Dear colleague

Important announcement: Update to Service

As part of the ongoing integration of EDI and Pearson WBL, we are pleased to announce that a new service will be introduced in June 2013 for the printing and despatch of certificates to Pearson EDI centres.

Certificates will be printed and despatched twice a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Centres can still expect to receive any results slips and/or certificates within 3-5 working days of a successful claim.

All EDI certificates will be despatched via first class recorded delivery to fall in line with the current Pearson Work Based Learning service. This will enable all packages to be easily identified and tracked and will require a signature from a member of staff at the centre. The service we provide for re-prints and replacement certificates remains unchanged. Please forward any requests you have, along with the original certificates to wblcustomerservices@pearson.com. This will be processed within 48 hours of receipt.
