance.

Assessment criterion 3.1

In their analysis, the learner should include at least three skills for the role of leader and three skills for the role of manager.

Assessment criterion 3.2

The learner's explanation should include at least three reasons why both management and leadership skills are required in health and social care settings or in children and young people's settings.

Assessment criterion 3.3

Learner evidence should include reference to all of the relevant unit content, showing detailed understanding of the relationship between leadership skills and organisational values within a health and social care context or a children and young people's context.

Assessment criterion 3.4

The learner's explanation of the adaptation of leadership styles should include all of the reasons (as included in the unit content) for having both leadership and management skills. The learner's explanation should make reference to either a health and social care context or a children and young people's context.

Learning outcome 4

The evidence for this learning outcome could be in the form of an information pack, to be used as part of the induction process for new leaders and managers within an appropriate organisation.

Assessment criterion 4.1

Learners should identify a range of factors that influence policy drivers and the corresponding impact on leadership and management within relevant health and social care and children and young people's settings.

Assessment criterion 4.2

Learners should refer to at least two examples of integrated services and at least two examples of relevant partnerships, demonstrating detailed understanding of the impact of emerging themes and trends on leadership and management in specific organisations. Learners should refer to both health and social care settings and children and young people's settings when presenting the evidence for assessment criterion 4.2.

Unit 71: Understand Advance Care Planning

Unit reference number: A/503/8135

Level: 3

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 25

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge and understanding of advance care planning.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles. Please see Annexe A.

Assessment methodology

For AC2.3, an individual is the person receiving support or care in the work setting.

For AC3.3, others may include:

- care or support staff
- colleagues
- managers
- non direct care or support staff
- carers
- families
- visitors
- volunteers
- health professionals
- other organisations
- social workers
- occupational therapists
- GPs

- speech and language therapists Pearson Edexcel Level 3 Certificate in Working in End of Life Care –
- physiotherapists
- pharmacists
- nurses
- Macmillan Nurses
- independent mental capacity advocates
- clinical nurse specialists.

Advance Care planning is a process of discussion between an individual and people who provide care. It specifically allows the individual to make advance decisions about their future care and may include preferred place of death, funeral arrangements, specific requests for their care as they are dying and following death. It is not the same thing as the more general care planning process

Unit 72: Understand the factors affecting older people

Unit reference number: D/504/2243

Level: 3

Credit value: 2

Guided learning hours: 17

Unit summary

The aim of this unit is to give learners an understanding of the factors that affect older people.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with the Skills for Care Assessment Principles.

Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Assessment methodology

This unit is assessed in the workplace or in conditions resembling the workplace. Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Unit 74: Understand how to support individuals during the last days of life

Unit reference number: J/503/8137

Level: 3

Credit value: 3

Guided learning hours: 28

Unit summary

The aim of this unit is to assess the learner's knowledge and understanding of how to support individuals during their last days of life, using the relevant care pathways to support individuals and others.

Unit Introduction

The unit introduces learners to the common features of support in the last days of life. They will examine the signs common to approaching death, define the circumstance when life-prolonging treatment can be stopped or withheld, and investigate the signs that death has occurred. Learners will also consider the importance of advance care planning.

The unit will enable leaners to investigate the impact of the last days of life on individuals and others, including psychological effects, the impact on relationships and the changing needs of individuals who are in the last days of life.

Learners will examine ways of supporting individuals and others, how to use the relevant care pathways, and methods of caring for significant other following the death of an individual. Learners will consider how to manage their own feelings in relation to an individual's dying or death.

Assessment guidance

For AC2.1, individuals are the people receiving support or care in the work setting.

Others may include:

- · Care or support staff
- Colleagues
- Managers
- Non direct care or support staff

- Carers
- Families
- Visitors
- Volunteers
- Health professionals
- Other organisations
- Social workers
- Occupational therapists
- GPs
- Speech and language therapists
- Physiotherapists
- Pharmacists
- Nurses
- Macmillan Nurses
- Independent mental capacity advocates
- Clinical nurse specialists

For AC3.4, agreed ways of working include policies and procedures where these exist.

Essential Resources

There are no special resources for this unit.

