"We chose to run the Jamie Oliver Home Cooking Skills Program offered by Edexcel with our VCAL students. These students are a class of 17-18 year olds undertaking vocational training in a range of industry areas such as Building and Construction, Plumbing, Horticulture, Electrical, Sport and Recreation, Community Services and Hair and Beauty. They are students who have not studied cooking before, nor likely to in the future. Our aim is to compliment their program with this important life skill whilst encouraging them to be involved in community based projects by passing their developing cooking skills and knowledge on to others. Our students have really enjoyed the program this year and I look forward to offering it again next year."

My "special needs" students were able to follow the recipes because of the beautiful step by step photographs.

Jamie Oliver is a great role model and instantly recognizable.

Loved the minimal worksheets and written work so we could concentrate on cooking."