Delivery

Learning outcome 1: Understand common features of support during the last days of life

Input from a guest speaker, for example a palliative care nurse/specialist or a hospice manager will give learners valuable insights into the topic. Opportunities for class discussion will enable learners to express opinions and feelings in a safe environment. Taught input on advance care planning and signs of death will be appropriate.

Learning outcome 2: Understand the impact of the last days of life on the individual and others

Short lectures on relevant topics, and group work using case studies taken from the internet or relevant professional magazines, will enable learners to place information in context.

Learning outcome 3: Know how to support individuals and others during the last days of life

Input from a care manager on working within agreed procedures will enhance learning. Information gained from local NHS trust websites will support taught input, and provide useful resources for learner assessment.

Learning outcome 4: Understand the actions to be taken following an individual's death

Taught input on relevant guidelines, regulations and procedures will support learning. Learners may wish to find supplementary information from appropriate websites, such as Macmillan Cancer Support.

Learning outcome 5: Know how to manage own feeling in relation to an individual's dying or death

Input from a guest speaker, for example a grief and bereavement counsellor, would enable learners to place taught information in a relevant context. Opportunities to discuss their own feelings in a safe environment will support learner understanding. It is essential that learners understand the reasons for discussing their own feelings at the death of an individual service user, and that the grieving process is a natural human attribute, rather than evidence of weakness.

Unit assessment

Learners must meet all assessment criteria to pass the unit.

Evidence for assessment may be presented in a variety of ways for this unit, for example the whole assessment could be presented in an information pack, containing leaflets, booklets and information sheets. Alternatively the following methods are suggested.

Learning outcome 1 could be delivered as a PowerPoint presentation, followed by a discussion with peers

For learning outcome 2, a magazine article for a care magazine would be a suitable method of presentation. For learning outcome 3, learners could produce an information pack designed for use as part of the induction materials for new staff.

Learning outcomes 4 and 5 could be presented either as newspaper articles for a series on end of life care, or booklets given to new staff.

Unit 75: Support people who are providing homes to individuals

Unit reference number: R/504/2224

Level: 4

Credit value: 6

Guided learning hours: 40

Unit summary

The purpose of this unit is to enable learners to develop the knowledge, understanding and skills to support people who are providing support to individuals.

Unit assessment requirements/evidence requirements

This unit must be assessed in accordance with the Skills for Care Assessment Principles.

Carer(s): in the context of this unit carers are 'adult placement or shared lives' carers who provide accommodation and/or support in their home. This includes the mutual sharing of everyday life experience between the approved carer and the individual who chooses to use this type of service.

Individuals refers to people accessing care or support

Others may include:

- Other professionals
- Families, friends, advocates or others who are important to individuals

Assessment methodology

This unit is assessed in the workplace or in conditions resembling the workplace. Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Resources may include:

- Family or neighbours
- Community resources
- Voluntary organisations
- · Statutory support in terms of additional domiciliary care
- Respite for carers to have time for themselves

Needs and Wishes may include:

- Additional support to alleviate the physical input by the carer
- Time to have a holiday
- Go to the hairdressers
- Time with Peers to do fun thins

Plan of action may include:

- Care plans
- Person-centred plans

It may not require formal statutory responses, but a plan whereby a carer decides to designate time for themselves, identifies a recreational activity.

Assessment methodology

This unit is assessed in the workplace or in conditions resembling the workplace. Learners can enter the types of evidence they are presenting for assessment and the submission date against each assessment criterion. Alternatively, centre documentation should be used to record this information.

Annexe A: Skills for Care and Development's Assessment Principles

1. Introduction

- 1.1 Skills for Care and Development (SfC&D) is the UK sector skills council (SSC) for social care, children, early years and young people. Its structure for realising the SSC remit is via an alliance of six organisations: Care Council for Wales, Children's Workforce Development Council, General Social Care Council, Northern Ireland Social Care Council, Scottish Social Services Council and Skills for Care.
- 1.2 This document sets out those principles and approaches to QCF unit/qualification assessment not already described in the Regulatory Arrangements for the Qualifications and Credit Framework. The information is intended to support the quality-assurance processes of Awarding Organisations that offer qualifications in the sector, and should be read alongside these. It should also be read alongside individual unit assessment requirements. Additional information/guidance regarding individual unit assessment can be obtained from Awarding Organisations, or from Skills for Care and Development. This must be used in order to provide the proper context for learning and assessment.
- 1.3 These principles will ensure a consistent approach to those elements of assessment which require further interpretation and definition, and support sector confidence in the new arrangements.
- 1.4 Where Skills for Care and Development qualifications are joint with Skills for Health, Skills for Health will also use these assessment principles.

2. Assessment Principles

- 2.1 Assessment decisions for competence-based learning outcomes (e.g. those beginning with 'to be able to') must be made in a real-work environment by an occupationally competent assessor. Any knowledge evidence integral to these learning outcomes may be generated outside of the work environment but the final assessment decision must be within the real-work environment.
- 2.2 Assessment decisions for competence-based learning outcomes must be made by an assessor qualified to make assessment decisions.
- 2.3 Competence-based assessment must include direct observation as the main source of evidence.
- 2.4 Simulation may be utilised as an assessment method only for competencebased learning outcomes where this is specified in the assessment requirements of the unit.
- 2.5 Expert witnesses can be used for direct observation where they have occupational expertise for specialist areas or the observation is of a particularly sensitive nature. The use of expert witnesses should be determined and agreed by the assessor.
- 2.6 Assessment of knowledge-based learning outcomes (e.g. those beginning with 'know' or 'understand') may take place in or outside of a real-work environment.

- 2.7 Assessment decisions for knowledge-based learning outcomes must be made by an occupationally knowledgeable assessor.
- 2.8 Assessment decisions for knowledge-based learning outcomes must be made by an assessor qualified to make assessment decisions. Where assessment is electronic or undertaken according to a set grid, the assessment decisions are made by the person who has set the answers.

3. Internal Quality Assurance

3.1 Internal quality assurance is key to ensuring that the assessment of evidence for units is of a consistent and appropriate quality. Those carrying out internal quality assurance must be occupationally knowledgeable in the area they are assuring and be qualified to make quality-assurance decisions.

4. Definitions

4.1 Occupationally competent:

This means that each assessor must be capable of carrying out the full requirements within the competency units they are assessing. Being occupationally competent means they are also occupationally knowledgeable. This occupational competence should be maintained annually through clearly demonstrable continuing learning and professional development.

4.2 Occupationally knowledgeable:

This means that each assessor should possess relevant knowledge and understanding, and be able to assess this in units designed to test specific knowledge and understanding, or in units where knowledge and understanding are components of competency. This occupational knowledge should be maintained annually through clearly demonstrable continuing learning and professional development.

4.3 Qualified to make assessment decisions:

This means that each assessor must hold a qualification suitable to support the making of appropriate and consistent assessment decisions. Awarding Organisations will determine what will qualify those making assessment decisions according to the unit of competence under assessment. In any case of significant uncertainty, the SSCs will be consulted.

4.4 Qualified to make quality assurance decisions:

Awarding Organisations will determine what will qualify those undertaking internal quality assurance to make decisions about that quality assurance.

4.5 Expert witness:

An expert witness must:

- have a working knowledge of the QCF units on which their expertise is based
- be occupationally competent in their area of expertise
- have EITHER any qualification in assessment of workplace performance OR a professional work role which involves evaluating the everyday practice of staff.

Annexe B: Qualifications for Assessors

Skills for Care and Development (SfCD) has specified that each Assessor must hold a qualification suitable to support the making of appropriate and consistent assessment decisions. In conjunction with other awarding organisations, SfCD has prepared an indicative list of qualifications to include any of the following:

- D32 Assess Candidate Performance and D33 Assess Candidate Using Differing Sources of Evidence
- A1 Assess Candidate Performance Using a Range of Methods and A2 Assessing Candidates' Performance through Observation
- QCF Level 3 Award in Assessing Competence in the Work Environment (for competence/skills learning outcomes only)
- QCF Level 3 Award in Assessing Vocationally Related Achievement (for knowledge learning outcomes only)
- QCF Level 3 Certificate in Assessing Vocational Achievement
- Qualified Teacher Status
- Certificate in Education in Post Compulsory Education (PCE)
- Social Work Post Qualifying Award in Practice Teaching
- Certificate in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector (CTLLS)
- Diploma in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning sector (DTLLS)
